This Week's Happenings In Maple

By the way! How is your Christmas shopping coming along? I was shopping up sharply to realize how close THAT really is by one of those horrible type friends of mine who calmly stated "mine is all done, gift wrapped and stashed away!!" Of course she wrote her Christmas cards while sunning on the patio this summer too! NOT ME!

Maple WI
Mrs. M. Palmer was hostess to the Maple WI meeting at her home, October 10. The meeting opened with the Ode and the Mary Stewart. Miss Sharon Clegg, a Maple junior, favored with a piano solo and Mrs. T. Jackson read a poem, (Friendship). These were followed by a sing song led by Mrs. N. Payne accompanied by Mrs. W. Noble, at the piano.

Appropriate poems for Thanksgiving were ably recited by Mrs. B. Andrew including Pauline Johnson's "Beauty of Our Own Country", "August Thankfulness", and "October", all stressing the fact that we have a great deal to be thankful for, here in our own Canada.

The sale of articles in the travelling basket was interesting and rewarding. Mrs. Payne gave the courtesies and the meeting closed with the Institute Grace and a social hour was enjoyed.

Mrs. H. Jackson will be our delegate to the convention.

The next meeting will be at the home of Mrs. Harris, November 14.

Don't forget the WI euchre on October 30.

United Church Women
Unit one met at the church parlour on October 9 with president Mrs. Hunter presiding.

Mrs. K. Tilly was in charge of the study book, "signals for the sixties".

Unit two met at the home of Mrs. B. Thurston on the evening of October 9. Mrs. R. Crook presided. Mrs. Thurston opened the meeting with a short devotion, the rest of the time was spent preparing articles for the bazaar.

Unit three met on October 10 with Mrs. J. Jones presiding. The meeting opened with a devotional.

Miss May Evans and Mrs. L. Laver were in charge of Bible study.

A social time was spent with refreshments after these meetings.

Christmas Bazaar
At the annual Christmas bazaar that the WA of St. Stephen's Anglican Church puts on at the Community Hall - this year it's on November 3 - you can be sure of finding many suggestions for gifts that are just a little bit different from store bought things. There are also tables of home baked goods too so mark it on your calendar - just seeing the display put on by the G.A. and J.A. members is well worth the trip alone.

Concord Socials

Mrs. Smith of Winnipeg has returned home after a visit with her son Roy and his family of Rockview Gardens.

A belated welcome to Mr. and Mrs. John Cole of King High Drive. Mrs. Cole is the former Carol Lacey.

Mr. R. McLean, King High Drive, spent a week in the Bancroft area earlier this fall where he did several oil sketches, to be reproduced on larger canvases at home. On a summer visit, Mr. McLean was so impressed with the scenery of the area that he felt he simply must go back to see what effect the magic brush of autumn would have.

Mrs. Rita Conroy, Hillside Ave., travelled to the U.S. recently for the wedding of her brother.

Guides and Brownies
The Concord Guide and Brownie groups are in dire need of leaders. While Captain Elva Whaley and Brown Owl Lorene Simmons are doing a tremendous job, the strain is too much for one person to carry alone and each of these women could use a helper. I would be as happy myself as either Elva or Lorene, should some good souls come forward and offer their services. Maybe then on Thursday nights at the "Y", District Commissioner Vera Moore would stop greeting me with "How about coming back as a Guide?"

Church Supper
Between 90 and 100 people attended the annual fellowship supper at Zion Lutheran Church, Sherwood. This year the evening also served as a formal reception for the new pastor, Rev. Emil Lange. Pastor Lange and his family returned to Canada last year after serving for six years in India as missionaries. During the programme, the congregation was treated to a demonstration of how to wear a "sari" an Indian woman's dress, as well as several beautiful and interesting color slides depicting the Langes' work in India.

Special guests besides the Langes were Rev. and Mrs. Albert Datar, Augsburg Lutheran Church, Brampton; Rev. and Mrs. Wallace Minke, Church of the Good Shepherd, Downsview; and Rev. Albert Myers, St. Paul's Lutheran Church, Richmond Hill.

The teachers are: Mrs. Mary H. Wearing, Concord; Mrs. Hazel R. Hill, Thornhill; Mrs. E. A. McIntosh, Thornhill (now

Edgeley Socials
Social Notes

The local unit of the Cancer Society is showing two films on October 23 in the Woodbridge Auditorium.

WI
Mrs. Helen Prowse told of her experiences as a juror at a meeting of the Edgeley Women's Institute last week at the home of Mrs. George Snider. Her very interesting and informative talk included the method of selecting a jury, qualifications of jurors, procedures expected of a juror and many other important points in connection with the administration of justice.

The roll call, "A Man of the Hour and What He Is Doing For His Country" was well responded to and the members' replies showed that they had very considerable interest indeed in the aims and achievements of many prominent people and of world as well as local current events.

Mrs. Allen Aitchison read a poem "Moments of Our Friendship" by Hugh Campbell.

Mrs. Prowse was the recipient of the door prize which was donated by Mrs. R. J. Darlington.

Masonic Service Draws Big Crowd

Masons and friends of the Vaughan Lodge of Maple filled Teston United Church for the lodge's annual church service October 8.

Rev. M. R. Jenkinson of Teston conducted the service. His sermon linked masonic and religious principles.

Teston United Church is home church of the Worshipful Master of the Lodge, Worshipful Brother Stewart Diceman. The women's association served refreshments in the Sunday school following the services.

Grand Lodge officers in attendance were the Right Worshipful Brother Mel Fleming, district deputy, grand master and Right Worshipful Brother Harold Russell, past district deputy-grand master.

Worshipful Brother Diceman read the lesson from the Old Testament and Rev. Jenkinson, the lesson from the New Testament.

(Itinerant Remedial Teacher); and R. C. McWhirter, Concord. Presentation of the awards will take place at a teachers' meeting October 18.

This was reported by Superintendent J. Gibson at the regular meeting of Vaughan Township School Area Board Thursday night.

He also reported that two zone semi-final public speaking contests will be held in the township October 18 - one at Ross Doan and the other at Kleinburg.

Finals for the township will be held at Kleinburg week later and the winner will then participate in the county finals at Newmarket.

In reply to a question about progress on the request that oral French be included in the curriculum of township schools, Chairman Sam Kaiser reported that investigation is still being carried on. It is hoped to have a meeting with the parents' committee at an early date, he said.

New Building at Pioneer Village
The old Grubbe homestead in Weston is being dismantled and moved to the Pioneer Village where it will be rebuilt as nearly as possible to the original plan and it will then become the Superintendent's house. The house is located on Jane Street, south of Steeles Ave., opposite the Hoover farm and the former Wakefield house.

Excesses of Prosperity are extra food, tobacco, alcohol, gasoline and electricity. Perhaps in some cases, less consumption of the first three will be helpful to many. Substituting muscle power in place of that produced by the latter two will render, under many conditions and circumstances, benefit to those who do substitute. Try it and enjoy the beneficial result.
