Newmarket has acquired a major new industry, the first plant in Canada. Erection of the plant on the southeast corner of Davis Drive and Alexander Street is slated to begin in the near future.
Mayor W. A. Kent made the announcement at a recent council meeting. Argus Camera of Canada is a subsidiary of a well-known Chicago-based firm. No figures have been released yet on the cost of the plant, but 30 people will be employed at the start, gradually increasing to peak of 300, officials say.
Most employees of the firm will be in the category of highly skilled technical and office personnel.

Hillary Redman

A highly respected and popular citizen, Mr. Hillary Redman, passed away at his home, Brookside Road, on October 31, in his 64th year.

Born on a farm at Claremont, Hillary Redman was engaged in agricultural work all his life. During his sixteen years of living in the Richmond Hill area, he was a familiar figure - seated high on his tractor - driving through the streets with plowing equipment.

Indeed, many local gardens flourish and bear silent tribute to the skilled plowing and harrowing in the spring and fall by Hillary Redman.

He is survived by his wife, the former Kathleen Adams and by three brothers, Cecil, Clarence and Bert, also by two sisters, Mrs. Eva Towner of Claremont, and Mrs. Ida Larkin of Toronto.

Hillary Redman was a member of Richmond Hill Baptist Church. Services were conducted by Pastor G. Forbes, at the Wright & Taylor Chapel of the Pipher Funeral Home, with interment in Claremont Cemetery. The pallbearers were all Claremont schoolmates of the late Hillary Redman.

Will Resurface Bayview Avenue Before Winter

Attempts to improve Bayview Avenue have run into bad weather and work completed prior to the recent snow will have to be done over, Works Committee Chairman F. R. Perkins has informed council.
Scarifying of the road and an application of prime sane seal will be done over again before winter.
It is hoped the county will assume responsibility for the road next May 1 and turn it over to the Toronto and York Roads Commission.
The commission has indicated it will take over maintenance of the heavily-travelled thoroughfare subject to enough funds being provided by the county in its 1963 budget for its upkeep.
During the past year council has been plagued by complaints from merchants and residents living adjacent to Bayview on account of its condition.
Mr. Perkins said the works committee was doing all it could to keep the road in a passable condition.
