SPORT SPOTS

Plans for the much talked about change house and dressing rooms in the Richmond Hill Town Park have at last been approved by town council. All that remains to be done is the calling for tender and the awarding of the contract for this much needed facility to become reality.

Seldom, if ever before, has the need for adequate accommodation been as apparent as it was on Saturday, November tenth this year. The East York football team were locked in mortal combat with the Richmond Hill Indians. Weather conditions were atrocious with 40 m.p.h. winds and cold driving rain. Mud and cold water covered the entire playing area but football is one game that is not postponed due to weather conditions.

By the end of the game players were mud covered, wet and thoroughly miserable. Hands were numbed and swollen and feet were blocks of swollen ice. Many players had difficulty in removing their foot gear. If they could have had the solace of a warm room and a warm shower to remove, the effects of the bone chilling cold it might have been bearable. As it was the only quarters made available to them are located in the remains of the old curling rink behind the scout hall.

No heat, dirt floors, draughty walls and a leaky roof don't make for too much creature comfort. In fact it's downright miserable. The final game of the football season is scheduled for Saturday, November 24th and although the weather may be dryer it certainly will not be any warmer. To obviate another fiasco such as occurred on November 10, Mr. Bill Ruttle, chairman of the Richmond Hill Recreation Committee, is trying to arrange dressing room facilities for the participating teams in Richmond Hill Arena. Failing this the Indian team management will have no alternative but to move the final championship game away from Richmond Hill. We hope that this is not allowed to happen.

A great many people have fought long and hard to bring the change house and washroom facilities to the park. They are satisfied that the end is finally in sight but will be happier still when the final brick is in place and the last dab of paint has been daubed on. It will add immeasurably to the usefulness of the area and to those people responsible for bringing it to a near conclusion, we can only say a heartfelt thank you!

SPORTS SPOTS

At a recent meeting of the Recreation Committee of the Town of Richmond Hill it was decided to officially recognize outstanding athletic performance with an Award of Merit. These awards will be crests bearing the town crest and motto and will be presented to teams and to individuals who bring credit to themselves and to the Town of Richmond Hill in the field of athletic endeavour.

The business of tokens and awards becomes meaningless if given indiscriminately. It is the intent of the recreation committee to weigh the merits of each case and to make the awards to teams and to individuals deemed worthy. In this way the credit will have a real meaning. These crests will also serve as an official recognition of an athlete or group of athletes, recognition that has not always been forthcoming. Actual intrinsic value of the crest will be slight from a dollar and cents point of view but rigid control will ensure that it will remain a prestige award and have some real meaning.

SPORTS SPOTS

If there's one thing that's really appreciated in the world of amateur sport it's a "good" sponsor. This is the type of sponsor who likes to know where the dollars are spent but doesn't hesitate to spend to get the best equipment for his team. He sometimes comes up with a real surprise for his team at the end of their season of sport.

Players who performed under the Dynes Jeweller softball banner this past season got one of those post season "surprises" recently. Vern Dynes qualifies on (Continued on page 10)

Indians Win 20-7

Richmond Hill's football Indians defeated Northwestern Ghosts by a 20-7 score at Keesdale Park last Saturday. This was the opening game of a two game total point series for the Metro Rugby Football League Championship. As a result of the win the Indians have a 13 point bulge going into the final game at Richmond Hill next Saturday afternoon.

Coach Del Madeley and his football team have amazed everyone this year with their fine performances. They proved in the early part of November that mud, snow and rain were no barrier to victory. Last Saturday they also proved that a dry field is also very much to their liking. Game time of the final game is 2:00 p.m. at the town park. This looks like the Indians' big year for a football title although the powerful Northwestern team will be battling until the final whistle. The game should produce some of the most torrid action of an already interesting football season. If you really enjoy football this is a must game for a real football filbert.
