MINOR HOCKEY WEEK STARTS SATURDAY

It's that week in Canada again! What week? Why, Minor Hockey Week of course! From January 25 through to February, from Newfoundland to British Columbia, civic bodies everywhere will be issuing proclamations making the week an official event in every bailiwick and hamlet where water turns to ice.

As in years past the week will be marked by special games and special nights. Where possible, present N.H.L. greats, some of the venerable N.H.L. greats and stars of hockey leagues generally will be sought as guest referees, autograph signers and as you will. In some areas the games and celebrations will be held in indoor arenas ranging from the lavish to the strictly utilitarian.

A great many centres will, of necessity, conduct their programs on outdoor ice surfaces and consider themselves fortunate that the weather was so cooperative as to ensure a good, fast ice surface. No matter where, or what conditions prevail it will be a busy week for minor hockey executives across the length and breadth of Canada.

Needless to say, the hockey program across the country embraces thousands of boys and keeps them occupied for the better part of six months. The actual numbers are staggering and really don't convey too much of an idea of the effort involved, but coming closer to home over 800 boys are engaged in minor hockey in Richmond Hill. And our population is something less than 18,000 people.

Maybe the 800 figure isn't too impressive on the surface but comparing the effort with another Ontario Centre, Galt, with a population (Continued On Page 10)

Ted Westlake and his Markham Rural Operating Area team received attractive steins for being high two game winners in the first draw during the Ontario Hydro Central Region curling bonspiel at Richmond Hill Curling Club on Saturday. Presenting the steins at the left is D. M. "Dunc" Chamney, former personnel officer and Richmond Hill Rural Operating Area Manager for many years. Those in the picture receiving the steins with Mr. Westlake are H. A. "Hal" Wright, Hydro's Markham Rural Operating Area Manager, B. Wood and P. Scott. (Ontario Hydro Photo)

Hydro Curlers "Invade" Town

Ninety-six Ontario Hydro curlers took part in the third annual central region curling bonspiel at Richmond Hill Curling Club rink last Saturday.

Keith Dunn and his Sutton Rural Operating Area rink consisting of Hugh Lyons, Ken Hooper and Jim Taylor won the Adam S. Smith Trophy for the highest point accumulation during the day. The trophy was presented to the winning Sutton team by Ontario Hydro Chairman W. Ross Strike, who also participated in the central region hydro bonspiel, skipping the Bowmanville Rural Operating Area team.

The attractive silver cup was donated by central region Manager Adam S. Smith, for annual competition and each member of the winning rink received a miniature replica of the cup to be retained.

The three game winners in the first draw in the bonspiel were Earl Smith, George Park-Lund, Craigie's goals were scored by Calvin Cooke, Barney Corless, John Peck. Assists went to Tony Vandervalk, Terry Hall and Barney Corless.

Richmond Hill Legion 3 Butler and Baird 3 Bill Mitchell, Jim Dubkowski and C. Capolask handled the scoring honours for the Legion with assists going to Ron Saul, Erick Riswick and Carlo Capostoto. Scoring for the losers were Earl Smith, George Park-Lund, and Bill Wright. Assists went to George Parker and Brian Rushlow.

Upcoming Games The Richmond Hill Pee Wees, Bantams, and Midgets will be journeying to Newmarket this Friday night for games there. Games being at 7:45, 9 p.m., 10 p.m.

In other action, Richmond Hill Juveniles tee off against Nobleton in Nobleton at 9 p.m.

R.H.M.B.A. Plan For 1964 Season

Although baseball weather seems far away, Richmond Hill Minor Baseball Association already has plans well under way for the 1964 season.

At a meeting held in the town hall January 15 it was decided to extend the age limit of boys participating in the program one year. Registrations will be accepted from boys aged seven to under 17 as of January 1, 1964.

Registrations will be accepted at the Scout hall on April 4 and 11.

So that all players will have more opportunity to get into the game teams will be limited to a maximum of 15 players instead of 18 as formerly. Between 700 and 800 youngsters were included in the baseball teams last year, and it is expected there will be a considerable increase in numbers in 1964.

Harry Cox will be umpire-in-chief, Joe Cornack will head the rules committee, and the various divisions will be conduced by: Ray Brooks, squirt; Don Bromley, pee-wee; and Ed Burnett, bantam. Mr. Burnett will also serve as diamond co-ordinator.

Another meeting of R.H.M.B.A. is scheduled for January 30 to which all interested persons are invited.

Present at the January 15 meeting were President Ray Brooks, Ralph Davis, Ed Burnett, Joe Cornack, Jim Mansbridge, Harry Cox and Jack Thompson.

STOUFFVILLE: T.E. Topping has been re-appointed to the position on the Stouffville Public School Board for the current year. All members will hold office for a two-year term.

Golf School For Duffer Begins Locally Feb. 10

Does your wife or girl-friend ever aim a scornful fore-finger in your direction and accuse you of being "A duffer?"

She's probably referring to your golfing game which is less than perfect. But now you have a chance to improve it.

Starting February 10 a golf instruction school will be sponsored by the Men's Club of St. Matthew's United Church in Richmond Hill.

Instructor will be Robert Lamb who is club professional at the Summit Golf Club. The course will be held at the church at 325 Crosby Avenue.

Two courses will be held on different nights of the week with the first held each Monday from February 10 to March 30. The second will be held each Wednesday from February 12 to April 1st.

Membership cost is $10 for each adult and $5 for each student for eight lessons. Proceeds will go to the church treasury and will be used for debt retirement purposes.

Space limitation requires a maximum of 12 persons per class for four classes and a total of 48 applicants. Two classes will be held on each of the nights mentioned previously at 9 to 10 p.m. and 10 to 11 p.m.

Closing date for applicants is February 1. Applications accepted by date fees received.

Hunters' Safety Program Proves Very Successful

The hunter safety training program is becoming more stabilized in the Lake Simcoe District and should remain fairly constant according to Assistant Senior Conservation Officer J. S. Ellis in Maple.

Officer Ellis, who is directing the activities, stated instruction methods have improved and are more standardized. Instructors, he said, appear to be taking a pride in their work and satisfaction in the job being well done.

A total of 687 instructors held appointments in the Lake Simcoe District at the end of December, 540 of whom were considered to be active. Candidates certified on completing the training course numbered 3,122 during the past year.

Mr. Ellis said that instruction classes, sponsored by conservation clubs, are one of the main sources of the program's success with organized service clubs also to be commended.

A number of individual instructors servicing their immediate locality are also making a worthy contribution, he stated.

CURLING

A little celebrity dust will be sprinkled about the ice at the Richmond Hill Curling Club this weekend for the annual Sinner's Bonspiel.

Occasioning the celebrity dust will be the appearance of Toronto Argonaut football star Jackie Parker and Toronto radio personality Wally Crouter. They will team up as a rink with Fred Parker and Dave Donough.

Club manager Bruce Butterworth said a total of 144 curlers will participate in the bonspiel which begins Saturday morning. Up for grabs is the Sinner's Trophy.

The name Sinner's, incidentally, apparently originated with a group of members who do their curling on Sunday.

The ladies had themselves a curling ball during the middle of last week when they held their annual Five Year Philly Bonspiel.

Results: 9 a.m. draw, high two-game winner, Blanche Smith, of the Thornhill Club; and second two-game winner, Sue Fraser of the Richmond Hill Club. Other members comprising her winning rink included Flo Reeds, vice skip; Audrey Louden, secretary; and Andy (she's a girl, honest) Lynett, lead. Third high prize for one game went to a Mrs. Gerard of Parkway.

Cliff Bennett and his rink did themselves up proud last week as they journeyed to Bradford and came back eagerly clutching the Bradford Championship trophy.

His rink took the high three game score. Comprising it besides Richmond Hill Lion Cliff were Cliff Donnelly, Cam Cowan, and Floyd Perkins, skip.

Several Richmond Hill Curling Club rinks will be embarking for the wilds of Bracebridge this weekend to participate in the Muskoka International Mixed Bonspiel.

Leading the foray will be last year's trophy holders, Dalt and Shirley Hicks and Jack and Marg. Rummy. They're hoping to make it two in a row. Lots of "ruck!"

Other rinks making the trip are: Roy and Alba Currie, Murray and Bev. Stevenson; Art and Maisie Gibson, Dinty and Mornie Moore; Clem and Flo Reeds, Harold and Audrey Louden; and Willie and Marg Beresford, Al and Rena Warg.
