Popular Teacher Retires After 33 Year Career

Many tributes were paid during King City's "Eva L. Dennis Day" to the gracious and kind teacher retiring after devoting 47 years to her profession, the last 33 of them in the village.

Further presentations made before and after community celebrations June 22 were indications of the range of her interests and the regard of a large circle of friends.

During the three-hour afternoon reception arranged at King Memorial Park by King City Women's Institute and the Home and School Association, about 150 present and former pupils, parents and friends called to honor Miss Dennis.

Ideal summer weather favored the day and visitors enjoyed a reunion with the popular teacher. Miss Diane Glass and Miss Diane Wallace were in charge of the guest book, which was later given the guest of honor.

Refreshments were served from a large white linen-covered table decorated with a centerpiece of garden flowers. Sliced breads and a variety of cookies had been made by mothers of this year's grade five taught by Miss Dennis.

On behalf of King City Home and School Association, its retiring president, Mr. John Jenkins, thanked Miss Dennis for her constant attendance at parent-teacher meetings and presented her with a Royal Doulton figurine entitled, "Affection".

Thanking the Association, Miss Dennis said she had always enjoyed being at the meetings.

The informal buffet dinner in King City Composite School was attended by 120. Seated with Miss Dennis at the head table were Miss Doris Patton, who was teaching at the two-roomed King City Public School when Miss Dennis arrived in 1930 to be principal; former School Board Trustee Mr. John Whalley, chairman for the evening, and Mrs. Whalley; School Inspector Mr. W. J. MacLeod and Mrs. MacLeod; and School Secretary Mr. Raymond Burt with Mrs. Burt.

Mr. Whalley and Mr. MacLeod spoke in appreciation of the quality of Miss Dennis' lengthy service. During 33 continuous years at the same King City school, she was absent only two days due to flu.

On behalf of former students and friends, presentations were made by the two generations of the Rumble family, whom Miss Dennis had taught.

Mr. Austin Rumble and his eldest son, Ross, presented the handsome wall mirror. Another son, Bruce, gave a cheque and his brother, Paul, read the prepared address of tribute.

School Board Chairman Mr. Gordon Orr read the framed, illuminated address before presenting it to Miss Dennis. It read as follows: "Board of Trustees, Public School Section No. 2, King Township, Ontario.

"Presented to Miss Eva Dennis who taught in King City Public School from 1930 to 1963, for the very worthy contribution she has made to the life of the community through her gifts as a teacher and her gracious qualities as a person.

"With this presentation are conveyed our sincere and heartfelt wish, that in the years of retirement there will be time to call "King City Days," in which she did so much for others and endeared herself to all. With sincere appreciation and lasting gratitude," signed by Trustees Gordon Orr, Gordon Tetley, William Heaslip and School Secretary, Raymond Burt.

Trustee Tetley presented to Miss Dennis a studio framed portrait. It was a replica of the larger one to be hung in the Eva L. Dennis School named after her when it opened as a three-roomed building in September, 1959. The following year two classrooms were added.

Trustee William Heaslip made the presentation of a framed photograph of the newer school bearing her name.

Secretary Mr. Raymond Burt presented Miss Dennis with a $2,000 cheque from the ratepayers of school section 2.

Wearing an attractive blue eyelet-embroidered dress, Miss Dennis thanked those present for their messages and gifts as she reminisced about her days at the school on North Keele Street, now called the Doris M. Patton School.

Loathes Cats, Knocked For Loop In Rescue Bid

A young salesman, who "loathes cats and is terrified of electricity," is in York County Hospital, Newmarket, after trying to rescue a cat that sat for three days on top of a hydro pole outside his home on Warren Road.

J. F. Anderson was knocked unconscious from the pole and revived by the quick-thinking of the owner of the cat, neighbor Phillip Cook, who called for blankets and promptly applied artificial respiration.

The would-be rescuer, who has no four-legged pets of his own, suffered burns to his right hand and had two fingers amputated at Newmarket, where he is undergoing skin grafts.

The grey puss? She calmly waited out another night in her lonely eyrie and was brought to earth, unscathed, the next morning by a sympathetic hydro crew.

Guide News

Oak Ridges Guides wound up their current season with today's outing at St. George Lake on the property of Mr. and Mrs. S. Snively, Glenelox Farms. After meeting at the Guide leader's home, Mrs. Lydia Firdisen, at 7 a.m. the girls, armed with fishing poles, food and so on, they proceeded to the outing they had chosen. Mr. Eric Firdisen, accompanied the girls on the trip, partly for safety measures, but we are glad to say there were no accidents.

Barbara Haanpaa, won a prize for catching the largest fish, and on a recent contest for the best snapshot taken, Carol Orton won the first prize for a snap taken of Brock's monument, with Linda Cochran winning second prize. The girls thoroughly enjoyed this unusual day's outing, and many of the girls had a chance to try for their fire-making and fire-prevention badges as they cooked their lunch outside.

Other badges awarded at a recent meeting were: Jennifer Hopkins, swimming, life-saving, first aid and home nursing badges; Sheena McLernon, first aid, nursing and hostess badges; Aletha Cartner, hostess and home nursing badges; Linda Towers received home nursing badge.

They will stay at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Hanson, South Road, Lake Wilcox, and pupils will be arriving for this four month course from Florida, California, Ohio, Wisconsin, all parts of Ontario, Manitoba and Alberta. Michael Kierkegaard has already arrived from Washington, D.C. The course has proved so popular, although not begun yet, that General Van Oppolyn has been contracted to return next year for a similar course as 1964 is an Olympic Games year.

The general has been an instructor to the Hanson's daughter, Christalot, who was the youngest rider to win in her dressage competitions in Germany last year and a very accomplished rider.

King City Notes

Seven members of King City Women's Institute and a King City guest were among 3,600 W.I. representatives in Guelph to meet the president of the Associated Country Women of the World.

The distinguished visitor from Holland, Mrs. Van Beekhoff voiced appreciation for her country's liberation at the end of World War II and recalled the popularity of Canadian soldiers welcomed by her people.

As Mrs. Van Beekhoff received the King delegation she spoke of her tour of Holland Marsh during a visit to Canada several years ago.

When Mrs. Douglas C. Henderson, special guest of King City W.I. met the president, Mrs. Van Beekhoff thanked her for providing a "Canada Room" at the chief office building of Universal Esperanto Association in Rotterdam.

The president had already addressed a large gathering of W.I. members in Paris, Ontario. At Guelph she received representatives from branches throughout mid-Ontario, before going on to centralized meetings in Peterborough and Ottawa.

Present from King City were the Branch President, Mrs. Austin Rumble with Mrs. Warren McKendry, Mrs. William Willoughby, Mrs. Howard Neill, Mrs. Verdun Gordon, Miss Annie McBride and Mrs. Howard Hayward.

After being a patient in York County Hospital, Newmarket, seven weeks, Mrs. Pearl Wilson has returned home and is receiving visitors.

Final social evening of King City Firemen's W.A. was a dinner party attended by the president, Mrs. David Glass, Mrs. Harold Kirby, Mrs. Stan Roots, Mrs. Vic Doner, Mrs. James Sim, Mrs. Robert Walker, Mrs.

Len Robb, Mrs. George McDonald, Mrs. Donald McCallum, Mrs. Robert McLeod, Mrs. Harry McBride, Mrs. Tom Monkman, Mrs. Bruce Hall and Mrs. Carson Bice.

After a varied menu, several members went to a movie. Later at the June 23 final business meeting in the fire hall, 14 members were present when King City Firemen's W.A. officially disbanded.

The eight-year-old organization, which raised money over the years through such functions as an annual turkey dinner, has regularly supplied extras for the brigade.

In closing the treasury, the W.A. decided to supply gold medalions for firemen successfully completing three first aid courses. A small portable resuscitator with accessories, costing $138, had been ordered for the brigade.

"The bank balance of $115 is being turned over to the men to be put into a special account for their needs, such as lunches sent to fires," President Mrs. Robert Berwick reported to "The Liberal." She felt there was no longer any need for an auxiliary and the village has several organizations worthy of support.

"If the firemen want to have any special event, the wives can always help out for the occasion, without needing a permanent organization," said Mrs. Berwick.

Mrs. David Glass and Mrs. Donald McCallum were earlier presidents of the W.A.

King City's five-year-old Home and School Association now has its first woman president.
