Protests Stymie Planned Labour On Noble Street

Six letters from protesting ratepayers convinced Markham Township Council last week that plans to resurface Noble Street under the Local Improvement Act should be dropped.

Clerk H. C. T. Crisp produced the letters all of which complained about the township charging the improvements to the ratepayers on Noble Street. It was felt by the complainants that the township as a whole should bear the cost. Council decided that the local improvement action should be dropped.

Daily Transportation Costs 11c Per Pupil, Vaughan Board Told

Cost of transportation per pupil will be only 11c per day in 1963-64, Vaughan Township School Area Board learned Thursday evening. Comparative costs were 1962-63 14c, 1961-62 27c, 1960-61 35c.

In 1960-61 212 pupils were carried, of whom 80 were eligible for grants (the others were in the Jefferson area where transportation had been provided before formation of the township area); in 1961-62 transportation was provided for 224, all eligible, and in 1962-63 591 eligible pupils were transported.

In 1963-64 766 eligible pupils will be transported at a cost to the board of $17,220. Two years ago it was estimated that to provide adequate transportation in the township would cost three mills. The figure for this school year is less than one mill.

This happy state of affairs has been brought about by several factors, members of the board and staff told "The Liberal." A thorough knowledge of the township by Administrator Norman Jackson, co-operation with York Central District High School Board and the separate school board so there is little duplication of service on township roads, and by the contractor, Langdon Bus Line have helped to keep costs to a minimum. The fact that the bus line hires local drivers has also been an aid in keeping the system functioning smoothly, it was stated.

Markham Adopts Etobicoke Plan Requiring A Tree For Each Lot

Markham Township Council indicated Tuesday night that a poem it will never see "as lovely as a tree" when it adopted a policy set by Etobicoke Township.

The policy requires subdivisions to provide a tree for every lot or preserve one already on it. A charge of $8.80 would be levied toward provision of new trees on the roadside to replace ones taken down.

The recommendation came to council from its planning board. Deputy-reeve Allan Sumner, who represents council on the board, recommended that the policy be adopted and entered as part of the township's subdivision agreement.

Only dissenter was Councillor Stewart Rumble who felt the township was "adding a burden on the house-owner. It should be left up to the owner to plant one if he wants to."

Councillor Charles Hoover offered the suggestion that the owner "might like the shade." Deputy-reeve Sumner said Etobicoke and North York Townships were adopting the policy and felt it was an essential move to make in order to provide a proper amount of trees for built-up areas.

Councillor Rumble agreed trees were lovely but said he did not think the township "should force the trees on people." Reeve Charles Hooper felt it was an excellent idea stating the township had let subdivisions "take enough trees down around here as it is."

The question was introduced to council via a letter from Metro Toronto Planning Board. It stated that on September 24 of this year the Metro Council considered the following motion by Alderman Grayson:

"That the Metro Toronto Planning Board be requested to include a condition that the developer be required to provide at least one tree per lot in the subdivision. This would be done either by retaining existing trees or by planting a new one on each lot prior to occupancy. The size and type of any new tree would be specified by the area municipality concerned."

A preliminary survey of Metro's 13 municipalities revealed that only Etobicoke and North York had standard policies regarding trees in new residential subdivisions.

The Etobicoke provision reads: "Existing trees on land to be subdivided not to be removed without township permission. Where no trees exist a contribution of $8.80 per lot is required of the subdivider toward the provision of trees. These trees are planted only on the road allowance."

Bishop Dedicates Many Gifts At Emmanuel Church Anniversary

Emmanuel Church, Richvale welcomed the Rt. Rev. G. B. Snell, Coadjutor Bishop of Toronto, and Mrs. Snell on November 17. Because of its name the church does not have a patron saint's day, so this date was chosen as the nearest convenient day to Christmas with which the name of Emmanuel is so closely associated.

Many gifts were presented by congregation members on the "birthday" and the bishop conducted an impressive service during which the gifts were dedicated.

A ciborium was presented by Mr. and Mrs. H. Jarman in memory of their children's two grandmothers, Mrs. J. S. Oliver and Mrs. H. Jarman; a snuffer and tray for cruets was presented by Mr. and Mrs. J. Jellicoe in memory of Mr. T. Jellicoe.

Mrs. H. E. S. Hamilton presented a bread box in memory of her mother and Mrs. K. A. Thatcher presented a baptismal shell as a thankoffering. Also as thankofferings were a purple antependium from Mr. and Mrs. A. J. M. Ozmond, and a purple bourse and veil and purple Bible-markers from the Woman's Auxiliary.

Following the service, members of the W.A. served refreshments in the church hall, and the bishop met the congregation, renewing many old friendships. Rev. K. A. Thatcher then took Bishop Snell and Mrs. Snell next door to the new rectory into which the rector and his family moved recently. The bishop expressed his satisfaction at the growth of the congregation and the great strides being made towards the goal of a new and permanent church to be built on the present site in the near future.

G. Powell Meets Deputy - Minister

Last Thursday morning Mrs. Gayle Powell presented her theory of education to prevent addiction to smoking and drinking to William Stewart, Deputy Minister of Education and Jack Ross, director of health education branch, at Queen's Park.

She reports she received a very courteous hearing, and the two educators were very interested in her ideas which will be passed along to the health curriculum committee.

Mrs. Powell has spent four years in perfecting her ideas and has been in communication with many people who share her concern for the health of young people. She presented the deputy-minister with photostatic copies of 33 letters from leading citizens of the province who agree with her that some solution must be found for these growing problems of society.
