Walter Scott Choir Presents Concert

The Walter Scott Public School choir added further laurels to its name when its members journeyed to the O'Keefe Centre last Saturday morning having been invited by Dr. William McCauley to sing at his young people's concert which he arranges each month. This choir under John M. Peace and with Mrs. Tom Jeans as accompanist, daily give up part of their lunch hour in order to have their practice sessions. The end result is a prize-winning choir polished to a high degree of excellence. Unfortunately the members move on to high school and their term as senior choir members lasts only two to three years. To keep the ranks filled new trainees must be added from the grade six as soon as the Kiwanis Festival is over each year. The program opened with the orchestra under Dr. McCauley. He played his own composition "Quebec Lumber Camp" based on French Canadian folk songs. The Lawrence Park Collegiate choir conducted by Dawson Woodburn sang "Rise up, My Love, My Fair One" by Dr. Healey Willan. "He's Gone Away" arranged by Ron Nelson and "O Dear, what can the Matter Be?" by Maurice Gardiner. The three choirs joined in the grand finale the "Russian Easter Carol of the Trees" arranged by Harvey Gaul. In the Globe and Mail on (Continued On Page 3)

The three federal ridings serving York County will be represented in the 26th Parliament, which is expected to be called into session next month, by Liberals. The Liberals Monday swept the three ridings of York North, York-Scarboro and York Centre. The march back to the Liberal columns started last June when York North and York Centre both deserted the Conservatives. York-Scarboro returned to the Liberals Monday as Maurice Moreau sent Diefenbaker cabinet minister Frank McGee down to a decisive defeat. A loyal Diefenbaker supporter Mr. McGee had been appointed to the cabinet midway through the campaign.

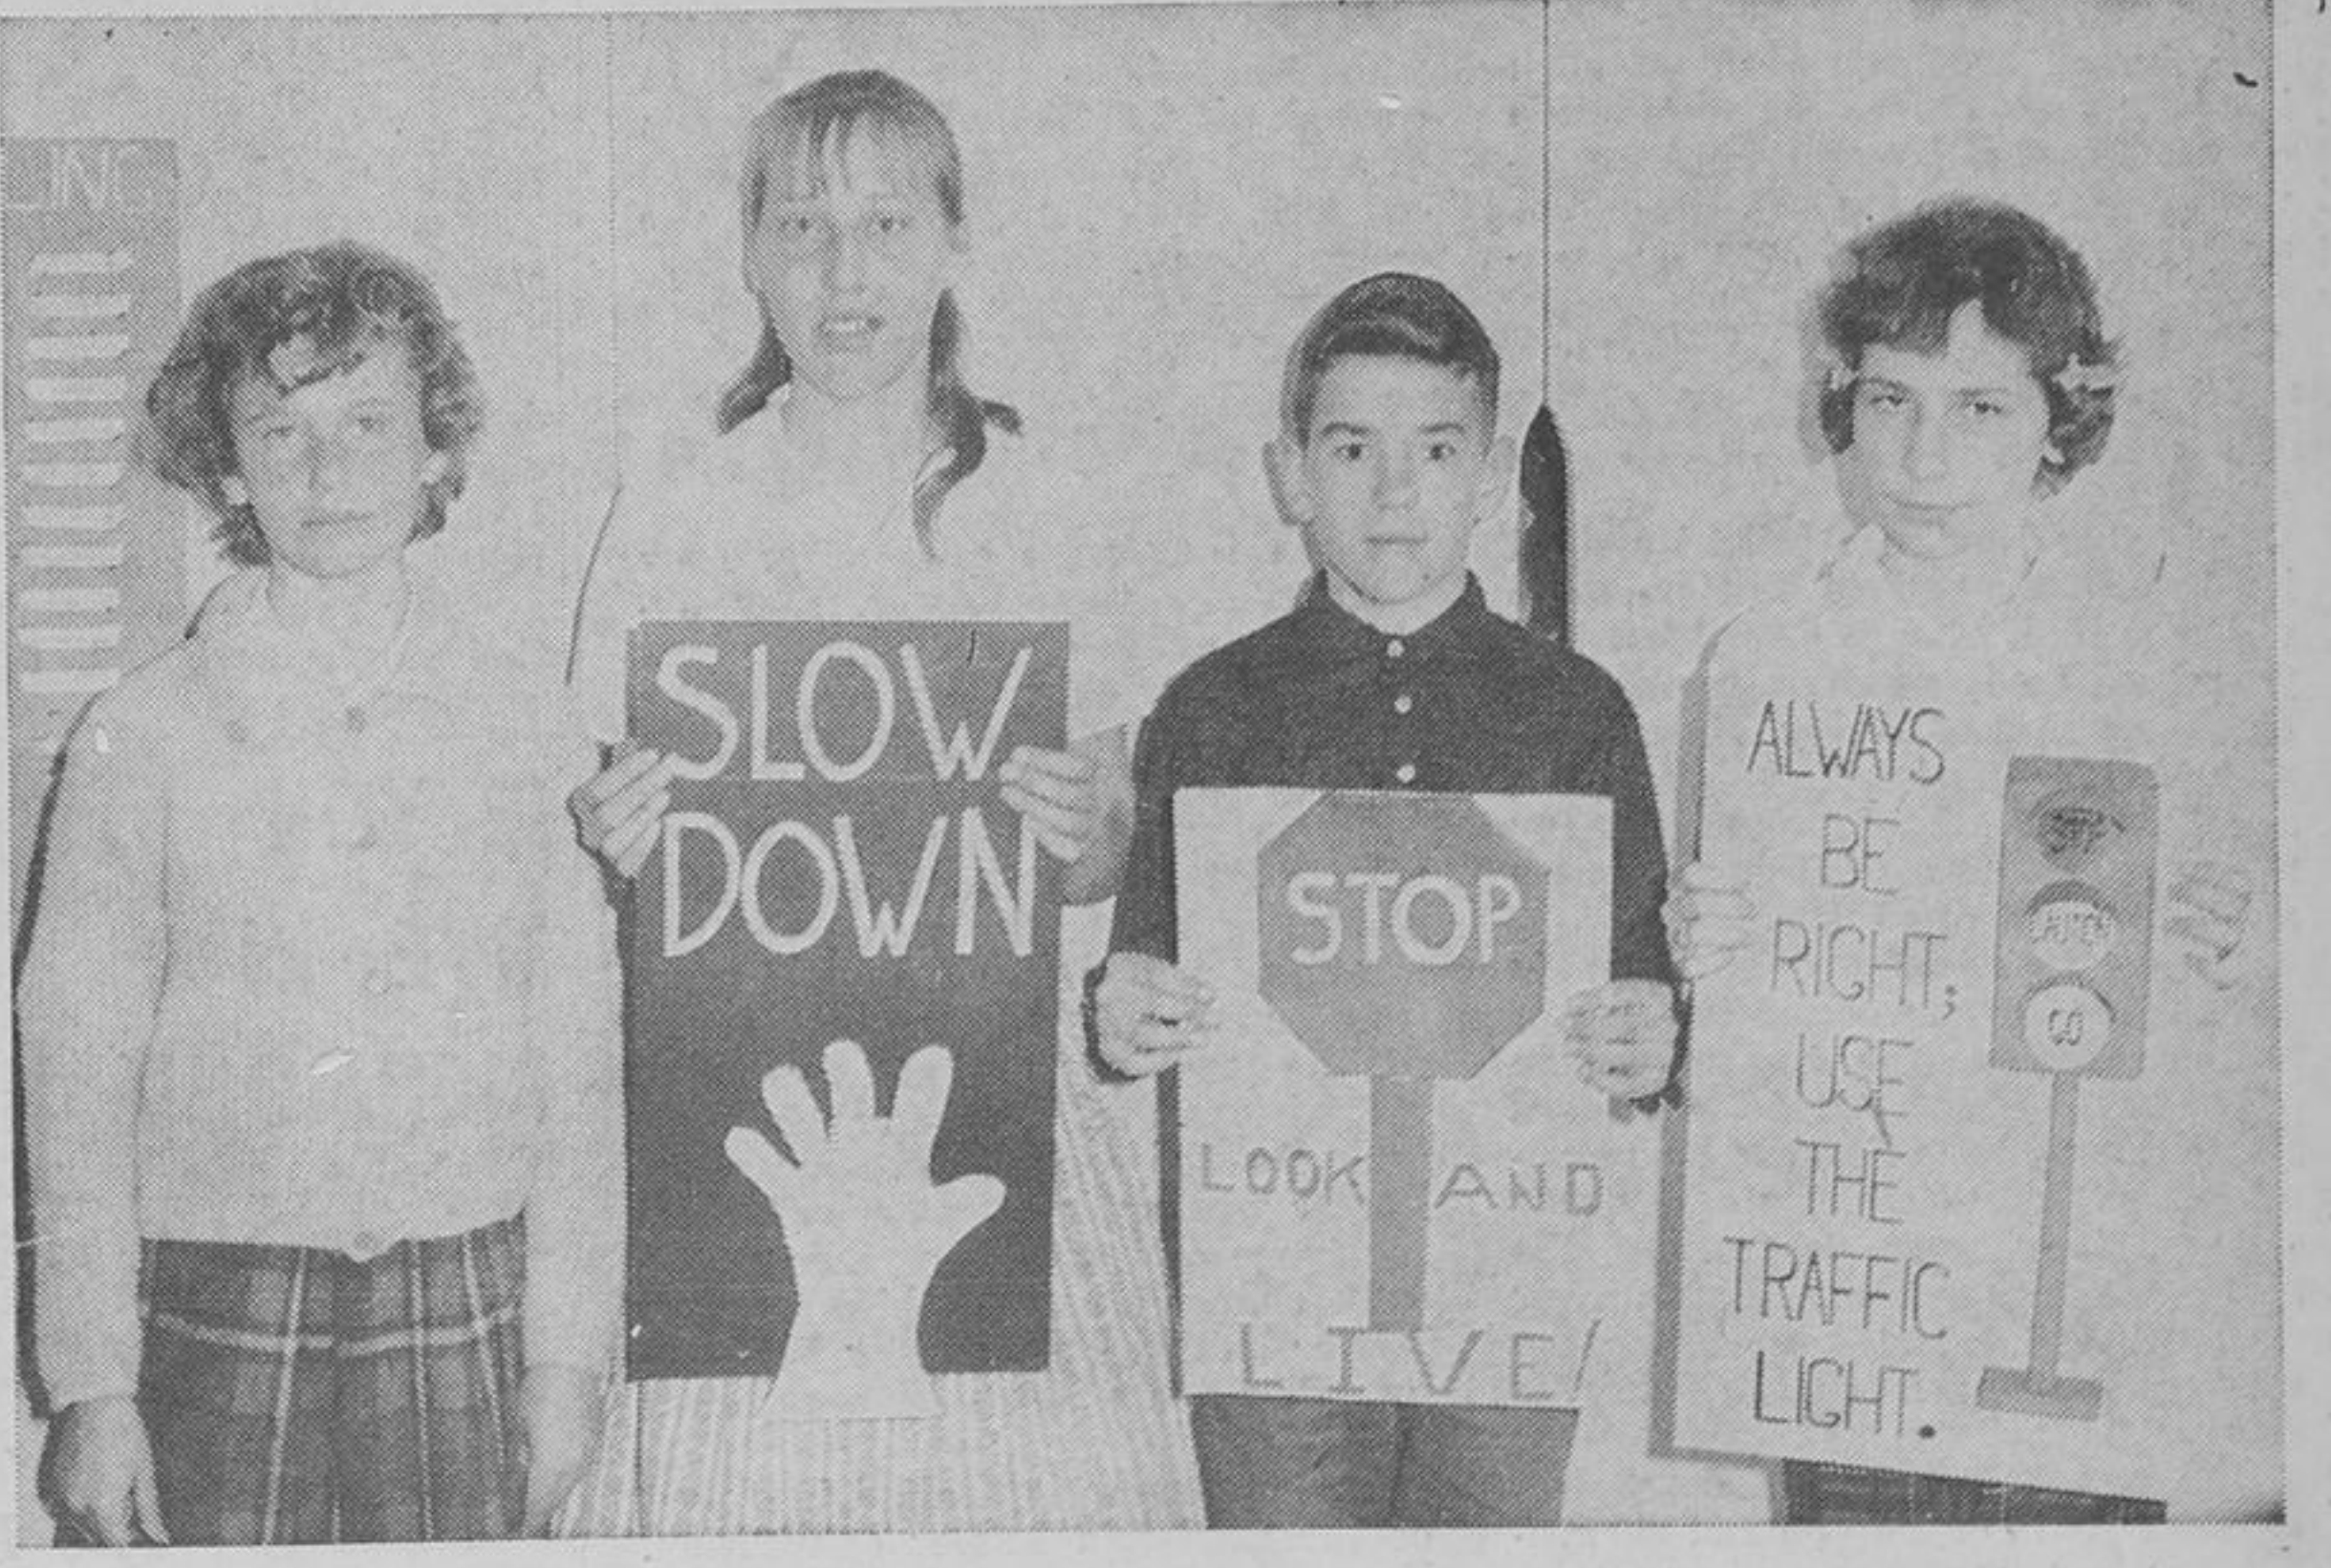

In populous York-Scarboro, Aurora, Whitechurch and Markham Village all voted Conservative last June but swung over to the Liberal columns this time. Mr. Addison's election was never in doubt as he led his three opponents from the very first returns. The Tory campaign had been torn by dissension from the start. For the early part of the campaign there were two Conservative candidates, Independent Tory Dick Blue, a resident of Whitechurch Township, dropped out on March 13th. A life-long resident of Markham Township and its present deputy-reve Mr. Hooper was the official Conservative candidate with full backing from the riding executive and Prime Minister Diefenbaker. This election marked the third defeat for N.D.P. candidate Stan Hall of East Gwillimbury Heights a suburb of

In York North Liberal John Addison swept to a convincing win defeating his nearest opponent Conservative Charles Hooper by 7,009 votes. Mr. Addison's majority last June over Conservative C. A. Cathers was 842. In Monday's voting victor John Addison garnered a total of 21,397 votes to be followed by Mr. Hooper with 14,388 votes. N.D.P. candidate Stanley Hall came third with 8,533, while Soered John O'Brien was a poor fourth with 316. The N.D.P. vote was up slightly from last June while the Social Credit vote was down. Both Messrs. Hall and O'Brien will lose their $200,000 deposits. To save his deposit a candidate must secure at least half of the number of votes of the winning candidate. A resident of King Township and a businessman Mr. Addison carried every municipality in the riding. The municipalities of Sutton, Georgina, Stouffville, Aurora, East Gwillimbury, E. Gwillimbury Hts., North Gwillimbury, King Township, Markham Township, Markham Village, Newmarket, Richmond Hill, Stouffville, Sutton, Vaughan Township, Whitechurch Twmp.

York North voters turned out in force for Monday's federal election. A grand total of 80.05% of the eligible voters exercised their franchise. A total of 44,634 ballots were cast out of a final enumeration of 56,148. There were a total of 56,148 eligible voters in York North and 226 polls plus 10 advance polls. The voting turnout was heavy in the three big southern municipalities of Richmond (Continued On Page 3)
