Budding Artist

Dr. Charles Birkett, of Maple, diagnoses the artistic talent of his daughter Norma, 4, a pupil at the Richmond Hill Co-operative Nursery School, held (usually) five mornings a week during the school year at Wrixon Hall of St. Mary's Anglican Church, Richmond Hill. The "usually" is because the picture was taken at a special Saturday morning session to mark fathers' day at the school. With the Birkett father and daughter is teacher Mrs. Paul Harris, of Richmond Hill, who gives the children lessons in conversational French, through songs and games.

M.P. Reports

ject, they can write to me here in Ottawa, and I will pass their plans on to the National Centennial Commission.
NATIONAL CELEBRATIONS Throughout Canada during 1967 there will be festivities which are national in scope, in keeping with Canadian prestige, and with Canada's ever-increasing greatness among the nations of the world.
All provinces and levels of government are co-operating together on the National Centennial Commission. There is another group, the Canadian Centennial Council, which is providing for co-ordination among all private groups in the country. Church and religious bodies, cultural organizations, business, labour and agricultural elements are all meeting together to plan the non-governmental national celebrations.

Other plans have included a "Mile of History" in Ottawa, a National Historical Train, travelling across the country, and perhaps a national monument.
Union Trustees
The government named three trustees to take charge of the five maritime unions, including the Seafarers' International Union. They are Mr. Justice Victor L. Dryer, Judge Rene Lippe, and Mr. Charles Millard.
Mr. Justice Dryer, 52, of Vancouver, is the chairman and is one of the West Coast's experts in labor law. He represented unions for many years in their battles with corporations and prior to becoming a judge was a member of a British Columbia Royal Commission.
His appointment is being interpreted as a guarantee that the S.I.U. will be fairly treated.
Judge Lippe is a Montreal labor mediator and recently settled the strike of the longshoremen on the Montreal docks. He has been a magistrate specializing in labour problems for 14 years.
Charles Millard is from Ontario. He originally was a small businessman and later became a union organizer. He served the unions internationally in Brussels with the International Confederation of Free Trade Unions, and has settled strikes in Africa and Asia.
The minister of labour has told Parliament that the trustees will be responsible to Parliament itself and so responsible to the people. The trustees were set up in the public interest and will serve the public interest by reporting to the people's representatives.
