RICHMOND HILL, ONTARIO, THURSDAY, OCTOBER 24th, 1963

HOME PAPER OF THE DISTRICT SINCE 1878

Richmond Hill Leafs To Launch Season On Tues.

Members of the Richmond Hill Leafs will be flexing their hockey muscles for the first time this season October 29 at the local arena when they launch their 1963-64 schedule against Leaside Larks. Game time is 8 p.m.

Second game of the double-header will see Thornhill facing Newmarket Cubs at 9:30 p.m. The Thornhill club is composed mainly of last year's Concord Flyers who were finalists in the league play-offs.

The Cubs are a new entry in the Richmond Hill Senior Hockey League along with Downsview RCAF Flyers. Aurora has dropped out of the league.

The local Leafs will be trying to pick up where they left off the regular schedule last year—in first place. The team didn't fare so well in the play-offs dropping the semi-finals to Concord who proceeded to drop the finals to the champion Willowdale squad.

Sparking the team again this year will be holdovers Matt Kinnari, Norm Roberts and Jim Wells, who comprise the "big" line for the locals.

Making his share of puck-stops in net will be Don McMillan. Back on defence will be Ronnie Guy.

Mayor William Neal will be present for the opening game face-off at the newly renovated arena where he will drop the puck.

All league Sunday games will be played at the Don Mills arena beginning at 9:15 p.m. and Tuesday games at the Richmond Hill arena at 8 and 9:30 p.m.

The 1963-64 schedule officially opens this Sunday at the Don Mills arena with the champion Willowdale Rangers crossing blades with the Downsview Flyers.

Group Captain Ellis, commanding officer of the Downsview RCAF station, will drop the puck at 9:15 p.m. to start the new season.

It will be the ninth year of operation for the league.

Aurora Team

Ont. "B" Champs

The Ontario Intermediate "B" Softball Championship was won by a young, enthusiastic team from Aurora this year. In the Glensville line-up were Norm Roberts and Norm Stunden, both of whom have played ball for Richmond Hill in former years.

Majority of team members are graduates of a junior team organized three years ago by Norm Stunden. In fact five players could have still been playing junior ball this season, which made their championship win the more remarkable.

Glensville were victorious in the OASA finals Thanksgiving weekend in two straight games, by scores of 3-0 and 4-3, over Kapuskasing.

Intermediate "B" is for competition in communities under 10,000. Intermediate "A", won this year by Richmond Hill's flashy Dynes team, is for communities with a population between 10,000 and 20,000.

Footballers Boost United Appeal

Champagne And Bubbles

Champion 'Dynes' Team Celebrate Winning Year

BY FRED SIMPSON

It wasn't the night they invented champagne but jubilant members of the Dynes-Richmond Hill Ontario champion football team managed to carry on a brave tradition.

They drank it out of their silver trophy. It went down pretty smooth, too.

It was all part of a post-game victory celebration last week shortly after the Dynes-men pulled out a 1-0 squeaker over the Gazzola Allen squad from Toronto to take the Metro Major Football title.

But it was an agonizing finish to an agonizing season. Just ask sponsor Vern Dynes who suffered, sweated, paced, worried, and suffered and sweated all over again. He'll tell you:

"I've been trying for a long time . . . eight years now for the All-Ontario title. It's a good feeling. I'm happy for myself but especially for the boys. After all, they did it. I was just in the background."

Vern could very well be speaking for the fans who did some suffering of their own along the way.

Thursday's game was no exception. Ten innings of sheer frustration for the Dynes-men.

It wasn't until that final hipper-dipper run came across home plate in the extra-inning with Skip DeGeer scoring from second on a fouled-up double-play attempt that manager-coach Russ "Casey" Cripps drew a reasonably normal breath.

Prior to this he was pacing around like an enraged lion who had taken a wrong turn in the jungle and ended up walking down the middle of Yonge Street during the 5 o'clock rush hour.

To this casual observer, well, pretty casual anyway, some of last week's stick-outs included: Casey's bewitched, bothered and bewildered pose on those occasions when his boys ran wild on the bases at the wrong time . . . except, of course, for that last big winning run.

The close-your-eyes and hope-for-the-best swing of a godly number of Gazzolamen against the offerings of Ray Judd who is probably the only human IBM machine in captivity.

The same Judd at bat on one occasion who must have felt like some of the opposing batters when he went down swinging with golf-like strokes likened to make Sammy Snead blush with envy.

The leather-lunged fan who didn't like either team and found difficulty in finding other words after getting by his favourite phrase of "you ham 'n' eegers." So he just kept saying "you ham 'n' eegers." What on earth did he mean? Hope he recovers.

Local Pee-Wee's Get Invitation To Hockey Tourney

The Richmond Hill Pee-Wee hockey team has received an invitation to compete in the sixth annual Leamington International Pee-Wee Hockey Tournament along with 33 other teams from Ontario and Michigan.

The tournament is slated for December 26 and 27. Closing date for entries is November 15 with instructions stating the first 24 teams entering with complete details will be accepted for the tournament.

The O. M. H. A. executive has issued orders that all competitors must comply with their regulations.

Pat Robinson who defeated Mairread Rowan 2-6, 6-3, and 6-3 in the women's final; then she and Lou Holland teamed up to waltz away with the women's doubles defeating Bev. Linders and Joan Freeman in the finals 7-9, 6-3, 6-3.

Janet Lewis captured the girl's singles title with the Everingham, Vern and Brenda, winning the mixed doubles by besting Dennis and Pat Lamb in the final 6-3 and 6-1.

New men's singles champion is Frank Robinson who fought his way to a 4-6, 6-4 and 6-1 win over Dennis Lamb. The two finalists then teamed up to take the doubles final over Ted Eede and Vern Everingham, 6-3 and 8-6.

Lawn Tennis Year A Record

A record number of 203 members of the Richmond Hill Lawn Tennis Association climaxed an activity-full season recently with the playing of their annual tournament.

Increase in membership to record proportions was credited in part to a reduction in junior membership fees.

Winners in the annual tournament were:

up for a picture following the game. Vern found them about as hard to handle off the field as their opponents did on it. But he was enjoying it all the way.

Casey worrying about how his team was going to do next year. It's all over, Case. Relax.

Those patient, long-suffering wives and/or girl friends of the ball team forced into the background as the boys talked about, well yeah, the ballgame.

The man-sized hamburgers and coffee and soft drinks and so on served up at his own expense by Gus Kleon, owner of Pete's Drive-In Restaurant on Yonge Street North. Mmmmm for good — and thanks.

And finally, Casey draining the last dregs of champagne out of the silver trophy while one of his men tilted it for him.

"Even the bubbles were good," he was heard to say.
