

International Dolls

One of the more interesting displays of handicrafts at the annual Guide and Brownie Assembly held Saturday at Our Lady Help of Christians School on Bayview Avenue was a collection of international dolls dressed in the guiding outfits of their countries. This group from the third Richmond Hill company, examining the dolls, includes (from left) Guides Diane Hasselfeldt, Lieut. Mrs. Ray Hasselfeldt, Capt. Mrs. Betty O'Rourke, Pat Fleming and Denise MacDonald.

Bob Blackburn, son of Mr. and Mrs. A. Blackburn, Yongehurst, a second year student at York University, received first class honours in arts and sciences.

The sympathy of the community is extended to Mrs. David Anderson on the death of her mother, Mrs. Clara Brash, who passed away on June 19th at Mount Sinai Hospital. Interment took place last Saturday in Pembroke, Ontario.

On the evening of June 13th, the grade 13's of Richmond Hill High School, had their final 'bash' of the year at Shadow Lake. It was most successful with everyone enjoying themselves.

Good luck to all the students with their results and every good wish for a real swingin' summer!

At Richmond Hill Presbyterian Church on Sunday afternoon the sacrament of baptism was administered to Susan Christine, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. J. Lovie, 258 Altamira Road.

She was also presented with a New Testament from the Sunday school.

Entertaining on Friday last prior to attending the Curtain Club picnic were Mr. and Mrs. John Beresford Anderson, Centre Street West.

Guests included Mr. and Mrs. D. Lamb, Mr. and Mrs. G. H. Temple and Mr. and Mrs. R. Till.

Her many friends in Richmond Hill will be concerned to learn that Mrs. L. W. Zuefel is confined to St. Andrew's Hospital in Midland, following a fall in her home there. Fortunately she escaped serious injury but has had to postpone her trip to the West Coast, which she planned to start this Friday.

Attending Thursday afternoon's session of the Women's Institute officers' conference in Guelph last week were Mrs. J. Dewsbury, Miss Annie Stong, Mrs. F. S. Rumble, Mrs. Jas. Pollard and her sister-in-law from England. They heard Mrs. B. Van Beekoff, from the Netherlands, president of the Associated Country Women of the World, review the history of this worldwide organization from its beginnings in Stoney Creek, Ontario, sixty-six years ago, to the present.

Two of the leading dance instructors in the Hill exchanged viewpoints on next season's productions, when Mr. Eddy Midmer of the Midmer Dance Studio, and Mrs. Midmer, Brownvale Crescent, were entertained on Wednesday last by Dennis Moore of the Dennis Moore School of Dancing, at his Yongehurst home.

Three students of Miss Ruth Garson, A.D.C.M. have just received the results of the recent examinations held at the Royal Conservatory of Music in Toronto.

Judith Jones obtained honours with 73% in grade 3 piano-forte; Judith Dodson, honours with 75% for grade 4 piano-forte, and Robert Freeman, honours, with 77% for grade 1 theory examination.

Miss Garson is proud of these students and wishes them continued success in their musical studies.

The Rev. James R. F. Moore, formerly assistant curate of St. Mary's Anglican Church, was inducted as rector of the combined parishes of St. John's, Lakefield and St. Mark's, Warsaw, on June 26th.

The service was conducted by the Coadjutor Bishop of Toronto, the Right Rev. G. B. Snell assisted by the Archdeacon of Peterboro, and the Rev. J. F. O'Neil of Richmond Hill. The Rev. D. L. Varey was the preacher.

The Hilltoppers, Richmond Hill Police trumpet band, will be representing the Hill at the first Brampton Festival of Flowers, June 28th to July 1st. They will be featured in the festival's grand floral parade on July 1st, starting at 10 a.m.

The magnificent parade, featuring fresh flowers, includes some 50 floats, 25 bands and more than 600 majorettes. It is expected to stretch for three miles through the town.

The LCW of St. Paul's Lutheran Church held their last regular meeting of the season at the home of Mrs. Sylvia Limpert, 446 South Taylor Mills Drive with fourteen members present.

Mrs. Polly Duffert, Mrs. Ev. Miller and Mrs. Betty Harvey presented a skit for the programme for the evening.

The president wishes the ladies a restful and happy summer. The next meeting will be held in September.

At the final session for the season, Richmond Hill Presbyterian Sunday School presented two workers with gifts in honor of the 152nd anniversary of the school.

Mrs. V. Clayton who has served as a teacher for 12 years, and Miss Sandra Phillips who has served as secretary of the primary division were the honored members of the staff.

Attendance awards were presented to members of both the primary and senior schools, and Miss Joy Phillips was presented with a diploma for repeating the shorter catechism without error. Magistrate James Butler, former superintendent, spoke to the scholars.

Monday, June 17th, marked the end of a seven week's swim programme, sponsored by the Richmond Hill YWCA. After the evening's swimming lessons at York Mills Collegiate Pool, a late snack was enjoyed by approximately 35 ladies at the home of Mrs. Grace Jackson.

Brian Toogood, 12 year old son of Mr. and Mrs. D. F. Toogood, Rockport Crescent, has been awarded the highest honour in ballet — a life membership with the National Ballet of Canada.

Brian, who registered with Sylvia Garson's Dance Studio only five seasons ago, had had no previous dance training, and intended taking tap. Upon further discussion with Mrs. Garson on the importance of ballet, it was decided that it was an excellent background for the various forms of dancing.

Mrs. Garson with her wide experience, has, during the past few years, placed Brian on several television and stage shows, T.V. commercials, and a most thrilling experience — he danced with the Bolshoi Ballet when it came to Toronto this past winter.

Mrs. Garson, who can indeed be proud of her pupil's achievement, extends every good wish for his continued success in the field of dancing.

Mrs. Gerry Huntley and children Frank and Kathleen, Judaea court, returned on Saturday from cottage holidaying in Barrie.
