Headford News

Mrs. Loren Guild R.R. 2, Gormley Phone TU. 4-3040

Members of Headford UCW made their annual trip to the home of Mrs. H. Acreman in Keswick for their June meeting. In the absence of Mrs. Harry Burton, vice-president, Mrs. George Barker presided. The guest speaker was Mrs. Riley, Keswick, a member of The Christian church. A complete unbeliever before her conversion she spoke with great sincerity and feeling of the value of a Christian experience in daily living.

Announcements during the business session stated that Vacation school would be held July 15-19 at Victoria Square; the bakeless sale donations will be received in September; the September meeting will be convened by Mrs. Wesley Clark. The treasurer reported a balance of $32.65. A donation of $15 was approved for Vacation school.

During the social hour when the hostess served refreshments, Mrs. Ben Terry, an inveterate collector of antiques displayed three items and explained their use in former days; a rather vicious looking can opener, a coffee grinder dated 1859 and a fluting iron for fluting the bonnets worn by matrons. Mrs. Wellman added the information that the iron was called a "muckle". The antiques created a great deal of interest and Mrs. Clark expressed the appreciation of the women to Mrs. Riley, Mrs. Acreman and Mrs. Terry for a stimulating evening.

The secretary Charles Barker received his twelfth bar.

Hospital Meeting
The Gormley, Headford, Victoria Square Branch of York Central Hospital Auxiliary will hold a meeting in the home of Mrs. Norman Bell, the evening of June 24.

This is the last meeting until September and a full attendance would be appreciated.

Socials
Mr. Whit Middleton who has been visiting his brother Wes in Headford returned to England June 11 by plane from Malton. The vastness of Canada and the casualness with which long distance trips were undertaken never ceased to impress him. A few days before he left he and Mr. and Mrs. Wes Middleton were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Stewart Rumble on a trip to Algonquin Park.

Congratulations to David Rumble who has successfully completed his first year at OAC and to Susan Terry who is established in her career as secretary.

Field Day Woes
Primary field day at Markham SS 3 had an unhappy ending for Richard Burton who sprained a back muscle when trying the broad jump. It is a painful experience for him and terminates activity for a time.

Congratulations to Keith Burton who won first prize for his composition on Safety in the Home, On the Farm and On the Highway. This project was sponsored by York County Farm Safety Council and Victoria Square Women's Institute. It was open to students of PSA 3.

As mumps left our hamlet measles moved in and laid its spots on Paul Wellman, Joyce Horner and Rod Calder.

Headford warmly welcomes a very new resident, a small daughter to Mr. and Mrs. Harley Horner.

A charge of illegal possession of liquor was dismissed against John A. He was charged by the conservation authority and admitted responsibility for the beer when it was discovered on his picnic table.

Saturday's The Day

National Rose Show Welcomed To Town

Starting festivities on Saturday for the National Rose Show of the Canadian Rose Society, will be a mammoth parade featuring trumpet bands, including three from military units in Toronto.

Featured will be the "Rose Queen", selected at the ball Tuesday evening in her royal robes, crown and sceptre. She will be accompanied by her two princesses. The other charming young girls, each representing a rose, will ride in convertibles in the parade and act as hostesses at the rose show during the afternoon. This will be the conclusion of their help in publicizing the show during the past few weeks.

Doors to the displays in the competitive and commercial classes at Richmond Hill High School will be thrown open to the public at 1 p.m. At 2 p.m. official opening ceremonies will be held with His Worship Mayor Neal welcoming the visitors. Invitations have gone out to mayors and Reeves of all municipalities in the county to attend.

The Richmond Hill Horticultural Society will decorate the foyer of the school to provide a pleasant introduction to the show. Members of that society are also providing light refreshments for the exhibitors who will be busy setting up their displays in the morning.

Entries from amateur exhibitors are coming in well, with promises of a large entry from across Canada, although local blooms have been delayed some what by cool weather. Commercial exhibits particularly of new roses and products for lawn care promise to be of great interest not only to rose growers but to home owners generally. One grower who will be exhibiting the newest roses in pots ready to plant has told the sponsoring chamber of commerce, that all his display will be available for auction with the proceeds to go to the new York Central Hospital. All exhibition roses will also be included in the auction. Some lucky person will be able to take home these exquisitely perfect roses.

Numbered dodgers have been distributed in stores and shopping centres during the past two weeks. One of these will be worth $25.00 to the holder. The lucky number will be posted inside the show when the doors open, and the holder of the corresponding dodger may claim his or her cash prize.

Throughout this week the almost 50 trophies offered for competition in the show are on display in store windows on Yonge Street and the plaza.

In addition to the specimen classes in hybrid tea roses mentioned last week three classes in arrangements are also open to non-members of the Canadian Rose Society. "Signora", a small arrangement for the bedside table; "Summertime", an arrangement of garden flowers including roses; and "Jubilee", an all-rose arrangement for a dinner table seating six, roses predominating, should attract many entries from the ardent horticulturists in this area.

The Avenue Organ and Music Salon are supplying a Conn organ and a professional organist in the person of Walter Wally Thompson to provide organ music during the afternoon. The Richmond Hill Symphony Orchestra will also be playing.

Rose week in Richmond Hill is an outstanding example of the success that can be achieved when the talents and spheres of influence of many local groups are combined to achieve a common purpose.

Members of the Richmond Hill Chamber of Commerce, through whose efforts the show was brought to Richmond Hill, have put in many hours and much ingenuity in the preparations. Chamber membership embraces the industrial, merchandising, professional and cultural leaders of our community who seek only to make Richmond Hill a better place in which to live and work. Douglas Boyd and H. J. Mills have given the capable leadership to the group which has resulted in community-wide co-operation in these preparations.
