Parking Report Needs Ratification

(Continued from Page 1) ployers and retailers and not out-of-town commuters. Director Deeks said this again pointed up the ways in which the businesses could help to solve the parking problem. He suggested the Sunoco parking lot on Richmond Street could perhaps be turned into free parking for particular use by employers and employees of the district. Touching on redevelopment of the business district in general, Mr. Deeks said future trends would require a change in selling-style of downtown stores in order to compete after manner of present-day services provided by shopping plazas. When this occurs, he said, you will find only small shopping centres on outskirts of the business section dealing in limited food-lines on much the same basis as stores in the downtown area now. Councillors were also unanimous in agreement the parking meters on Yonge Street between Dufferin Street and Crosby Avenue should be scuttled — the quicker the better. Director Deeks summed up the lane situation reporting the study, if undertaken by his staff, would be ready for start of actual construction by next spring. While the lane-study was going on, he said, other recommendations in the report could be brought before council for approval or disapproval. Cost of the lane-study was estimated at $500. It was also agreed the town should establish a definite policy toward the parking program to put it more in control of the entire situation. Members of town council present were Walter Scudds, Alex Campbell, Thomas Murphy, Al White, Reeve Floyd Perkins and Deputy-reeve Stanley Tinker. Absent was Mayor William Neal.

Here's a smile for you

Two husbands were discussing their family problems during lunch at their favourite dining spot. One had just finished relating his troubles when the second husband explained that he had just got a French poodle for his wife and so was looking forward to domestic peace. "Say, that is a terrific idea," exclaimed the other, "but how in the world did you ever make a trade like that?" Our expert cleaning is as near as your telephone. Now is the time to gather up all your spare soiled garments and either bring them into the store or call for our driver. Either way you'll be satisfied with the results.
