

Addison Bandwagon

John Addison's Liberal Campaign Bandwagon, touring the streets and shopping plazas in Richmond Hill, stimulated quite a bit of excitement for the forthcoming federal election and for the Liberal candidate himself.

The six piece band is made up of high school seniors living in York North riding. Addison's Campaign Bandwagon played for several hours at the Richmond Hill Fair where they attracted a respectable crowd.

Markham Twp. Police

Handled 317 Occurrences In 1961

The annual report for 1961 for Markham Township Police Department has been released. Deputy-revee Lawson Mumberson has repeatedly asked the chairman of the police committee, Councillor Charles Hooper when it would come before council. On presenting copies to the press, Councillor Hooper remarked, "It's not like last year's which cost $2,000 to produce." Asked what this year's report cost he looked at the mimeographed folder containing the report and said, "This was done in the office. Not by a printing firm."

In presenting his report Chief Clarence J. Wideman noted, "Our main traffic problems arise as the result of Don Mills Road being a main artery from Toronto to the well known holiday resort at Lake Simcoe. During the year a total of 78 motor vehicle accidents occurred on the 8 1/2 miles of the above-mentioned road which passes through the township. During the year (1961) we also had an increase in accidents and traffic offences on Bayview Avenue as the result of it now being a paved highway."

Teach School Children Safety
P.C. Donald Dukes held a busy program for safety, among motorists and school children last year the report intimated. On six different occasions between October and December of 1961 he held traffic clinics for drivers who had committed offences contrary to the Highway Traffic Act and addressed the children of twenty-five township schools on safety.

Personnel of the Markham Township Force includes 14 officers, including the chief and one staff sergeant, two patrol sergeants and 10 constables. Two members of the force attended a course on criminal investigation at McMaster University, Hamilton, in 1961 and two others attended a similar course at Waterloo University. The courses were sponsored by the Ontario Police College.

How Budget Was Used
Working on a budget of $62,239.72, the police department of the township spent $68,015.97 for salaries and al-

total of $5,487.25. Occurrences Investigated
There were a total of 317 occurrences in the township during 1961, with 107 arrests, 36 summonses issued and 128 cases concluded.

Three cases of rape were dealt with and 78 cases of break and enter. Theft hit a high of 121, with only 31 cases concluded.

18 impaired drivers were charged and convicted, as were two cases of failing to remain at the scene of an accident.

Nine cases dealing with common assault were concluded, but only 5 cases of a total of 29 reports of malicious damage were closed.

And the department answered a total of 8,065 telephone calls during last year proving that more people are calling the boys in blue; for in 1960 only 5,895 telephone calls were recorded.

Ross Doan Pupils Weekend Ottawa

A group of 26 Grade 8 students from Ross Doan Public School spent last week-end touring Ottawa. Accompanied by Principal R. Colvin, Teachers Mr. N. Williamson, Miss A. Harris and Mrs. George Lawson of the home and school association the group left from Toronto on Thursday at 4:30 and returned on Saturday night at 10:45.

While in Ottawa the children visited the parliament buildings, the Mint, the War Museum, the National Gallery and the archives and enjoyed a cruise on the Rideau River. The group stayed at the Lord Elgin Hotel in Ottawa and the expense of the trip, $26.00, was borne by the individual families. This is the second such trip students of the school have taken and plans are being made to hold some sort of affair to help raise some of the money for next year's trip. Three students from Edgeley School also went with the group.

CANADIAN CANCER SOCIETY Richmond Hill Unit

FACT FOR THE WEEK:

Although science still has much to learn about cancer the Canadian Cancer Society say these facts are certain; cancer is no respecter of persons — it might arise in anyone; some cancers can be prevented; many patients with cancer can be cured and all can be helped; the earlier cancer is diagnosed, the more effective the treatment.

Mrs. Phyllis King, Yonge St. South

Town Resident Hostess Lady Trapper

Mrs. Phyllis King of 68 Yonge Street South, Richmond Hill recently played hostess for the Department of Lands and Forests in entertaining Miss June Gilbert who is probably Ontario's foremost lady trapper. Mrs. King has been with the Department of Lands and Forests for 14 years and is with the trap line management section.

Miss Gilbert has had a registered trap line for the last five years at Savant Lake, some sixty miles east of Sioux Lookout. Although many Indian women assist their husbands on trap lines, Miss Gilbert is one of the very few women to have lumber and tourist camps and also acts as a guide. In spite of her trespassing in what are usually strictly male preserves, Miss Gilbert — who is very slight and scarcely five foot six — is essentially feminine in every way.

Visits Legislature
The occasion of her visit to Toronto was the receiving of a plaque from the Minister of Lands and Forests, the Honourable J. Wilfred Spooner. He had offered the plaque, for the first time this year, for the best prepared pelts sent to the Ontario Trappers' Association for sale at North Bay. Miss Gilbert, with no knowledge of the plaque, had merely sent her furs in the usual way. The department has been encouraging the stretching of beaver skins on hoops, more after the old Indian style. Miss Gilbert had followed the directions carefully and her furs were far above any others sent to the sale. Unable to attend the trappers' association banquet in February to receive the plaque, the department arranged for her to come to Toronto and she received it at a special reception in the Minister's office early last month. After receiving the award, Miss Gilbert was taken into the legislature proper, introduced to the members and given an ovation.

Enjoys Toronto
During her three day stay in Toronto, Mrs. King kept her company and showed her the city sights. She asked particularly to see the zoo and was tremendously interested in the animals, particularly the beaver. She appeared on CBC television together with the Minister and also with the professor on Channel 9. Miss Gilbert was also interested in visiting some of the fur processing plants in Toronto and seeing just what happens to her furs after she ships them.

On her return trip, Miss Gilbert was accompanied by Mrs. King as far as North Bay where they both attended a fur sale.

"How did you manage to get mixed up with trap lines?" this reporter asked Mrs. King. "Well, they were looking for someone who wouldn't be surprised at anything and they picked me," she replied. And certainly, entertaining such a pleasant and dignified lady fur trapper, must have been a pleasant surprise."

Arrest Two Juveniles In Curling Club Entry

Two juveniles were picked up by the Richmond Hill Police last Sunday evening for breaking into the premises of the Richmond Hill Curling Club on Elgin Mills Sideroad. The only damage was the broken window where the entry was effected and the only loss was a couple of bottles of pop. The youngsters will be charged and appear in juvenile court.

Police departments of both Vaughan and Markham Township reports last week end as very quiet with no thefts, break-ins or arrests.
