Zion Lutheran Founded In 1806

Zion Lutheran Church, two miles south of Maple, was founded in 1806 and is one of the oldest Lutheran congregations in Canada, The congregation was first formed by a small group of settlers from Pennsylvania under the leadership of Jacob Fischer and two brothers, Jacob and Michael Keffer. It was in 1849 that the saga of Adam Keffer. the eldest son of Jacob Keffer was enacted.

The congregation, being without a pastor at the time, resolved to bring their plight before the proper authorities, and the story is told that Adam tied the laces of his shoes together, hung them around his neck and set out on his long walk to Pennsylvania.

The then Pittsburg Synod was sympathetic but no immediate action was taken until Adam Keffer in the following year made a sceond trip with the plea, "come over and help us". Their prayers were heard and the Rev. Charles F. Diehl accepted the call. The earliest services of the congregation were conducted by laymen in their first log church built in 1819. It was replaced by the present building in
