Add Second Duplicator

Text Book Uniformity High School Board Aim

On the advice of the advisory-vocational committee, it was decided at the September 16th meeting of the York Central District High School Board that a roto off duplicator be purchased for Bayview Secondary School, the cost not to exceed $2,000.

The machine is required to do printing for the vocational department of the school, as well as other programs, etc. Trustee Masters queried the need for another expensive machine at Bayview. "Why do we need this, we have one at Thornhill" he stated. Mr. Masters added that when the one machine was purchased for Thornhill the board was told it would be able to do the printing for all the schools in the system.

Superintendent Sam Chapman pointed out that there were no textbooks available for the vocational courses and all teaching material was prepared on these machines. It has been found to be too time consuming to do this on one machine for two schools, he stated.

Trustee Masters insisted however that in his opinion, one of these machines should be able to do the work for four schools. "One operator would be more efficient than four part time ones" he stated.

Mr. Chapman stated that the main problem was a hold-up in staff. "School office staffs are running all out to get this done" he advised. Mr. Chapman noted that the preparation of work schedules is done over the summer by the vocational teachers, then the work of duplicating it piles up at the end of August and the beginning of September.

It was noted that the cost of the machine would come out of the budget for electrical equipment and the matter was finally carried with two trustees voting against it.

Agreement was also given to the proposal of advertising in the Toronto evening papers and to including in the night classes, short lecture and discussion courses to be offered on an experimental basis in one or two subjects, the cost not to exceed $300.

The recommendations of the management committee were presented to the board by Trustee Ernest Redelmeier. These included among other things, a letter of commendation on the improvement in the percentage of first and second class honours in grade 13 examinations to be sent to all principals from the board; that an amount of $25. per speaker for not more than four speakers in 1963 be allowed for the impact series of lectures at Thornhill Secondary School; that Principal Morrison and the student council of Woodbridge High School be commended for their action in arranging for extra-curricular music instruction at Woodbridge High School; and that the lists of text books provided by Mr. Chapman be approved.

Mr. Chapman advised that the department heads in each subject had discussed the text book situation and that an effort is being made to try and get all high schools in the system using the same texts. With free texts being provided next year, he felt there would be more uniformity as there will then be quite a considerable public investment in the books.

In his report to the board, Superintendent Chapman raised the question of supplying free flu vaccine injections to staff
