Nitro Blasts Safe

Richmond Hill Police are investigating a weekend robbery at the S. S. Kresge Company, Richmond Heights Centre in which this huge 1,900 pound safe was blown apart with nitroglycerin with damage to the safe and its contents estimated by Kresge Manager Thomas Mills to be between $1,000 and $2,000.

Sorting out coins from plaster after the robbery was discovered Monday morning is Kresge secretary Nettie Winterbottom.

Richmond Hill Police Chief R. P. Robbins said the remains of a small bottle of nitro was found in an office at the rear of the building. He said the safe was so badly mangled that some coins were fused to the metal of cash drawers. The room containing the safe is at the rear of the building and not visible from the street.

Major Lex Mackenzie Campaigns Throughout York North Riding

A "Lex Mackenzie Night" in Newmarket, a reception and dance in Aurora, and a corn roast in Vaughan Township are the big "meet the candidate" events this week in Progressive Conservative Major Lex Mackenzie's bid for re-election as MLA for York North.

Last week, he visited Peferlaw, Sutton, Georgina Island. He also attended a coffee party in Aurora at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Ralph, Holman Crescent.

On Saturday, he was present for the official opening of the Buttonville Airport, and also campaigning in Markham and Milliken. Monday saw him in Richmond Hill and the Holland Marsh.

Tuesday took him through Newmarket again, and Wednesday to Markham for the opening of improved Highway 48 through the village. Wednesday evening he was in Newmarket for the "Lex Mackenzie Night", a dinner organized by his supporters at the legion hall.

Thursday takes him back to Richmond Hill for a reception at the Cappy home at Jefferson, and Friday, to King City for coffee at the home of Dr. and Mrs. J. A. Saunders, 5th concession, Friday evening he is in Aurora, with a reception and dance at the legion hall.

Saturday means coffee parties in King Township and an evening corn roast at the Bathurst St. farm of Milton Savage in Vaughan Township, sponsored by the Young Progressive Conservatives.

"Big Talk" Normal Parents Learn At Child Guidance Library Course

In the Gordon Maclaren Auditorium of the library, interested parents were able to receive first-hand information at the current child guidance course, "Pre-Teen and Teen Years".

Mrs. G. C. V. Hewson, conducting the first of the six-week series, pointed out that early adolescence is the training period for what comes next. When parents find their authority being challenged by, perhaps, "big talk", they might remember that such outbreaks are normal and not necessarily an indication of the behaviour to follow. Much of this talk is testing the possible reaction of the parents. Mrs. Hewson asked that family discussions not be conducted on an argumentative basis, but more on a give and take discussion of problems.

Do the "square" or old-fashioned parents keep up with the times? Times are changing so rapidly that children express their doubts as to their parents' ability to understand or have sympathy with life as they see it.

An interesting aspect of last evening's session developed showing the concern of parents when questions were asked about family "bickering", responsibilities, allowances, strong language and other subjects for which there was no more time. It was evident that for the remaining five weeks, many subjects would be a forthcoming source of information and exchange of ideas.

There is still time for parents, and teachers, to come and help themselves as well as the children about whom they are concerned, and participate in getting information in an enjoyable way. The informal atmosphere and coffee time does make the scene right for a relaxed evening. For information and registration, please call TU, 4-2442, Mrs. J. Downey. See you in the library auditorium, Monday evenings at 8 p.m.

Program for next week: Personality Development During Teen Years.

New V.O.N. Nurse Assumes Duties Hopes Branch Soon Increased

Mrs. Patricia Stockdale, former superintendent of Brucelea Haven home for the aged in Walkerton has been appointed Victorian Order of Nurses' representative in Richmond Hill.

She joined the unit August 29 succeeding Miss Hayward who left to be married and work in Scarborough.

Mrs. Stockdale interrupted her V.O.N. career begun after she took the nursing course at the University of Manitoba to supervise the Brucelea home which has 92 residents and opened two years ago. She administered the buying and outfitting of the home and teaching of its staff in fundamental hospital routines. There were 62 on staff at Brucelea including kitchen and maintenance help.

In her work as a V.O.N. nurse, she has been in Woodstock, Chorley Park in Toronto, Vancouver and with the Canadian Army at Camp Borden. As a former nursing sister, she was the first woman re-called by the army to work in the public health field following her marriage in 1950.

In the course of a day here, she makes nursing care visits in the mornings and follows through with the rehabilitation program in the afternoon, which involves exercise classes with polio or multiple sclerosis victims for example.

In 1962, V.O.N. here made 1,500 visits and it is expected the 1963 calls will be well above that. In July for example, the two unit nurses made 217 visits with general nursing care as recommended by doctors, families or public health authorities.

As well as their own care, the V.O.N. nurses also give instruction to the families of patients in an effort to have the care more home-centred.

The annual V.O.N. blitz canvass will be held September 30; more details will be published later this month.
