Bayview Hangs Fire

An agreement under which the County of York would assume responsibility for the maintenance of Bayview Avenue from Markham Road to the Markham-Whitchurch Town Line, is, as of May 1st, still awaiting the approval of the Minister of Highways, Reeve Floyd Perkins informed "The Liberal", this week.

At the present time this much criticized one and a quarter mile stretch of road is the joint responsibility of Markham Township and Richmond Hill who last April failed in a bid to get the county to pave Bayview Avenue from Markham Road to Elgin Mills Side-road during 1963. The county's finance committee had set aside only $36,000 for the maintenance of Bayview Avenue as well as Bathurst Street in Vaughan Township, between Langstaff Sideroad and Maple Sideroad, the Egypt Sideroad in Georgina Township, and an extension of the Don Mills Road in Gwillimbury Township.

The estimated cost of paving the much disputed one and a quarter miles of Bayview Avenue is $224,000 of which amount the province would pay $112,000 with Metro and the county paying $56,000 each. In its present condition it cost Richmond Hill $15,000 for maintenance costs alone during 1962.

In view of the delay in ratifying the agreement that would place responsibility for the road in the hands of the county Reeve Perkins told "The Liberal" that it is likely that Richmond Hill would likely be willing to contribute on an equitable basis of sharing of maintenance costs with the county until such time as the agreement is signed. Even if the agreement were to be signed in the near future, Reeve Perkins said, it is unlikely that any immediate major improvements would be undertaken on the road this year by reason of the county's limited road budget for the current year.

University Women Enjoy Picnic

As part of the evening, members toured the barns of the famous Don Head Jersey herd.

Bylaw Criticized, Council Approves

A civil engineer Tuesday night leveled criticism at Vaughan Township's amended building permit bylaw.

Edward Fisher who said he was building an addition to a house in the west end of the township commented that there was quite a discrepancy in Vaughan's bylaw as compared to other townships.

Reeve A. H. Rutherford said, "I don't think we can make any allowances on this. I don't think you find any separate bylaws anywhere on slab-type construction."

He said the lower permit fees on industrial and commercial buildings were an attempt to attract that type of building. "Residents are not an asset but a liability," he said.

Councillor Ruth McConkey said, "We don't want a bylaw that leaves the municipality wide open for something such as happened to Mr. Book in Mimico."

(Jack Book was the Mimico building inspector who appeared before a judicial inquiry into illegal building practices two years ago).

Council gave third and final reading to the bylaw which requires production of plans for all buildings and charging fees for the inspection and approval of such plans, for fixing the amount of such fees and for the issuing of permits and authorizing the refusal of a permit for any building that doesn't comply with the provisions of any township bylaws.

Richmond Hill Town Council Briefs

Council at its Monday night meeting and in the absence of Mayor William Neal heard recommendations from four councillors naming candidates to replace Harry Sayers, recently retired from the committee of adjustment. Recommended candidates for the vacancy and councillors sponsoring them are as follows: Harry Charles (Councillor Al White), Mrs. Margaret Southwell (Councillor Tom Murphy), Dalton Hicks (Reeve Floyd Perkins) and Gerald Huntley (Councillor Walter Scudds).

Council retired as a committee of the whole to vote on the candidates and the announced vote was a tie for Messrs. Harry Charles and Dalton Hicks. A decision to refer the choice of a candidate until the next meeting of council was agreed upon.

Harry Sayers, recently retired chairman of the committee of adjustment is now serving as a member of the planning board.

A request from the parks board that council initiate proceedings for the purchase of a property at the corner of Crosby Avenue and Newkirk Road was considered at Monday night's meeting.

Parks Board Chairman Alan J. Smythe pointed out in a letter to council that the land is presently zoned as temporary public open space and that it could be sold at any time and lost for use as park development. Council referred the matter for consideration of the finance committee.

Council approved unanimously a request from the United Senior Citizens of Ontario that the first full week of June be publicly proclaimed as senior citizens' week.

The resignation of James J. Walsh as chairman of the court of revision was accepted with regret by the council. In his letter notifying council of his resignation Mr. Walsh pointed out that there are now two vacancies on the court of revision and urged upon council that action should be expedited in filling such vacancies.

Councillor Al White informed council that a letter written to the editor of the Toronto Telegram by Mayor William Neal concerning parking conditions in Richmond Hill had found its way into print with the title "Richmond Hill Must Find Parking Space For Drinkers". Such a title, contended Councillor White, was a poor way of heading a letter published over the signature of the mayor of Richmond Hill. Councillor

White was told that letter writers to the editors of newspapers have no control over what titles may be placed on their correspondence.

Deputy-reeve Stanley Tinker notified council that a meeting concerning the proposed amalgamation of the parks board and recreation committee has been scheduled for June 12. The meeting that will be held with representatives of both bodies will also be attended by Metro officials.

Councillor Tom Murphy again asked council when the constituents of his ward may expect something to be done about the pot holes in the streets. Works Commissioner Otto Whelan told Mr. Murphy that the streets were presently being chip sprayed and that permanent repairs would still have to await the arrival of warmer weather. Mr. Murphy was interested in learning how warm it had to get before such repairs could be commenced. Previous attempts at treating winter scarred streets too early in the season had resulted in a waste of time and money on the part of Richmond Hill, Deputy-reeve Tinker informed Mr. Murphy.

A proposal suggested at the time council tabled its 1963 budget that some sort of circular be included in tax bills to inform the taxpayers how their tax dollar was being spent was again raised at council's Monday night meeting by Deputy-reeve Tinker. Mr. Tinker told council that he would be prepared to personally draw up a pie-graph showing that portion of the tax dollar that council has control over and what portion was controlled by other bodies. The graph would also show the taxpayers how the portion of the budget allocated to council was being spent. When completed and approved by the appropriate bodies Mr. Tinker's project will be published in the local press for public perusal and information.
