Maple Notes

Young People Return Visit
Sunday evening, April 22, the Young People's Group of Maple United Church were guests of the Bedford Park Triple V and C Club at a supper served in their church.

The special speaker was a previous leader of the Triple V and C Club, Mr. E. Hopkins. His topic "Signs of Life That We Take for Granted," was fashioned to be instructive and meaningful to just such a group of young people.

These exchange meetings between the two groups is a splendid way of meeting other church young people and sharing in religious instruction and social affairs.

Red Cross Clinic
Had a call from the Woodbridge Red Cross Society — of which Maple District is a part of — stating there would be a blood donor's clinic on May 14 at the Woodbridge Arena, at 3 to 5:30 p.m. and 7 to 8:30 p.m.

Here's where Maple can get in and do their share for no one knows when and where these services may be required in their own family or community.

For any who do not know where the Woodbridge Arena is — you go out to No. 7 Highway and travel West. The arena is just at the bottom of the hill on No. 7 before you turn into the town — and just before the overhead railway bridge.

Suppose you organize a car load for your street and while doing a good turn for yourself and others — it's a lovely drive.

Let it Ring
Is there anything more frustrating than being occupied in some way when the phone starts to ring and by the time you can conveniently make it to the phone — it stops on the 4th or 5th ring?

How about the "Bell's" suggestion and let it ring at least 10 times before hanging up.

— you can't miss!
Lions' Manure Sale
If you live in the north end of Maple — May 14 is your day, the south end was last week!

Sponsored by the boys' and girls' committee of Maple Lions' club, with proceeds for boys' and girls' work in this community, the 3rd annual manure sale will insure a better garden for you, and a brighter summer for the junior types.

The Maple Lions' Club sponsors many activities during the year through this committee and your youngsters stand to gain if you support their projects.

Scout Auxiliary Euchre
The recent euchre held in Maple Community Hall under the auspices of the 1st Maple Ladies Auxiliary and the men's group committee was a successful venture. All proceeds will be used for the Boy Scout building fund. About thirty tables were filled with euchre enthusiasts and a number of lucky players received lovely prizes all donated by local merchants and business men. The convenors appreciate the support they received from the whole community. An amount of $173.97 has been added to the men's group committee building fund.

Home and School Association
A well attended meeting of the George Bailey Home and School Association on May 4, listened to a most interesting panel discussion and later entered into a lively discussion of their views on the subject, "Should Religion be Taught in our Schools?"

The members of the panel, a parent, Mrs. Graham Walter and a minister, Dr. Minton Johnston were 'pro' while the 'con' was upheld by teacher, Mr. Glen Mullis and a parent, Mr. Ray Thompson.

The past presidents pin was presented to Mrs. Betty Fraser by president Bert Stevenson.

The executive for 1962-63 was installed; president: Bert Stevenson; vice-presidents: Larry Stevenson and Egor Mashin; program: Ita Thompson; Laura Boyd and Marg Ellis; membership: Sheila Edmundson; social: Sheila Ansell, Eleanor Sara; publicity: Shirley Tripp; secretary: Joyce Boyd; treasurer: Val Irvine.

The noticeable interest shown in the home and school by those attending the May meeting, may warrant a meeting to be called for in June, rather than closing for the summer months now. You will be notified if such should be the case.

Christian Family Sunday
On May 13 at 10:15 a.m. the parents of the Sunday school members of Maple United Church, are invited to come with their children to the Service of Worship on Christian Family Sunday, in the Sunday School Auditorium.

Boys' Birthdays — What Else!
Joe Scott celebrated a birthday on May 4 and Richard Johnson and Bruce Prentice share May 6th as their special date for a birthday.

It Just Couldn't Happen!
Well, I guess I got my communcance! So after giving my gentle dig about no news in Maple Ladies' Bowling League all season (they evidently have been going strong all winter) — Det Palmer gave me the details of their banquet AND guess what? I put it in such a good place — it will take me until next week to find it!

So — watch for the new executive to be listed for 1962-63 and the team and individual winners come next "Maple Notes".

My apologies, De!

Impressive Ceremony
Each spring the executive of the Princess Margaret Hospital and Lodge Volunteer Auxiliary meet with the members to honour the volunteers who have served in various capacities throughout the year.

The Caduceus, the emblem of the Canadian Cancer Society, is made available and presented to each year's new volunteers. The wearing of the pin symbolizes their dedicated service in the field of Cancer control and is worn with pride.

The ceremony of the lighting of the candles representing the creed of the volunteer, is most impressive. The candle of Hope, Faith, of Courage, of Awareness, of Love and of Challenge, when lit by the yellow smocked volunteers, inspires each one in attendance to continue to carry out their purpose of administering to the patients of Princess Margaret Hospital, to the best of their ability.

The film "Time and Two Women" was shown with Dr. Crawford Shier in attendance. The hospitality committee as usual made the flower decorations, sandwiches and cakes with tea and coffee, a delight to behold and partake of.

Following such an afternoon — as a part of this group, it

Maple & District Organize New Hospital Auxiliary

Twenty-eight ladies from a newly representative group organized up as founding members, bringing the total up to forty-two active members, when a public meeting was called to form a branch auxiliary to the York Central Hospital Volunteer Auxiliary on May 2nd in the education rooms of Maple United Church. They also learned a new word as "AUXILIARIES" was introduced for the first time to many, by the guest speaker who uses it as a combination of "hospital volunteer auxiliaries."

Explains Purpose
As area representative Mrs. Jim James presided and explained the meaning of the meeting — the forming of the Maple and District Branch of the York Central Hospital Volunteer Auxiliary. Active members were to be recruited from Maple, Concord, Teston, Edgeley, Vellore and Hope and upon registering at the close of the meeting, they would become founding members.

Guest Speaker
Mrs. Geo. Robson introduced the guest speaker, Mrs. J. C. MacMicking from Markham, Director of Regents for the Women's Hospital Auxiliaries Association of Ontario.

Mrs. MacMicking began her auxiliary career in 1943 at the St. Catharines General Hospital assisting in many offices until 1959 when, as vice president, she moved from that city.

With her keen interest in auxiliary work, she joined the Toronto Western Hospital Auxiliary until our new York Central Hospital claimed her.

Having had such a wealth of personnel experience in this field — she also had served as director of public relations for two years and wrote the news letter sent out to all branches — it was only natural Mrs. MacMicking should be asked to help launch our new auxiliary. An outline of the first auxiliaries formed down to our present day was indeed interesting as Mrs. MacMicking suggested the many ways "Auxiliaries" could assist the regular staff of a hospital, as well as the patients.

Mrs. John Large thanked Mrs. MacMicking.

Nominating Report
Mrs. Len Shore, as chairman of the nominating committee presented the provisional executive, — to hold office from this date until the Annual Meeting which will be held early in 1963, as follows:

Chairman: Mrs. Jim James; Co-Chairman: Mrs. Jack Clark; Treasurer: Mrs. Joe McBratney; Corresponding Secretary: Mrs. Joseph Goodier; Recording Secretary: Mrs. Bob Hafland; Membership Chairman: Mrs. Norman Rotz; Co-chairman: Mrs. Geo. Robson; Mrs. Arthur Dymond; Public Relations: Mrs. John Large; Publicity: Mrs. Len Shore.

Coffee and cakes were served as the ladies viewed the architects drawings of the first and second stages of the York Central Hospital. Mrs. MacMicking had a display of pictures and clippings, depicting the work being done by several voluntary hospital auxiliaries in Ontario.

It was most gratifying to have such a large and representative number of ladies present and to have them display such an interest in joining this branch to serve in innumerable ways, sewing, visiting, clerical, gift shop etc. and etc.

Members Still Needed
If however YOU were unable to attend this public meeting, please make it a point to call the membership chairman Diane Rotz, AL. 7-1104 on Jackson Street or her co-chairman Marge Robson on Shur Gain Farm AL. 7-2600. Reita Dymond at Vellore, AL. 7-2473 and get your name on the list. It's the thing that's being done these days by all community and family minded folk throughout Maple and District.

It is felt that the executive represents the district well since its members are from Bathurst, Dufferin, Richmond Streets, the two sub divisions in Maple, Shur Gain Farm and Vellore. How about getting YOUR district — auxiliary conscious? so that by annual meeting time, perhaps a member of your group will be prepared to take an executive office.

In the meantime stand by and forward your suggestions so that when that first sod is turned it'll be able to swing into action.

At such occasions it is always pleasant to thank those who have given much of their time and

Friday, May 11 District Talent To Aid K.V.W. Variety Night

(By Toby Shore)

Friday night, May 11 is the night when some of our talented amateurs will do their part in rounding out an evening of entertainment to raise funds for the K.V.W. Girls Softball League on which Maple is represented.

Your share is to support these young folk by attending Variety Night at the King City Composite School Auditorium at 8:00 p.m.

Dixieland Band
Some of our local talent who will be there in the Dixieland Band — John Cringan on the clarinet and Ricky Licastro on piano along with others from Richmond Hill. These boys have been featured in the Richmond Hill High School Music Night and also have played at the McCordy Public School. Most fortunate is this band to have one, Bob Cringan, interested in their playing. Bob, as well as being the father of the clarinet player — teaches music at Earl Haig Collegiate and we have heard him in action — its really something what he can inspire in youngsters who have never before even held an instrument. We also gather that Ricky's dad, Joe Licastro is pretty handy at encouraging this group too.

Come on along and hear this Dixieland Band in action, featuring Brian Thurston, Homer Girls, Sheena McDonald, George Vigues and Group, Jean Valentin and Helen Payne.

Small Business Is Everybody's Business, Really

It might surprise many to know how important small business is to York North, a federal political constituency that runs from Highway No. 7 to Lake Simcoe. A heavy concentration of population lies along Yonge Street, through towns like Richmond Hill, Aurora, and Newmarket, and in other county towns like Markham, Stouffville, Keswick, Sutton, Pefferlaw, Jackson's Point, Schomberg, Maple and King City and Mount Albert on the eastern boundary. Many small businesses are concentrated in these places, but others are scattered throughout the entire riding.

LOT OF VOTERS

There are more than 100,000 people in York North, about 61,000 of them considered eligible to vote in a federal election. Many depend on small business for livelihood, others deal with small businesses as buyers, consumers. Small businesses are good taxpayers and their owners good citizens. What happens to small business is important in York North.

Canada's National Liberal Party recognizes the importance and need for continued existence of such businesses. They keep alive free enterprise, provide an essential service and keep a mixed economy in balance.

WHAT THEY NEED

More available risk capital, credit at reasonable rates, and research facilities ... all these are needed for small businesses. The Liberal Party includes such assistance and guidance in its policies. What small business does not need is unfair competition and restraints imposed by very large businesses.

The Liberal Party is sympathetic to these problems and will assist in overcoming them. John Addison, himself a businessman, understands these problems of York North businesses. In Ottawa, he could do something about them.

Anniversary and Birthdays
Mr. and Mrs. Fred Bodker celebrated their wedding anniversary, May 4.

John Hunter and Rickey Mandola are celebrating their birthdays this week.

Congratulations and many happy returns of the day to you all.

Women's Institute
The May meeting of the Edgeley Women's Institute took the form of a social evening last week at the home of Mrs. Charles Summerfeldt.

Each member brought one of her favourite desserts and these were all brought forth at refreshment time for all to enjoy and exchange the recipes.

The branch executives and convenors of the Standing Committee met last week at Mrs. Fred Bodker's home to plan the programs for the year.

One major change this year is that the majority of the meetings will be held in the evenings instead of the afternoons as they have in the past. It is hoped that this change will enable more women in the area to attend the meetings and enjoy the various programs that are prepared by the convenors.

Pioneer Village Opening
There will be no official opening ceremonies when Pioneer Village is opened to the public for the season on May 19, but rather a number of events and demonstrations, including a photographic competition, old time square dancing and singers.

Fifteen restored buildings will be opened to the public.

Several ladies who were members of the now disbanded Edgeley Women's Association met at the home of Mrs. Alf Bagl last week to conclude all business in connection with the organization.

Miss June Young was the super guest last week of Mr. and Mrs. John Stuart and Beverly.

It was "over the top" last week as the second lane was opened to traffic on the new overpass over the C.N.R. line at No. 7 Highway and Keele St. The south lanes were opened the week before over which all traffic moved during the week.

A second line of tracks was laid last week from the main C.N.R. line to the overpass on No. 7 Highway. The first line was laid in mid-January and since then it is a common sight to see box cars, etc., in the middle of a farmer's hay or grain fields.

Work crews commenced preparing the by-pass C.N.R. roadbed west from Jane Street last week. This portion of the line runs on the north side of the former Bagg-Dalziel line fence. There is to be a level crossing at Jane Street.

MARKHAM : Markham Village Council recently passed a resolution to request the Liquor Control Board to set a date for a vote on dining room and lounge licenses.

Concord Socials

Resident Killed
Cochrane "Pat" McCloskey a resident of Concord for nearly forty years, lost his life on the last day of April while walking to work on the highway, he had travelled almost every day. Pat as everyone knew him, showed up in Concord in 1923 after serving in the first world war. He left his County Down in Ireland and arrived at Mrs. Vanderburg's. Taking a job at the nearby Concord Floral Co. and boarding with Mrs. Vanderburg turned out to be the set pattern for the rest of Pat's life. When Mrs. Vanderburg gave up her home a few years ago, Pat went to live with her daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Ed Clark, still travelling to and from the greenhouses, along the highway.

About the only luxury Pat allowed himself, other than the odd trip home in recent years, was watching the Toronto Maple Leaf Baseball Team as often as he could. Pat loved baseball, big league or little, and some feel that he could "smell" a ball game. At any rate, he attended any local games, even umpiring a few.

Pat was a faithful member of the Masons and a Masonic service attended by over two hundred people was held for him last Wednesday.

The funeral service on Thursday afternoon was also well attended, and this along with the floral tributes spoke well for the little Irishman who, while belonging to no one person, belonged to all of Concord.

Police Clinic
May 10 from six to nine in the evening is the time for every adult and pre-schooler in Concord to attend the free clinic where they will receive the new oral polio vaccine. The clinic is held at the school and the vaccine should be taken regardless of whether or not a person has had his Salk shots. Come on now, you chicken-hearted souls, this is entirely painless. Just open up your mouth and then swallow. Seriously, no matter how careful we try to be, polio can still strike, young or old, rich or poor. It doesn't choose its victims with any discrimination, anyone will do. So do yourself and your community a favour and come out to-night, (Thursday) May 10.

Birdwatchers
Do we have any ardent birdwatchers in the neighbourhood? Last year a pair of lovely meadowlarks showed up to feed in our yard each morning and night, so this spring we anxiously waited for them to return and, by George, they did! Also saw a flicker one morning, so he has returned this year too. We even have the children watching but all the four-year-olds are "those birds with the red stomachs." (She knows they're robins!), and the two-year-old calls them either fishes or chickies. So, birdwatchers they are not.

Accident
The recent fatal accident at Dufferin and Highway 7 makes us wonder how many lives will be required to requisition lights for that intersection. Just before lights were installed at Keele St. there was a Markham couple killed, you will remember. If our ratepayers associations and other responsible groups got together on this matter possibly something could be done. What with an election coming up anything could happen!

Our Fares
They're overdue, on the school bus, that's all.

Hints to Painters
First step is to send children out to work with Father. Well, not quite to work, but let him drop them at Grandma's house on the way. Secondly, when all preparations have been made (and it's lunch time) go to see if neighbour has borrowed edging tool. She hasn't, but she gives you lunch instead, if her name is Pat Smith. Return home refueled, refreshed and ready to go. Did I paint the bedroom closets? Dad? Are you out of your cotton-picking mind? Who looks in there?

Socials
Mrs. Don Day is recovering from recent surgery at St. Joseph's Hospital and her friends wish her well.

SCHOMBERG : The Schomberg War Memorial has recently been moved for a third time. The latest move was necessary when the Department of Highways agreed to build a new entrance to the village from Highway 27. The World War I memorial was originally built in the village fair grounds but was moved to the triangle in 1937.

Be sure to see "The Tommy Ambrose Show" on the CBC TV network on Friday evenings. Check local listings for channel and time.
