Rambling Around

Municipal Board. Also responsible for the industrial programs of the municipality.

Ron Forrest recently made a holiday trip back to England. He was impressed by the amount of snow and the unusually cold weather. However he did have something to say about English planning.

"The American influence is being felt over there," said Mr. Forrest, "much more than when I was there eleven years ago. The housing standards are improving but so far there is very little central heating, although if there are any more winters like the last one, it may be considered. As far as the planning is concerned, the set-up is different in England than in Canada. There is no planning board. Planning is administered by councils under the jurisdiction of the central government. Even though the planning process is more mature, the fact that they have so much discretionary power worries me. They have no rate-payers association as we have in Canada. Here, to a large extent, people have more to say in the planning of an area than they do in England. This seems to be a more democratic process to me."

Mr. Forrest also mentioned that the traffic situation is beginning to be a more serious problem in England than it is here. This, in his opinion, was due to the fact that in Canada, there is more first hand knowledge about traffic problems. One of the highlights of his trip to England was a visit to historical Bambergh Castle off the northern coast of Northumberland. There he observed some very modern apartments being built inside the castle. This castle is built on a rock and overlooks the sea. "I wouldn't mind living there," said Mr. Forrest. (Bambergh Castle was founded in 547, by Ida, chief of the Angles. This castle was often mentioned in medieval wars. Ida reigned in Northumbria in 547 until his death in 559.)

Dear Mr. Editor

Under the Liquor License Act, Pop's would be classed as a "Tavern", and the same applies, because "Hotel" means any hotel, tavern, inn or public house, according to by-law 1000. Pop's must have known this; why did he not make enquiries about parking before he was granted the license? The law may seem foolish to some people, but that is no excuse for disregarding it. To change the subject somewhat, I would like to make a remark concerning the local bus service. I have no objection to it per se. However, I wonder what the town will have to pay, in addition to the subsidy, for the damage done to roads and corner sidewalks by these relatively heavy buses. It is not as though they are filled to capacity, and small buses, such as Mercedes Benz could be used.

Yours truly,
David C. F. Fayle

Churches Oppose Sale of Liquor

At a recent meeting of the Thornhill-Richmond Hill Ministerial Association it was decided to publicize the association's stand in regard to the liquor plebiscite to be held in Vaughan Township on May 11th. It was felt that more liquor outlets lead to more drinking and this increases impaired drivers and other moral problems. But more liquor outlets lead to more extravagance and money spent on luxury cannot be spent on essentials. It cannot be spent on taxes for schools. It is not available for our most coveted charities whether the appeal is made at Christmas or Easter. More money spent on luxury means less money with which to help those who, because of illness or affliction, are less fortunate than ourselves. The effects of temperance are very far-reaching as viewed through the eyes of the minister's experience.
