and for the past five years has served as reeve of the township.
Mr. Hooper has served on the executive of many organizations including the York County Federation of Agriculture, Toronto Milk Producers Association, York County Medical Services, Lindsay Farmers Mutual Insurance Company, the Toronto and York Planning Board. He is a past director of the Canadian National Exhibition and is serving on the York Central Hospital Board.
Mr. Hooper told 'The Liberal' that he has been interested in the riding of York North, its affairs and its people for 30 years. He believes that had the Conservatives been afforded the opportunity of processing intended legislation during the last session of parliament, legislation that was impeded and obstructed by opposition parties, that the country would have benefitted to no small degree.

Protests 25 Acre Lot Limit In Vaughan Twp.

there is no reason for any council to say anything different."
Mr. Bryson pointed out however that there was much rolling, wooded land in the township unsuited to farming which would lend itself to "estate" type homes. It had been impossible to map all these areas and the township had decided to consider each parcel separately. Such areas could be re-zoned with approval of planning board and council.
Mr. Bryson suggested that some method of handling this situation so that reactors in the area are kept informed should be discussed with the planning board. "You can get approval for the break-up of wooded land, into as little as two acres," he assured Mr. Silts, and stated that the matter would be discussed at Tuesday night's meeting of the planning board.
Council also heard an un-scheduled delegation of four members of the Maple Business Men's Association. They were concerned that under existing by-laws the Connor Transport site on Keele Street which was destroyed by fire could not be re-built. "You are looking for commercial and industrial assessment and you are turning it out of the township," protested Mr. John Neufeld.
"He is in an agricultural zone," stated Deputy-Reeve Bryson. "If he wishes to change it, he can make application to have it re-zoned. He may get it and he may not."
When members of the delegation felt that this didn't make sense Councillor McConkey explained that as Mr. Connor's establishment had been in existence prior to the passing of the zoning by-law, he had been allowed to continue a commercial business as a "legal non-conforming use". However, the by-law contains the provision that where such a property is more than 50 per cent destroyed by fire, etc., it may not be re-built without an application for re-zoning. Before such an application was granted, all the adjoining property-owners would be polled and a hearing would be held.
Councillor McConkey expressed the opinion that Mr. Connor had not acted in good faith with the township and his neighbours previously when he was fined under the township's anti-noise by-law and his lawyer had stated that it was his intention to break this by-law.
Earlier in the evening, council had heard two property owners adjacent to the Connor property who were seeking assurance that the property would be cleaned up shortly as it was a menace to children's lives. Not only are there dangerous fallen beams, but the grease pit in the garage is full of oil and water which could easily drown a small child. Council agreed to place the matter on the agenda for their Wednesday committee meeting as it was felt the ground should be now be sufficiently thawed out to permit it to be bulldozed over.

THISTLEDOWN: There is a move on foot to erect government sponsored homes for low rental in the area south from Albion Road between Highway 27 and Kipling Ave. to be completed by 1967. Builders complain that this will be detrimental to the community and will create a slum area.
