Teachers Exchange Vows At Fenelon Falls Church

Two teachers were united in marriage when Alexander Clarke Edward of King City Composite School, took as his bride Miss Carolyn Marguerite Hebel of Fenelon Falls in a ceremony in the United Church at Fenelon Falls.

Rev. M. L. Fisher conducted the service in a setting of white snapdragons and pink delphiniums. Mrs. G. Littlejohn played the wedding music and accompanied the bridal chorus.

Daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Edgar Hebel of Fenelon Falls, the bride was given in marriage by her father. She wore a street-length gown of rose design Swiss embroidery over taffeta, fashioned with rounded neckline, tiny sleeves and a full, bouffant skirt.

Her double-tiered wedding cake crown of Venetian crystals and pearls topped a circular over-the-face veil of silk illusion. She carried a bouquet of pink sweetheart roses and carnations.

The maid of honor, Miss Anita Coburn, was dressed in Nile green silk organza, featuring a large Juliet collar and a wide panel of white lace accenting a fully crinolined skirt. Her matching headpiece was a pill box covered with organza petals, and face veil. Her flowers were yellow and white shasta daisies.

John T. Cruickshank, Peterborough, acted as best man and John Palmer was usher.

A reception and buffet supper for 55 guests followed at the home of the bride's parents.

After the wedding trip to Souris, Manitoba, the couple will be living in Weston.

A graduate of Peterborough Teacher's College, the bride is employed by the North York Board of Education.

The groom, who is the son of the late Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Edward of Kingston, is employed by Aurora and District High School Board and has been living in King City.

Safe travelling on highways for farm machinery is being featured now by the York County Farm Safety Council. Here, Eugene Lemon of Stouffville demonstrates how the red flag can be used as an effective warning device. The safety council has had flags made up and they are available through the Department of Agriculture Office at Newmarket.

Oak Ridges Lake Wilcox Socials

A marriage of wide interest took place July 14 at Earlscourt United Church, Toronto, when Victor Norman (Pete) Styromo, Oak Ridges, and Miss Dianne Adams, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Adams, Toronto, were united in marriage.

The groom is the only son of Mr. and Mrs. H. K. Styromo, Bostwick Crescent, Oak Ridges. He was attended by Gerald Barker, formerly of Aurora, as best man.

Mr. Styromo is curator at Old Fort York. It was a great surprise to him when, after the ceremony, he reached the door of the church with his bride to find that members of the guard at the Fort had formed an honor guard. Dressed in 200-year-old uniforms, the guard made a colorful picture against the white of the bride's flowing gown.

The couple were again honored by the guards at the wedding reception held at Fort York Armories. A salute was fired for the happy couple.

Mr. and Mrs. Styromo left for a trip to the Maine Coast and on their return plan to build a home in Oak Ridges.

Allan Duffield Writes

Allan Duffield, the boy who has gone to British Guiana to do a year's work with the YMCA, under the Canadian Voluntary Commonwealth Service, has written a letter and asks on behalf of Miss Bernice De Souza, a reporter for the Argosy Newspaper in Georgetown, for teenagers to write letters to her.

Miss De Souza would like a list of Canadian pen pals who would like to write to her and her friends. She would print the list in the paper, and the scheme would then be underway.

No age restriction need be introduced, but the main point for Canadian students to remember is to take this offer seriously and realize that they are writing not only for friendship and knowledge from a strange country, but also as an effort to break the racial conflicts that are destroying the world today.

Allan enclosed in his letter the name of the part-time reporter and a few of her hobbies and interests to start the scheme.

BOLTON: Tenders for the reconstruction of Highway 50 in the Bolton district were slated to be opened today. When work is completed in the fall of 1963, Highway 50 will be widened to four lanes through Bolton.

Mr. and Mrs. D. Clark, North Road, spent July 14 at Midland viewing the Orange Parade. Mr. Clark's lodge was marching in the parade.

Ray Hunter, also a pilot from the Lake, took Barrie Willis for a ride. It was his first plane ride also.

King City Notes

The groom and male relatives, too, came along when Mr. and Mrs. Marvin Hunter of Laskay entertained at a miscellaneous shower for their nephew, John Scott of Laskay and his bride-to-be, Miss Maureen Hick, of Bracebridge.

Forty relatives attended the party, including Mr. and Mrs. James Scott and Mr. and Mrs. William Baker, Kitchener, and Mr. and Mrs. William Jamieson, Toronto.

Gifts were placed in a basket trimmed with bells and balloons. Miss Hicks was assisted in opening them by the groom's sister, Mrs. Jamieson.

Following their wedding Aug. 11 in Bracebridge, the couple will be living on Concession 5, King, south of the King Side-road. Miss Hicks has been teaching school at Sault Ste. Marie.

The groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Earle Scott.

Newlyweds, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Brooks will be living in the Clearview Heights home formerly occupied by Mr. and Mrs. George Lawrence.

Mrs. Lawrence recently moved near Philadelphia, where her husband is employed by a helicopter firm.

King Township's Deputy-reeve Norman MacMurchy had an 18 day holiday in Scotland. He sailed both ways, returning to Quebec, on the Ivernia.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank McMurchy, Thornbury, visited Mr. and Mrs. Aubrey Glass.

Charles Clubine won't forget his 70th birthday in a hurry. The weekend gathering at his summer home, "Clubby's Log Haven" at Woodland Beach on Georgian Bay, was a family reunion of 50 relatives and friends helping him celebrate his July 16th birthday.

One son, Russell, had made him a work bench and wall tool cabinet, which Mr. Clubine hopes to have more time to use when he retires early this fall to live permanently at Georgian Bay.

Other members of the family provided an assortment of carpentry tools. Sisters, brothers and nieces combined to present a folding couch. Mrs. Ed Harris, Springhill Road, made the presentation speech on behalf of the guests.

Picnic lunches provided an ample buffet and many of the visitors enjoyed the swimming nearby.

Mr. Clubine has five brothers and three sisters, three sons and two daughters, 17 grandchildren and three great-grandchildren.

Joining in the birthday festivities were: Mr. and Mrs. John Clubine, Willowdale; Mr. and Mrs. Oakley Clubine, Lorraine, Meaford; Mrs. Laura Colby and Linda, Weston; Mr. and Mrs. Jack Williams and Mary, Vellore; Carl Rider, Kleinburg; Mrs. Jack McIntyre and Miss Jacqueline McIntyre, Kleinburg; Miss Audrey Harris, Woodbridge; Miss Lucy Clubine, Douglas Clubine, Mr. and Mrs. Ed Harris, Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Boyle and Donald, and Mrs. James Brown, all of King City.

Mrs. Hilda Bull of Aurora, Clifford Antle, Richmond Hill; Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Trafford, Kim and Kevan; Mrs. R. Powell and Linda Clubine, Willowdale; Mr. and Mrs. Renu Tenhove Jr., John and Joyce, King; Mr. and Mrs. Renu Tenhove from Holland; Mr. and Mrs. Murray Powell, Downsview; Mrs. Verna Bates, Willowdale; Mr. and Mrs. Carl Teetzel and David, Richmond Hill; Mr. and Mrs. Russell Clubine, Jimmy, Susan, Wayne and Wendy, Stouffville; Mr. and Mrs. Tom Kelly, Mary, Charlene, Laurie and Kelly, Willowdale.

Mr. and Mrs. Clubine expect to move by October from Tannery Hill Farms, where Mr. Clubine has been employed for the past 13 years.

When the first Daily Vacation Bible School for children living near Laskay United Church proved to be so successful, leaders were hopeful more schools would be attempted in the future summers.

Forty boys and girls attended the five-day course held at the church from 9 to 11.30 a.m. on mornings that would not conflict with the twice-weekly swimming lessons at Thornhill Pool.

General convenor, Mrs. Jesse Bryson, taught the kindergarten group assisted by Miss Dorothy Diceman. Mrs. Marvin Hunter, assisted by Mrs. Don Barker, and Miss Beth Cairns, had charge of the primary class, and Miss Linda Cairns and Miss Beverley Hunter led the intermediate young people.

At the end of the morning worship, singing, outdoor games and handicrafts, the children had treats of cookies and cold drinks. These were prepared by Mrs. Norman Etheridge, Miss Marjorie McMurchy, Mrs. Glen Dooks, Mrs. Effie Bath, Mrs. Tom Walker and Mrs. W. R. Morgan.

Considerable assistance was given by Lila, Sandra and Nancy Forester and Miss Vera Hunter.

Adults of the community came to the open house, which concluded the school. Crafts were shown and refreshments served. Younger children read the Bible verses and led in prayers, while the older ones presented a Biblical play.

A page of braille, which the children had studied, was shown to illustrate the braille Bible.

For a person "not lucky as a rule," Mrs. Bruce Robson of Hamby Ave., fared well in the recent contest at Kresge's Richmond Hill.

For receiving the most customers' votes 505 among 30 salesgirls dressed in old-fashioned costumes, Mrs. Robson received a welcome extra week's holiday pay this autumn. She has already taken her regular two-week vacation from her full time job.

Mrs. Robson, who doesn't usually find much time for sewing, made her own outfit that won the customer's approval. She used seven and a half yards of blue broadcloth for her size 12 full-skirted dress, and 12 yards of white lace for trimming. Her hat, made of matching material, was topped with artificial flowers and had a black plume at the back.

CLAREMONT: One of York County's oldest buildings, a former store at the southwest corner of Brock Road and Con. 9 has been applied to permit reconstruction of the intersection. The building dates back to 1847.
