Hill Council Briefs

Council has concurred with a ruling handed down by its works committee to refuse a request by Rosedale Manor Apartments Ltd. for a reduction from $25,000 to $15,000 in its performance bond.

Reasons given were a general increase of 15 per cent in 1962 consumption which required imposing local restrictions and the anticipated increase in 1963 due to industrial expansion and hospital requirements.

Shaping of ditches in the industrial section of town will be carried out in the early part of next year, the works committee informed council.

Sanitary sewer frontage charges on Newkirk Road from the water treatment plant south to Centre Street will be assessed on a committed basis of $3.57 per lineal foot payable on application for service connections.

Tenders will be called shortly for winter sanding and snow plowing requirements.

Complaints of noise made by a paving company occupying the rear of property at Yonge Street and Harding Boulevard were outlined in a letter from Marjorie Richards, an adjacent property owner.

The matter was referred to the police committee for investigation.

K. W. Tomlin, a former Richmond Hill mayor, has been accepted by council as the representative between the industrial commission and council.

The commission informed council by letter that Mr. Tomlin would represent it on any committee working on annexation as it affects industrial development.

existing services and police and fire protection. Our staff studied the plans before they were submitted to council, and we were assured that no additional men or equipment would be necessary to operate our fire or police departments should the hotel locate here. Our sewer and water facilities are adequate to serve the site on which the hotel is to be built. A storm sewer to service this portion of Yonge Street has been needed for some years and the need was aggravated with the installation of a used car lot. The developers have agreed to contribute $5,000 towards the cost of this storm sewer, which is more than their share would be under local improvement. Cost of the balance of the storm sewer is estimated at $12,000.

Whilst this council has no bond from the developers, we feel assured that the hotel will be constructed as has been indicated.

"We have received two or three times the normal number of industrial enquiries at the commissioner's office since the plans for the hotel have been publicized. This is a very healthy indication of potential industrial development for Richmond Hill."

In a statement issued April 24 Mayor Haggart said the two principals behind the hotel were Mr. Portway and a John Fisher. The mayor went on to say that both gentlemen "were thoroughly and adequately investigated, and in our opinion (meaning town council) are desirable individuals for this development."

Continuing Mayor Haggart said, "In addition, thorough consideration was given to our

Send Children

All three parents explained they still opposed the board's action, but felt their children shouldn't miss out on their education because of it.

According to Mrs. Jones, Mr. McIntyre said the board had moved the kindergarten pupils rather than Grade 8 pupils, because an earlier vote had indicated opposition in the area to a senior school.

Chairman Harold Sanderson of the Richmond Hill Public School Board announced Monday, that all parents requested have now transferred their kindergarten children from Beverley Acres to Crosby Heights. 33 pupils were involved.

Trustees Want Meeting

The Public School Trustees Association of Markham will continue to pursue their request for a share of township lot fees, it was agreed at a meeting of the group in Buttrickville Hall October 22.

Earlier, representatives of the association were received by Markham Township Council and told there would be no portion of lot fees for school purposes.

S. R. Patterson of TSA association president, told the meeting that in August when a committee from the association was first heard by council, the attitude was quite different.

"At that time," he said, "Reeve W. R. Dean expressed sympathy with those who must contend with the cost of education. He agreed that if there was to be a division of administrative lot fees, school boards should receive consideration."

In the case of S.S. No. 5, at Buttrickville, lot fees from Arleigh Heights subdivision were allocated to the school eight years ago by the subdivider and used for capital expenditure only. No lot fees have been given to schools since that time.

Recalling the August meeting again, Mr. Patterson said trustees were assured the matter of lot fees would be given careful consideration at a committee meeting with a representative from the association, public school inspector, members of council, and if possible a representative from the Department of Education.

"To date there has been no such meeting," he said.

W. Wigmore, TSA 2 said council does not want to make a precedent. "If they do allocate lot fees to us now they may feel they commit themselves."

Mr. Stone of TSA 1 agreed, "This may be the first time a

Mr. Hooper admitted he might consider running for reeve or deputy-reeve if the incumbent decided to retire or seek another post.

A wide open battle for council would result in any ward where the present council member decided to make a move up.

Councillors in Markham are elected by wards while the reeve and deputy-reeve must seek a township-wide mandate.

According to a township by-law, a candidate in any of the township's three wards must own land in that ward, but does not even have to live in township.

Eligible voters include all property owners and tenants and their wives along with sons, daughters and sisters of farmers, living on the farm.

No newcomers have so far officially announced their intention to contest any seats although rumor has it most posts will be hotly contested.

since the owners of the property, W. A. Stephenson and Sons, hold a firm offer to purchase the property by the developers (not an option) and the municipality has a signed agreement submitting to architectural control by ourselves, added Mayor Haggart.

The vote on the liquor question was held last April. The first public hearing of applicants for licenses will be held November 22 and there will be no further hearings for at least six months.
