YOUR GARDEN And MINE

(By Flavia Redelmeier)

CAN SPRING BE FAR BEHIND?

There is no doubt about it, gardeners are the most optimistic people on the face of the earth, and if, these days, they have a slight attitude of apprehension it is because they realize that any night now that old demon frost will arrive and the glory of the garden will be over for another year.

The wise ones have bolstered themselves against the shock, having ordered their spring flowering bulbs and can see in the mind's eye that same garden overflowing again with colour. Every spot where soon there will be a blackened dahlia or tuberous begonia, a faded glad, a limp petunia, will next spring be taken over by hosts of daffodils, and tulips. Who could ask for anything more?

Daffodils are the glory of the early spring garden and an old favourite is King Alfred, a rich golden yellow, good for pot culture too. Rembrandt is similar but has a larger bloom. Golden Harvest is also deep yellow and has a large frilled trumpet.

It has always seemed to us that daffodils should be yellow but the enterprising gardener will like to try some of the new varieties which range in colour from white through yellow and orange to an almost true red. Certainly a display of pure white daffodils is an alluring sight and Mount Hood is a good variety. With its ivory perianth and long slender trumpet of apricot, Mrs. R. O. Backhouse was the first colour break toward pink which has led to newer and pinker varieties.

Plant your bulbs, not too deeply, 5 inches of soil over the top, with good drainage and they will bloom uninterrupted for years.

The earliest tulips bloom along with the daffodils. These are the species varieties. Plant Kaufmanniana under your magnolia tree or Forsythia Elegance under the Forsythia. Fritz Kreister is a lovely salmon pink. All of these are good in the rock garden. These small, close to the earth blossoms appear as soon as the snow is gone, opening so widely to the early spring sunshine that they are popularly called Water Lily Tulips.

In early April the Fostermana Hybrids are a blaze of glory. We all know the spectacular Red Emperor and Easter Parade is its yellow edition. Purisima is often called the White Emperor and there are many others of this early hybrid.

The early tulips, single and double, are next in line. The doubles, such as Peach Blossom, Scarlet Cardinal and Myneher Van der Hoef (yellow) are good for bedding. They last longer in bloom than others and so fill in the gap until the Mendels and Triumphs come along.

The latter are mid-season tulips, a comparatively new class resulting from crosses of single earlies with Darwins. This has produced earlier flowering varieties with strong stems and a fine range of colours.

The most widely grown of all types are the Cottage, the Darwin and the Breeder. These are all tall with sturdy stems and will give a mass of colour in late spring. There are too

In Memoriams

COOPER — In loving memory of our dear mother, Edith Cooper, who passed away October 15, 1959. The heartaches in this world are many, But to lose our mom was the greatest of any. So today our love is mingled with tears, A fervent wish that mom was here.

God gave us a wonderful mother, Her memory will never grow old, He fashioned her smile out of sunshine, He moulded her heart of pure gold; A mother who gave us the best years of her life, Who cherished our secrets, our sorrows, our strife, Who taught us to love and taught us to pray, Dear mother in heaven, God bless you today, We miss you more than anyone knows, Each day that passes the loneliness grows, Tears in our eyes will wipe away, But the ache in our hearts will always stay, Sweet are the memories lovingly kept, Of a very dear mother we will never forget.

— So dearly loved never to be forgotten - daughter Phyllis, son-in-law Gabriel and grandson Louis Kovace. c1w15

MABLEY — In loving memory of John E. Mabley, who passed away October 15, 1958. — Ever remembered by wife Hazel and daughters Joan and Nancy. c1w15
