Summit Ratepayers Want Action

At their weekly meeting a deputation of six members of the Federation of Vaughan Township Ratepayers' Associations was heard by the Vaughan Township Council.

Each member of the deputation represented a separate ratepayers' association in the township. Their purpose in appearing was to enquire why the Summit Ratepayers' Association had had no reply to their query as to the township's position, with respect to Mr. D. Goulding's reported intention of operating a gravel pit on land which the ratepayers claim is zoned agricultural.

Prior to the land use by-law passing in the fall of 1961, all land used in the township had been frozen from November, 1960. Mr. Goulding was a member of the planning board at that time and the ratepayers claim that just one month prior to the land-use being frozen, he had several loads of something trucked out of his property, which was later zoned agricultural. Since Mr. Goulding has recently had heavy equipment doing test drilling of some sort on his land, the Summit ratepayers fear that he took advantage of an opportunity to establish a "non-conforming land use" on his property which would now permit him to operate a gravel pit in spite of the agricultural zoning of the land.

The Summit Ratepayers' Association wrote to council over a month ago asking that the matter be clarified but have had no answer.

Council members apologized to the deputation but explained that they had handed the question over to their solicitor, Mr. T. Fraser of the firm of Grant, Grant and Fraser and that he had spent the better part of two weeks searching the pertinent sections of the Municipal Act and also the Pits and Quarries Act and looking for legal precedents which would permit the township to take action on the matter. He had promised to let the council have a letter with information to submit to the ratepayers by last week but up to the time of this writing, such a letter had not been received.

With respect to any conflict of interest on the part of Mr. Goulding and his establishing a non-conforming land use, council pointed out to the ratepayers that while it was quite true that Mr. Goulding had trucked sand or gravel from his property just the month before the land-use was frozen, he had also done this many times previously, and there was no indication that it had been done deliberately prior to the land-use freezing. Council did give the deputation their assurance however, that they would try and have Mr. Goulding meet with them in committee to discuss the situation.
