St. John's Church News

The Rev. Thomas Robinson preached his first sermon, as rector of St. John's Anglican Church, Jefferson, last Sunday morning. He took his text from St. John chapter one, and said for the next few weeks he will lead his congregation in a study of this apostle.

The choir, under the leadership of Mrs. J. Harnden sang the beautiful hymn of praise, "How Great Thou Art."

Following the service the rector greeted each parishioner and asked their name and address, stating he hoped to call each by name within a short time.

The Rev. D. C. H. Michell, who resigned his parish after fourteen years of service, will arrive in England this weekend. Mr. Michell will spend an 18 month's Sabbatical leave in an English parish, before returning to Canada again.

Community Women Meet

The biggest item on the agenda for the first meeting of the community club women's group, held at Jefferson School last Wednesday night, was the annual bazaar. It's to be held November 3rd.

WA Bazaar

Both WA's of St. John's will unite for the annual bazaar convened by the afternoon branch. To be held in the parish hall on Yonge Street, November 28, the afternoon WA will be in charge of the bake sale and sale of work. The evening WA will look after the tearoom.

Visit Brougham Museum

Mrs. N. Thompson and Mrs. H. J. Warner, attended the official opening of Pickering Township's museum at Brougham, on Highway No. 7, last week.

Everything was most interesting, Mrs. Thompson told us. They saw demonstrations, "said to be for men only", such as the way stone used to be split for foundations. Timber heaving with a broad axe, for beam-making, and thrashing, by the men of the local community were some highlights.

The women present really enjoyed the quilting, done by Greenbank Ladies Aid. They are working on a log cabin design, Mrs. Thompson said, and Altona Women's Institute was also there, working on a "fan" quilt.

Spinning angora wool, from rabbits she had raised herself, also demonstrating two types of hooked rugging, pioneer style were Mrs. Wheeler, Mrs. Annis and Mrs. Warner.

Mrs. Warner, who is a member of Kingcraft had even the men interested as she demonstrated the weaving of place mats on a loom.

The museum is held in a converted old one-room schoolhouse, an old log cabin, and a log house which has been moved to the one-acre site for posterity.

While the ladies of the local historical society wandered about the grounds dressed in old-fashioned costumes, the Brougham Boy Scouts made cider, and the children present "rode" an old steam engine, a dated gasoline driven tractor - and a two-horse democrat - which is a two-seated buggy to you.

Mrs. Thompson said bazaar convenors might like to note one of the more pleasant items of by-gone days was being demonstrated too. A Talman Sweet apple, filled with whole cloves - to stash away in a linen cupboard or drawer - is simple, yet pleasant to do.

Euchre Party

The Monday Nighters held their first euchre party of the fall season at the home of Mrs. Ed Gamble.

All the regulars were out and winners were Marg McFee, Jessie Hall, Vi Gamble and Dorothy Cracknell.
