Purpleville School 110th Re-union Attended By 125, Oldest "Pupil" 98

BY TOBY SHORE
It was perhaps a smaller but just as enthusiastic a group as had met for former reunions when 125 ex-pupils, teachers, their families and friends met for the 110th anniversary of S.S. No. 11 Purpleville along the Seventh Concession, Vaughan Township.

Mrs. Ed Harris, nee Ella McIntyre, and Frank Robson, who worked together to make this a memorable day as former pupils had arranged to have a group picture taken with a panoramic camera.

Guests were asked to sign the guest book and if former pupils to give their present name and address, and the ladies, their maiden name, the years they attended and their last teacher's name.

Of particular interest to school pupils was the old school register of 1906-32 and class picture of that time, plus the panoramic picture of the guests centennial year.

Ross Knight of Concord played back the tape recording made at the time of the Centennial

Now 10 years later, having taught at Purpleville from 1950-56, Mr. Kennedy is the principal at George Bailey Public School, Maple, that had an enrollment of 423 boys and girls included in the two kindergarten classes and grades one to eight this year. He has a staff of 15 teachers in his school - recently enlarged to provide nine classrooms and requiring as well the use of the two rooms in the original school building and a portable. The picture tacked on the wall of Mr. Kennedy and his pupils of school section number 11 was of special delight to many visitors.

Greeted with an enthusiastic and affectionate round of applause, the oldest ex-pupil Mrs. Wesley Peterman, 98, residing now in York Manor, Newmarket, raised her arm and said "Here I am, hale and hearty!" To prove her nimble memory she named off without hesitation, three of her teachers, Thomas Moore, Cunningham Moore and Peter McMurchy. According to records there were only two teachers before these named, Mr. McCartney and John Morrow.

Then Mr. McKenzie gave an interesting brief outline of his teaching career which included 30 years of teaching in Toronto.

Rev. Warden Stump recalled for the guests memories of his school days in this one roomed rural school and of his former teachers. At that time he had lived with his grandmother, Mrs. Jane Stump who kept the Purpleville post office and store and was known as the 'grand old lady of the community.' As a minister, Mr. Stump is now assisting in the church at Walkerton following years of service at Whitefish Falls, south of Sudbury.

Because of the cool wind, the picnic supper was held in the old classroom where much laughter mingled with shouted greetings and the odd brief momentary sadness, as former joys and sorrows were remembered.

The committee had arranged for gifts to be presented to commemorate the anniversary. An engraved brooch was presented to Mrs. Peterman as she was the oldest ex-pupil in attendance.

To the oldest ex-teacher present, a small clock went to Mr. McKenzie.

Gifts were presented to the ex-pupils who had come the longest distance, and that was Rev. Stump and to the youngest child present, at the time of presentation - Glen Higgs, the seven-and-a-half month son of Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Higgs nee Catherine Bryson, former pupil. His grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Bryson.

Appreciative thanks were extended to Mr. Percy Jones, genial local resident, for his thoughtfulness in supplying watermelon and candies to the children.

General consensus was that indeed this reunion, on Purpleville School's 110th anniversary, was most enjoyable and all voted to meet again in similar manner in 1968 - still the school, now closed, still stands.

On behalf of all, Frank Robson, expressed thanks to those who had attended and especially for the assistance given by so many to make "this grand old occasion such a tremendous success."
