Little Family Becomes

"Long Distance" Parents

The R. D. Littles of Richmond Hill are foster parents four times over.
They recently "adopted" a 10-year-old Italian girl, Caterina Neri who lives on the outskirts of Reggio Calabria.
Caterina who was adopted under the Foster Parents Plan in Montreal is the Littles' fourth experience as long distance parents.
In 1945, they first adopted a little French boy who later entered the priesthood, a Lithuanian girl who eventually was brought to the U.S. and later a Greek girl who is now working at a sewing trade.
Under the plan, the foster parents contribute $16 a month for the child's support for at least a year. In the Littles' case, they have continued with support until the children came of age.

LITLES' "TITA"

Monthly letters are exchanged in original and translated form in which the youngster tells his Canadian foster parents of his progress at school and how it feels to have shoes on his feet and a full stomach. Letters from foster parents are treasured.
Mrs. Little said gifts are also sent on birthdays and special events like Christmas. She has also encouraged her son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Don Little to become foster parents which they did with the adoption of a little Philippine girl last spring.
Adoption through the plan is financial, not legal; of the $16 monthly, $8 goes as a cash grant to the child, the rest for food and clothing, medical care, school fees and equipment.
Mrs. Little urged that anyone interested in the plan should investigate it.
The plan's purpose is to guide a foster child toward economic independence and to responsibility for his family and service to his country. The Canadian help is a stepping stone to self help according to the Foster Parents' Plan.

The eldest daughter, Carmela, 15, is in the first year of medium school (equivalent junior high school). Other sources of income are a $20 "family bonus" from a maternal uncle and the sale for about $57 of the annual spring calf.
With the Littles' aid, the family will now have additional blankets, bedding and clothing at their two room rustic house. The girl, called "Tita" at home, is in fourth grade primary school and hopes to become a school teacher.
Mrs. Little said she felt Tita's case was a very deserving one.

Rambling Around

and happy ministry, developing the new parish with the help of the church extension board, particularly Bishop Snell and Mr. Arthur Hand who have wide experience and sympathetic understanding of the problems and privileges of newly created parishes. While at Emmanuel, Mr. Jackson and his parishioners maintained a close fellowship with Holy Trinity. And now... the culmination of his splendid life of service to his fellow men is his appointment as assistant minister of Holy Trinity Anglican Church in Thornhill. There is no doubt that his wide experience in living and dealing with people will not only be experienced in the parish of Holy Trinity but will reach into the community as well. And as the good minister has already said, "We live in a world of 'interdependence'."
(In a later column, Mr. Jackson will tell about his observations and impressions of the Canadian Arctic which he came to know so well.)
