CYC Drama Group Takes 3 Awards

Last Sunday evening, Richmond Hill's St. Mary's Immaculate Roman Catholic Youth Club carried off many honours in the one act play competition sponsored by the Toronto Archdiocesan Catholic Youth Organization. Among the seven entries St. Mary's production of the "mellodrammer", "Fireman, Save My Child" by Ned Albert, was judged best by the board of adjudicators. Thereby the coveted "Famous Players Award" was won by the local club. Three of the remaining five trophies were also won by members of the company. Honours went to John Gilmour and Lou Donnelly for the best direction. Best actor was Simon Waegemakers with his sister Jeanette being judged the best supporting actress. Honourable mention for the best supporting actress was given to Moira Stephenson. The club is to be congratulated for its very fine performance. The board of adjudicators, composed of Lou Davidson, Dorothy Moorcroft, and Mary Barton, in summarizing the presentations noted the purposeful entrances and exits of the St. Mary's players, along with their movement and blocking on stage. These refinements of course were due to the competent and expert direction of Lou Donnelly and John Gilmour. Again, the choice of costumes was praised; this was the work of another Curian Club member, Mrs. Cecily Thomson. Mrs. Mary Donnelly was in charge of make-up. To these four members of the Richmond Curian Club, the drama group is deeply indebted; hopes were expressed that in the future this help and assistance would continue as closer relations are brought about between the two groups. The cast of "Fireman, Save My Child" included: Mrs. Quingle, played by Lynda Leonard; Myrtle Jones, Moira Stephenson; Sally Crossbury, Jeannette Waegemakers; Archibald Quingle, Simon Waegemakers; Daisy Dorrance, Debbie McConkey; Chester Quingle, Gil Bellavance; Bing Barnes, Richard Englehart; Mary Lawson, Wilma McNaughton. Another very lively performer was "Little Ella" - played by "Paddy" the pet terrier of Moira Stephenson.
