There is an old saw in the sporting world that traded or cast-off players always come back to haunt the team that dispensed with their services. There have been many instances over the years to bear out the truth of the saying. It has often happened that the cast-off scores the winning goal or hits in the run to defeat his former team.

The whole thing is probably psychological. When playing against ex-team mates, the player tends to have a burning desire to prove that they lost something when he was no longer required. And so he comes through when the clutch is really on.

If this concept holds true then Russ Cripps and Dynes Jewellers are going to have their hands full when the Franklin Team is opposing them. Two former Jeweller players are now in the Franklin fold and one ex-Allencourt squad member.

Doug Watt, the large centre fielder, who plied his craft with Allencourt last year, is now patrolling the deep garden for Franklins. Gord Little played first base for the Dynesmen last year and is now holding down the initial sack for the Franklin squad.

Latest Jeweller to sign with Franklins is Sil Steffan. Ever since there was a Dynes Team, Sil has been crouched behind the plate. It will seem passing strange to many people to see him in an opposing line-up.

With three players out to prove that Mr. Cripps really needed their help, the next game between these two clubs should be something to see. For the fans who follow the game closely it should produce some mixed emotions. Each one of these players have their own particular fan following in Richmond Hill and most fans like to see the home team win. No matter what happens it should be a very interesting season.

This seems to be the season for softball players to get married. Stan Thornington, at present with Dynes, took the matrimonial plunge a couple of Saturdays ago. Len McLean, former Dynes player, will be committing matrimony very shortly.

Softball players are an avid lot. Thornington got married on a Saturday but was back for the game the following Thursday night. Which only seems to prove that ball players enjoy the game exceedingly well!

National Water Safety Week, June 3rd to June 9th. The Red Cross had a one week campaign going to attempt to convince and educate a lot of Canadians that you just can't take liberties in or on the water. Some very grim figures were quoted to drive home the need for treating water with respect. All signs and statistics point to the fact that 1,000 Canadians will meet death by drowning before the year's end. Some deaths will occur in a spectacular manner while others will seem the result of accident that was unavoidable. There's only one catch — each and every one will be just as dead.

Television programs have given citizens newer and better ways of coming to grief in the water. A few years ago scuba diving was restricted to professionals. Then came Lloyd Bridges and the program Sea Hunt — the program the 'teen age set irreverently refer to as "Bubbles". The program extolled the virtues of scuba diving and before you could say "glub" a lot of people were budding undersea explorers.

Diving always seemed so easy when done by Mr. Bridges. A lot of people got the idea that all they needed was money to buy equipment and a pond to dive in. Not so at all.

Scuba diving is a highly technical affair. Some of the equipment sold is just not up to standard. Instead of buying something to provide pleasure what you're getting in effect is a help toward becoming a drowning statistic. There's only one way to do it if you want to explore the depths. Join a good, recognized scuba club and learn what, where, when and how to dive safely.

Lakes and rivers are also going to be crowded with boating traffic this year. The whole country seems to be boat conscious with boats for sale at shopping plazas, gasoline stations and just about anywhere else you can think of. From being strictly utilitarian pieces of equipment, boats have blossomed out in glowing colours to add eye appeal. It's hard to

Cook's Bay Gives Up 15 Pound Pike

Vince Carcone got the thrill of his life on Tuesday of last week. On the spur of the moment Carcone and his friend Elio Quintile accompanied Roy Rickard on a fishing excursion to Cook's Bay. While fishing just at the mouth of the Holland River Carcone hooked into what proved to be a 42½ inch 15 pound pike.

A battle royal ensued with all three men lending a hand to get friend pike into the boat. The only net available was much too small but the pike obliged by getting his teeth set in the mesh of the net. After a fifteen minute struggle and with the aid of a piece of pipe wielded as a club, the fish was brought to boat.

Mr. Carcone originally planned to have his fish mounted as a conversation piece. Dismayed by the price requested, the fish soon became an after dinner topic of conversation. Now only some photographs and the memory are left.

Roberts Rules The Roost

Pitches One Hitter Dynes Win 7 - 0

Norm Roberts regained his old time form last Thursday night as the Jewellers blanked Electro-Sonic 7-0 in a North York League fixture at Richmond Hill. Facing only 31 Electro Sonic batters, Roberts struck out fourteen and walked one man. Only four runners ever got on base.

With two men out in the ninth inning, Electro Sonic's right fielder, Harry Haber, bounced an infield single. The ball took so long in coming down that Haber was on first almost before the ball could be played. It was a heartbreaker for Roberts and for the fans who realized what was happening.

Two Big Innings

For the first time this year the Jewellers operated as a team. Defensively the big green and white team played inspired softball. Moe Williamson made a diving grab of a line shot in the fourth inning off the bat of Electro-Sonic's Lou Koblinsky. Williamson dove headlong to the left, got a glove on the screaming drive and fell to the ground clutching the ball. He got a big hand from the fans for his effort.

Hitting Power

Jeweller pitching power made itself felt in two innings. All the runs were scored in the fourth and sixth innings. Norm Roberts opened the fourth with a single and successive singles by Gary Smith, Don MacMillan and Moe Williamson accounted for three runs.

Richmond Hts. Centre Girls Win And Lose

Richmond Heights Centre Ladies have a record of two wins a tie and a loss on the seasons play thus far. On Wednesday of last week they defeated East York Kiwanis 13-4 in Richmond Hill. Last Thursday they dropped a 13-7 verdict to Progress at Dieppe Park.

Lack of depth in the pitching staff has handicapped the local lasses. Ruth Foster pitched the team to the Wednesday win and was forced to go again on Thursday. Insufficient rest took toll of the young hurler and she was not as sharp as she usually is. The team has promise of pitching help once the high school holidays begin officially.

to hold the form that they displayed last week they should prove a real thorn in the sides of the opposition. They finally seemed to click as a unit and played with a confidence that they have not heretofore displayed.

150 View Red Cross Water Safety Demonstration At Camp Richildaca

The Red Cross water safety demonstration sponsored by the Richmond Hill and District Red Cross Branch drew approximately 150 people to Camp Richildaca last Saturday. Guests of the Red Cross and Richildaca management saw a very complete water safety demonstration.

Demonstrations of artificial respiration, various swimming techniques, rescue methods and canoe safety were capably demonstrated. Demonstrations were conducted by Richildaca instructor Brian Orton with Ron Gibson as master of ceremonies. One hundred and fifty people now know a lot more about the different aspects of water safety than they did before. Thanks to the Red Cross and to the management of Camp Richildaca these people are now in a position to pass on their knowledge to others.

HIGH SCHOOL SPORTS NEWS

Bayview
Parties to celebrate the end of the school year seem to be the order of the day at the Bayview seat of learning. Last Saturday a group of grade 10, grade 11 and 12 students held a year-end party at Cedar Beach, Musselman's Lake.

After a day of outdoor games, swimming and eating, the happy group ended the evening with a dance at Bayview Plaza.

Another group of grade 12 students entertained their home room teacher, Mr. Russ Snider at a surprise dinner at the Summit Restaurant. From all reports many more parties are planned by other forms at the school before the final dismissal bell rings. It seems a different and entertaining way to end a year of books and lessons and does a lot to build up school spirit.

Gala Sports Day Parade Wednesday

Plans are completed and floats all ready to take part in the Sports Day Parade on Wednesday, June 20 at 6.30 p.m. As in other years the parade will form up at the Richmond Heights Centre, move down Yonge Street to Lorne Avenue, and finish in the town park. The parade will be replete with bands, floats, drum majorettes and children representing all sporting activities in the town.

Piece de resistance of the celebrations will be a softball game between Dynes Jewellers and radio and TV personalities from the entertainment world. Max Scheff, the most prominent and best known softball personality in Ontario will officiate behind the plate.

Local ball fans will be treated to a real thrill at the Sports Day Parade. The championship Electro-Girls Softball Team of Toronto will meet Dynes in the town park. This starry aggregation of pretty girls travelled to Orange, California, last year to compete in the Women's World Softball Tournament. They proved their prowess by coming third against strong world opposition.

Lucky draw tickets for a great many valuable prizes will be

Minor Ball Season Opens June 18

The cry, "play ball" will echo in a great many ball parks in Richmond Hill on June 18th to signal the opening games in the minor ball association group. Teams of boys 8 and 9 years of age will be in action at various schoolgrounds while girls teams and the 15 to 18 year old boys will begin in the town park. Lack of spectator interest has sometimes been a big disappointment to the members of the league. This year set a new rule. To completely coin a phrase, "Take them out to the ball game — don't let the kids come alone." You'll be glad you did.

Precision Repairs Pay Off To You
We make all repairs with the precision born of long experience. Our jobs never have to be "re-done" later. You save money in the end!

Very Young Coaches
Jim Henderson, Doug Buckley and Hugh Rose are three sixteen year old gentlemen playing softball in the minor ball association juvenile league. In addition to playing softball the three boys are coaching the Giants, a team of 10 and 11 year old boys.

The three coaches have their young team looking sharp as they give the benefit of their knowledge to the young boys. All three learned their softball lore while playing in the minor set and up, and are enjoying helping their younger compatriots.
