King City Notes

To re-organize the village office staff, starting June 1, King City Village Trustees are relinquishing services of the hydro secretary - treasurer hired by last year's board of trustees, and adding to duties of the secretary-manager, Mr. A. George Cusdin, full-time secretary-treasurer of the King City Hydro System since last October, was thanked for his "diligent service" in a letter from the inspecting trustee, Ronald J. Bolton.

The village chairman informed Mr. Cusdin it was "with sincere regret" he was being advised his services will not be required. The dismissal letter explained, "It is the opinion of the trustees that the operation of this department should be organized on an entirely different basis and wish to make the change effective June 1, 1963."

Mr. Cusdin was commended and thanked for his diligent service and assured that trustees would be "most happy to help in securing employment in keeping with your talents."

In his free time Mr. Cusdin has been lay minister of the three Baptist churches in the King circuit since he moved to the manse of Bethel Baptist Church, King City, six years ago.

Trustee Bolton informed "The Liberal" Mr. G. T. Thompson would add hydro work to his duties as waterworks superintendent. Four years ago village trustees appointed Mr. Thompson part-time secretary manager.

Mrs. William Willoughby is being re-engaged to assist in the office with part-time clerical work.

King City's public school children who have bicycles are being invited to take part in the Lions' Club rodeo on June 1.

The event will likely be held at King City Composite School, the same place as the Lions' held the first rodeo last year.

In three different competitions, girls and boys will be tested by Lions and Constable John Hughes on ability to control their bicycles and their knowledge of the Highway Traffic Act. Prizes will be awarded to those scoring most points.

Ross Farquar is chairman of the rodeo for the King City Lions' Club, assisted by fellow members, John Langdon, Allan O'Brien, John Loughran and Jack Parsons.

Nursing Graduate
As a member of the current graduating class at St. Joseph's Hospital School of Nursing, Miss Janet Mary Finch of R.R. 2, King, has been honoured at several festivities. First event was a mother and daughter Sunday afternoon tea at the nurses' residence, which Mrs. Whitley Finch attended. Later Mr. Finch escorted his eldest daughter to the father and daughter banquet at the Skyline Hotel.

In graduation exercises in Eaton Auditorium were attended by several relatives and friends from King - Mr. and Mrs. James Finch, Esther Spencer, Ralph and Dan Finch, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Finch, Mrs. Fred Gray, Rev. Gordon K. Agar, Mr. Arthur Dobson from Woodbridge and Mrs. William Robertson, the former Margaret Finch, from Kingston. Following the graduation the family had a dinner party at Summit View Restaurant.

At an evening dance for the graduates in King Edward Sheraton Hotel, Mr. and Mrs. James Finch, Miss Lois Jennings of Schomberg, Ralph Finch and Arthur Dobson were Miss Finch's guests.

Before entering training three years ago, Miss Finch distinguished herself in 4-H activities. She received provincial honours and was presented by York County Women's Institutes with a scholarship, which was used toward her nursing career.

She attended Strange Public School from grades one to seven completing grade eight at King City School and continuing her education at Aurora and District High School.

Morning and afternoon classes of King kindergarten were treated to a nature hike last week when they leisurely inspected Hummer Trails.

Instructed "not to pick anything," both groups of five-year-olds observed and learned about wild flowers, birds and trees. They saw 147-of-the-valley growing, a memento of the days before Hurricane Hazel when houses stood along the river banks. The youngsters were fascinated with a groundhog hole. They saw toadstools, tadpoles and a full grown frog which did not budge as the tois drew closer to study him.

Each outing lasted about two hours and for a break the children had apple juice.

In the morning, teachers Mrs. R. O. Kerslake and Mrs. Allen Sneath, with Mrs. William Stokes and Mrs. Robert Walker chauffeured the children while drivers in the afternoon were teachers Mrs. R. J. Steven and Mrs. Tom Arldige, with Mrs. W. E. Jenns and Mrs. Fred Ball.

School Staff Changes
School Section 2 Board of King Township has hired three new teachers for the fall term to fill staff vacancies. After teaching in King City since 1930, Miss Eva L. Dennis is retiring to live in her home town, St. Thomas. This year the former principal of Doris M. Patton School has been teaching grade five. Succeeding her will be Mr. Donald Van Alstyne from Fenelon Falls, who has been teaching for the past two years.

After being on the Eva L. Dennis School staff for two years, instructing grade four, Miss Alice Hill has resigned to be married this summer to Robert Hodgson of Kettleby, son of former King Township Reeve William Hodgson. Miss Hill's class will be taken by Mrs. June Squires of Oakwood, who has been teaching in Oakwood district for 17 years. Her husband has been transferred to Toronto.

Miss Mary Latimer, who has been teaching beginners at Eva L. Dennis School for the past year, is leaving to teach a specialized subject in high school.

Looking after grade one at Eva L. Dennis School in September will be a well-known King resident, Mrs. Burwell Jackson of Kinghorn. As the former Martha Hambly, Mrs. Jackson was born south of the Anglican Church on Keele Street, in the house occupied for years by the Carson family. It was the original farmhouse for land which now forms part of Valentine Acres.

Fond of teaching "littl ones", Mrs. Jackson started her career at New Scotland grade school. After two years there she taught grade one at Richmond Hill Public School and for ten years had the beginners at McMurrich Street School in Toronto. Mr. and Mrs. Jackson live beside Kinghorn School and have three children, Jerome, Summer and Shelley.

The School Board received 50 applications for the three positions and made their choice after interviewing several likely candidates.

Press And Radio Night
King City Lions' Club entertained correspondents of weekly papers at the "Press and Radio Night" dinner meeting in All Saints' Anglican Church last week. President Kenneth Sutton welcomed guests and said regular reports helped to promote club activities. Ticket chairman Donald Hadwen reported almost a sell-out for the car draw and buffet night May 31 at Graystones Restaurant, when an elimination draw will decide the winner of a 1963

Several or $2,000 cash. Several among the 500 ticket holders will receive cash consolation prizes.

Lion Jack Walkington is chairman of the car draw, assisted by John Langdon, vice-chairman; Donald Hadwen, ticket chairman; Ray Love, ticket recorder and treasurer; "Wib" Jennings, George Armstrong, Stan Roots and Jim Wemyss.

About thirty members and their wives chartered a bus to and from the automobile plant. They saw the complete assembling of Ramblers, from the making of parts to the final coat of paint. Women were reported as interested in the conducted tour as the men, since most of them are drivers. Plain plastic glasses were loaned to the visitors as a safeguard in the welding sections.

Leaving King City church at 6.30 p.m., the party returned at 11 p.m., after enjoying sandwiches, cookies, tarts and coffee generously provided by the company.

King City Scouts and Cubs observed their "good turn day" by collecting the 500 large paper bags they had left at village households for contributions of clothing and household goods for the Society for Crippled Civilians. Last year the boys in York Summit district gathered a total of 2,600 bags of used clothing, which provided employment for 1,340 days for handicapped persons in Toronto.

Two classes for the fall term were assured by registrations received at the open house and display held by King kindergarten mothers in All Saints' Church classroom. In charge of enrolment, Convenor Mrs. Vic Smider and Treasurer Mrs. John Baker registered 49 girls and boys. The goal for each class is 25. A few fathers and children were among the 75 visitors inspecting the kindergarten pupil's interests. Teachers Mrs. R. O. Kerslake, Mrs. R. J. Steven, Mrs. Allen Sneath and Mrs. Tom Arldige went on hand to discuss with parents their children's progress. Mrs. E. B. Phair and Mrs. Robert Walker poured tea.
