The YCHA will hold an open meeting for all its members at the auditorium in the Christian education building of Richmond Hill United Church November 8, at 8 p.m. Dr. Hagar Hetherington and Mrs. J. C. MacMicking will speak. Films on auxiliary work will also be shown.

On Thursday and Friday of last week 15 local women joined a group of 42 from the federal riding of York North for a bus trip to Ottawa and the House of Commons.

Liberal M.P. John Addison entertained the women at luncheon in the parliamentary dining room and tea was served at the national Liberal headquarters.

The Cuban crisis was at its height and the Prime Minister announced Canada's stand with the United States and was supported by Mr. Pearson and Robert Thompson during the afternoon session in the house. In the evening Mr. Addison made his maiden speech.

Buttonville women attending were Mrs. F. W. Baker, Mrs. E. Fuller, Mrs. D. Hood, Mrs. A. Stephenson, Mrs. G. Kelly, Mrs. Russell Boyington, Mrs. Powell, Mrs. J. Rodick, Miss M. Rodick, Mrs. J. Donaldson, Mrs. E. Hill, Mrs. H. Stiver, Mrs. W. Champion, Mrs. E. Walton and Mrs. F. Leaf. The women were guests at the Lord Elgin Hotel.

Tuesday of last week several local women attended the "B" Fairs convention at Collingwood: Mrs. George Kelly (in charge of the W.I. exhibits at Markham Fair), Mrs. R. Boyington, Mrs. E. Hill, Mrs. J. Rodick, Mrs. J. Donaldson.

Mr. and Mrs. Peter Walker were happy to welcome a new grandchild last week, born to Gordon and Marian Prentice. Doreen Oliver celebrated a birthday October 23.

A son was born to Charles and Evelyn (nee Thorneycroft) Turner last Thursday at the Women's College Hospital. Everyone is doing nicely.

Among the guests at the wedding Saturday of last week, when Dorothy Frazer and Bill Embleton were married at Holy Trinity Anglican Church, Thornhill, were Mr. and Mrs. Joe Robinson, Mr. and Mrs. Joe Lanthier, Mr. and Mrs. Milton Sherman, Mrs. Jean Cook and Mr. and Mrs. Douglas Sherman.

The bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Guy Frazer, received the guests at Cedarbrae Golf and Country Club following the ceremony.

Last week, amid all the talk of nuclear war, the weather cooled things off somewhat with the first heavy snow storm of the season. Road conditions were the cause of several small accidents — but nothing serious according to township police.

Paul, Andrew and Martha Mingay were overnight guests of their Miller grandparents last Friday night when their parents attended the United Nations Ball at the Arcadian Court, Toronto.

Mr. and Mrs. Joe Robinson attended anniversary services at Mrs. Robinson's home church near Brampton last Sunday, and were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Harry MacMurech for the day.

Mr. and Mrs. A. Stephenson and Mr. and Mrs. D. Hood were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Collard at Victoria Square for the Victoria Square anniversary services.

Buttonville YCHA Saturday morning of last week Mrs. Joe Robinson entertained Buttonville YCHA members at her home. Mrs. F. Jackson, hospital board member, was the guest speaker.

The hospital campaign, which takes place in mid-November, is uppermost in the minds of auxiliary members at present. Mrs. Jackson dealt with questions of interest.

Canvassers for the campaign are being lined up, and several Buttonville members had more than the number required of them already signed.

"It is important to get people to take a fair look at what the hospital will do for them, and what they can do for the hospital." The York Central Hospital, which is presently under construction on Vaughan Road at Richmond Hill, will be paid for in part by municipal, provincial and federal grants, but equipment will be purchased with campaign funds. There is no benefit in a good maternity wing if there are no beds," Mrs. Jackson said.

Service clubs and organizations throughout the area have already made donations, and large sums have been contributed from many sources, but the bulk of the campaign funds will be gifts from the average citizen, she said.

Training sessions for canvassers will be held in different areas.

During the meeting, Mrs. John Brown and Mrs. Russell Boyington modelled a candy-stripe pinafore and a pink smock, costumes to be worn by junior and senior auxiliary workers in the hospital.

Anniversary Services Brown's Corners United Church choir with Mrs. Donald Reesor, organist, and Mrs. English, leader, provided music at the morning service when Victoria Square celebrated anniversary services last Sunday.

Many of the Brown's Corners congregation attended both services to hear Rev. Douglas Davis and Rev. Ray Hord, guest speakers. In the evening Mrs. George Hooper, a member of the York Chorales, sang a solo.

In Oratorical Contest Barbara Harrison and Neil Armstrong represented Buttonville School when the TSA No. 3 Oratorical Contest was held at S. S. No. 4 school Wednesday last week.

Neither Barbara or Neil was chosen to represent the area in the township contest which was held Monday evening of this week in the municipal offices at Buttonville. The honor went to Keith Burton — but all the contestants were given a pen, courtesy of the Victoria Square and District Lions Club, and the winners won a pen and pencil set.

Open House at School Wednesday of last week was "open house" at Buttonville School with the teachers and parents' club members as hosts.

According to Principal Howard Atkinson, approximately 75 per cent of the parents were present. They were free to explore and ask questions on all matters pertaining to their children's work and the school.

Both Hospitals Making Progress

Work on York Central and York County Hospitals is progressing well, a report last week from the York County Hospital Commission to York County Council indicated.

At York Central, interior footings for the walls of the boiler house and main building are complete. Structural steel for the boiler house is complete. Work on the frameworks of the basement and first floors of the York County Hospital Extension at Newmarket is complete. Work is now proceeding on the second floor.

Have Evidence, Say Police Fail To Nab Vandals

Richmond Hill Public School Board has accused the local police force of failing to follow through with prosecutions on vandalism when they had all the necessary evidence.

The accusation was part of a resolution passed by the board asking at a meeting last Thursday night to be placed before council on the November 5 agenda.

A two-year summary of the costs of vandalism would be submitted to council, both by the public and separate school board. All board members have been asked to attend the meeting.

Accounts submitted to council by Finance Chairman W. H. Hutchinson indicated that replacement cost of glass broken by vandals during the summer totalled $1,384.98.

Beverly Acres School received some $825.63 of this damage and Walter Scott $199.

One trustee commented that vandalism of this type is as much a reflection on parents, as on the vandals themselves.

Board Chairman Harold Sanderson stated that this summer's bill for broken glass was the largest ever.

Mrs. G. Frazer, Bayview Ave., entertained about 50 guests at a trousseau tea October 20 in honor of her daughter Dorothy, whose marriage to William Embleton takes place October 26 at Holy Trinity Anglican Church.

Pouring tea for the guests were Mrs. Fred Stone, the bride's grandmother from Vancouver, and the bride's sister, Mrs. Marion Chapman.

Attending the guests and also in the rooms displaying the gifts were bridesmaids, Miss Joanne Stephenson, Miss Eve Lie, Durban, South Africa, Miss Beverly Frazer and Miss Phyllis Frazer.

Prior to the tea the bride was guest of honor at several showers, including one given by Mrs. Joe Robinson and one by the bride's bridge club. Mr. and Mrs. N. Hicks visited Mr. and Mrs. Frank Graham, Walliston Lake recently.

Annual Fall Fair Thornlea School is busy as beavers preparing for the annual fall fair.

Mr. Evans and his staff, Mr. Curtis, the custodian, and also the pupils have feverishly been trying to sell all their tickets. Let us make the walls of the school bulge next Saturday from 1.30 to 4 p.m.

Mail Delivery I see "The Liberal" has a notice in this week asking all subscribers who receive their papers by mail to inform them of their new postal address. With the prospect of house delivery one realizes we will lose the services of a man who has been more than just the mailman during these past few years, since Langstaff post office was closed.

The man who contracted to be the courier for Langstaff and the Scott Subdivision and all the S.S. areas has been a good friend to us all.

Instead of making us take a trip to the Richmond Hill P.O. for parcels he would leave ours at the sub post office so we could easily pick it up.

We sincerely hope a corner can be found for this sincere and hard-working man in the future postal services of Langstaff and area.

Langstaff Young Women's Institute will hold their November meeting at the home of Mrs. Peggy Morris.

Roll call is "name your favourite pet". The program with Mrs. Morris as convener will be "finding out about dogs". Mrs. Audrey Kupchanko and Mrs. Margaret Blow will be in charge of refreshments.

End Expenses Study Group Overseas Tour

County Council last week imposed charges that the study group was spending too much in sending four delegates on a European study tour.

12 Town Delegates Hear World Head Of Y.W.C.A.

The World President of the Young Women's Christian Association, the Hon. Isabel Catto, addressed an overflow crowd of more than 300 men and women who attended the annual dinner of the Canadian YWCA at the Four Seasons Hotel October 18.

Among them were twelve delegates from Richmond Hill, Mrs. Drummond Fraser, Chairman of the local YWCA, Mrs. H. Eadean, Mrs. L. D. Clement, Mrs. Jas. Downey and Mrs. S. Redburn of Walter Scott Y.W., Mrs. L. G. Hobbs and Mrs. T. Wilson of East Elmwood Y.W., Mrs. L. Smoke of the Beverley Acres Y.W., Mrs. J. Arnold Price of the National Extension Committee of the YWCA of Canada, Mrs. Jas. Critchley, chairman of the Craft Instruction group and Mrs. Fred C. Jackson.

The beautiful costumes of members of the YWCA from India, Ceylon, Japan and other parts of the world were colorful reminders that the Y fellowship is world-wide and Miss Catto's address vividly portrayed the needs and the concerns and the progress in this association of women and girls around the world. Hearts were stirred by her first-hand account of the extreme hunger and hardship under which so many of the world's teeming millions live.

Her words will give fresh impetus in support of the Freedom from Hunger Campaign and those special nutrition projects being sponsored by the YWCA in India and South America and elsewhere.

Hon. Isabel Catto, O.B.E., of London, England, is a former president of the London Division of the British YWCA and is the daughter of the late Lord Catto, House of Schivas, Aberdeenshire, Scotland, one-time governor of the Bank of England. She has had a varied and interesting career in the field of social welfare work, a career which has brought her international recognition and many honours. Chief among these have been her election to top posts in the British and World Associations and decorations by Queen Elizabeth of England, who in 1952 awarded her the Order of the British Empire in recognition of outstanding work with YWCA war services. Since 1955 Miss Catto has been president of world YWCA.

This dinner was a highlight of the 69th annual meeting of the YWCA of Canada, which held sessions all last week at the Woodlawn Residence of the YWCA in Toronto and the National Headquarters at 571 Jarvis Street.

Mrs. Drummond Fraser and Mrs. Fred Jackson were in attendance and were happy to hear numerous favourable references to the Richmond Hill YWCA program which is developing so well among women and hopes to extend to girls before very long.

The next Canadian YWCA convention will be in Saskatchewan in 1965 and an invitation has been extended to the World YWCA to meet in Canada in 1967, our centennial year. This will be considered at the World Council Meeting of the YWCA in Denmark next year when the theme will be "Our Christian Responsibility for Reconciliation — among individuals, among churches, among nations." Meanwhile this will be the theme for study with local Y groups throughout the world.

Trustees from Township School Area No. 3 held an emergency meeting Friday of last week to consider measures to be taken at schools in case of a nuclear attack.

As of Monday each school was provided with a transistor radio, two flashlights, a supply of wooden matches and candles and emergency rations for 48 hours.

In case of attack, unless there is two hours notice, teachers are instructed to keep children at school and stay with them.
