

HOSPITAL DRIVE — The County of York United Hospitals campaign is now moving rapidly towards its goal of over $1 million from the people of the county. Last week saw the county's service clubs meeting at Summit Golf and Country Club to discuss their part in the project. Speaking to them is Douglas H. Storms, vice-chairman of the campaign and chairman of York Central Hospital, Richmond Hill. Seated, left to right, are Chas. Boyd, Newmarket, chairman of service clubs; Ray Marshall, general chairman; W. A. Spear, campaign treasurer and chairman of York County Hospital, Newmarket, and Dr. Crawford Rose, Aurora, doctors' chairman.

Bazaar day at Brown's Corners United Church is November 10 from 2 to 5 p.m. in the Christian Education Room. Handmade articles, homebaking and white elephants will be available. Tea will be served by Unit 1 UCW. "The Happy-timers" and the Explorer group will have their own booth.

On Tuesday of last week Mrs. Wm. Rodick, Mrs. Harold Steffler, Miss M. Rodick and Mrs. Norman Reid, attended the fall rally of York Presbyterial. Mrs. Rodick is active in Presbyterian programming this year.

Ray and Mary Grant are proud parents of a baby girl born October 31 at the Scarborough General Hospital. Heather Anne is a sister for Randy and Gary.

Mr. and Mrs. Peter Walker's new grandchild for which we gave credit to Gordon and Marian Pretice, is the son of Alan and Betty Walker of Richmond Hill.

Quilters around this neighborhood finished a quilt at Mrs. Russell Boyington's home Tuesday of last week, and two others for the Brown's Corners Church hall were completed at Mrs. John Donaldson's later in the week.

Dick Jones is a member of a hunting party at Elmer Hill's Haliburton cottage this week.

The Gerber family are the new owners of the E. H. Crisp property on Don Mills Road. Mr. and Mrs. Crisp moved to their new home in Scarborough last Friday.

Neighborhood Notes
Wayfarers on Don Mills Road are happy the CNR over-pass bridge is completed and the merry-go-round detour is no more. Residents who live within earshot of this point must be rejoicing too. Apparently unwary motorists went through those detour signs pretty regularly, with ear-shattering results.

The glow in the western sky early Monday morning was from a barn on the Jall Farm property at Langstaff which burned down. According to Markham Township Police it was rented by Massey-Ferguson and contained baled hay. It is believed the fire smoldered for some time before it was discovered.

Sixteen tables of players attended the second game of the present euchre party at Buttonville Hall last Friday evening. Winners were Charles Attridge, Alf Trimble, Garnet Weidmark, Mrs. Ernest Denby, Miss E. Trimble and Mrs. Bea Thomson.

Tom Wilcox won the lucky draw prize, a bushel of apples. Freezout winners were Mrs. Robert Trimble and A. Trimble, against Mrs. Jean Trimble and Dr. George Kelly.

Hostesses were Mrs. Fred Porter, Mrs. Henry Harper, Mrs. George Kelly and Mrs. Russell Boyington. Games will be played November 16, and November 30.

On December 14 the party will be in aid of the Canadian Cancer Society.

Twenty-two tables of players attended the Junior Farmers euchre party at Buttonville Hall recently. Proceeds were for York Central Hospital.

Mr. and Mrs. Joe Robinson and Mr. and Mrs. H. N. Weatherall of Stouffville, and Mr. and Mrs. Joe Symonds of Uxbridge, were dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Miller last Saturday.

This week, activities at the Unionville Curling Club get into full swing with a luncheon on Tuesday. Tag Curling begins Thursday.

Early Sunday morning Stouffville firemen were called to a fire of unknown origin when a barn burned on the property of Dr. Williams on Con. 7 near 19th Avenue. The loss was not serious.

Smogasbord for 450
Brown's Corners Church smogasbord is becoming a tradition and on Tuesday evening of last week approximately 450 hungry people of the community flocked to avail themselves of the delicacies provided.

Catering group No. 1 of UCW was in charge again under the direction of Miss Adele Caruthers.

Mrs. Donald Reesor, Mrs. S. J. English and Miss Joy Fuller, provided organ music in the church auditorium for those waiting to be served. Mrs. A. W. Miller and Mrs. H. Steffler greeted guests. The men of the church handled tickets.

Henderson Avenue Public School held its graduation party at the school auditorium last Friday with 33 of the successful students enjoying the festivities.

Winner of the Doncaster Community Ladies Club award was Wayne Brown of Highland Park.

Susan Le Page of Henderson Avenue School, was the only local winner in the Markham Township public speaking championships. She placed second.

Terri Richardson of 53 Clarke Ave., celebrated her fifth birthday November 6.

The Sunday night hockey double headers at Bradford are on again. The Doncaster entry is now under the name of the Golden Hawks and some new faces have been added to the line-up. Back with the team are Ray Miller, Mike and Pete Mackey, Joe Greenham, Richard coach, Tom Byberg and Richard Barbour. New members are Doug Cooper, Howard Curtis, Mike and Terry Gaim, Tony Martin and George Elms.

In the team's first game they defeated the Rangers 7-0 October 28, and the following week topped the Habs 6 to 4.

In the other contests the Habs won out over a stubborn Willowdale team 4-3 on October 28. In the first game November 4, Rangers trounced the Willowdale lads 5 to 2.

In this week's action the Golden Hawks have another go at the Rangers and the Willowdale lads meet the Thornhill Habs at 8 o'clock.

Auxiliary Holds Meeting Tonight At Hill United

An open meeting of wide interest in the community will be held November 8, at 8 p.m., when the York Central Hospital Auxiliary meets in the auditorium of the Christian Education Building, Richmond Hill United Church.

There will be two guest speakers. Dr. Hagar Hetherington, Kleinburg, chairman of the medical advisory committee to the York County Hospital Boards, and Mrs. J. C. Macard Micking, Markham, director of regions for the Ontario Hospital Auxiliaries' Association.

Films on hospital auxiliary work will be shown.

In mid-November the fundraising campaign to provide furniture and equipment for York County Hospitals will be undertaken. The services of many canvassers have been pledged for this drive and it will be the privilege of everyone in York County to have a share in the project.

Aurora United Church Scene Of Fall Nuptials

In a candlelight ceremony held in Aurora United Church recently, Rev. T. E. Hancock heard the marriage vows of Nancy Mary Alda, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Besley, and Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Brown of Buttonville.

Miss Gail Patrick sang "O F-her, All Creating" and during the signing of the register she sang "Wedding Hymn" by Handel. Illyt Harris was the organist.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a white silk taffeta gown with fitted bodice, lily point sleeves and full toe-tip length skirt.

Delicate lace appliques and seed pearls bordered the deep-lily scooped neckline and the front panel of the skirt. Her double tier veil of tulle illusion fell from a coronet of pearls. The bride's bouquet was white carnations and stephanotis.

Miss Dorothy Besley, the bride's sister, was maid of honor. Bridesmaids were Mrs. James Harvey, James Wolfe, the groom's sister, and Miss Susan Besley, sister of the bride.

Their identical gowns of sapphire blue brocade were made by the bride and had scoop necklines, elbow length sleeves and bell skirts. They wore matching blue headresses and shoes, and carried bouquets of deep pink gladioli and white chrysanthemums.

William Sim, Sarnia, was best man. Ushers were Terry Besley, brother of the bride, and James Wolfe, Unionville.

Following the ceremony a reception was held at County Acres.
