A. E. Cooney, federal emergency measures regional director for Ontario, called the meeting to draft survival plans for the central Ontario area. Similar committees are being formed in other parts of the province.

Emotionally Disturbed In Special Classrooms? Accomplish Much

Special Richmond Hill initiative should classes for emotionally disturbed children?

Pros and cons of such a proposal will be discussed at length if Richmond Hill Public School Superintendent Gordon McIntyre can bring about a meeting of Ontario Department of Education officials and local trustees.

York MOH Asks More Time Spent Meeting Public

Dr. Robert King, who directs York County's health unit activities, wants to get out from under his pile of papers and meet the public.

At the recent York County Board of Health meeting in Newmarket the medical officer of health in his 1964 budget details suggested upgrading the workload of his office supervisor and secretary.

"Both these people have demonstrated their ability and capacity for handling many of the important and varied office functions that up to the present time take up the immediate attention of the director," he told the board.

He said the rearrangement would give him more time to meet with municipal and public officials, councils and school boards "a valuable public relations activity which is unduly neglected."

Dr. King indicated demands on his time also included meetings with private organizations, appointment to office in such groups and to committees both locally as well as on the provincial and national level, which he said, couldn't be properly handled if he had to spend all his time on "petty detail."

The idea came up at last Thursday's trustees meeting when the Ontario Association for Emotionally Disturbed Children informed the board a special six weeks' course to equip teachers to cope with such classes will be offered.

The summer class will be conducted by the department's special services branch.

Chairman Harold Sanderson called the problem of the emotionally disturbed child in the school system. "A fantastic one."

"Everyone in education seems to be in the dark about where to place or send the emotionally upset child in the system. Even if his parents do get him to a clinic, it takes six months to get the results of tests."

Several of the trustees who attended the recent Newmarket seminar on the exceptional child said they came away with the impression, various experienced teachers in the field were at cross-purposes on how to handle the problem.

Six Municipalities Hire Jones To Prepare Goldenberg Brief

The six southern municipalities of York County agreed Friday evening to engage Murray V. Jones & Associates to prepare a brief setting forth their views to the Goldenberg Commission on Metropolitan Toronto.

Representatives of the six municipalities, Vaughan and Markham Townships, the Town of Richmond Hill and the Villages of Woodbridge, Markham and Stouffville, met with Mr. Jones in the Richmond Hill Council Chambers.

Murray Jones was present and presented an outline of what such a brief should contain. He proposed to include a review of physical development of the six municipalities since formation of Metropolitan Toronto and a projection of growth to 1973; the present degree of intermunicipal service agreements and projection of service requirements to 1973; and a review of planning relationship to Metropolitan Toronto.

The brief will also set out the development of possible alternative changes in the political structure of the area such as (1) amalgamation with Metropolitan Toronto, (2) no change, and (3) continuation of the present arrangement but with some modification in function and inter-municipal jurisdiction for certain services.

Mr. Jones said a great deal of material is already available because of his investigations in preparation of the York County brief. He promised a draft brief for consideration of the southern municipalities would be ready by March 10 or earlier but certainly not before March 1 as the county brief must be ready by February 24.

P.S. Men Teachers To Meet February 22

A salary implementation report and the budget will also be given to a report of the York County Teachers' Association, the report of the professional development and teacher certification committee, the report of delegates to O.P.S.M.T.F. and the report of the professional unity committee.

Peter Kurita, principal of Kleinburg Public School, formerly at Richvale, is president of the district federation and Ralph W. Brown of Charles Howitt School is secretary.

Pair Charged With Rape, Remanded For Preliminary

Appearing in court on the charge were Albert George Baldwin, 17, of Vanderbrant Crescent, Weston and Douglas Arthur Garbett, 22, Victory Crescent in Weston. Baldwin was remanded to February 18 and Garbett to March 10.

The case, involving a 15-year-old girl was referred from Metro Police to Vaughan where the offence is alleged to have taken place.

Need Another Inspector To Check Food Business

York County Medical Officer of Health Dr. Robert King was critical this past week of sanitary inspection of county food business.

He told York County Board of Health meeting in Newmarket February 5 there was "dangerously inadequate coverage by inspectors in the food-handling trade such as bakeries, supermarkets, butcher shops and delicatessens, etc. which at present are inspected on a hit and miss basis in response to customer complaints."

His comments were contained in a 1964 budget report to the board in which he recommended the hiring of an additional inspector for the county health unit.

Last year, the doctor said, eating establishments were inspected about four times a year but "there should be an inspection once a month" which could only be carried out with another staff member.

Dr. King also pointed to court proceedings over health violations in the past year and predicted an increase this year.

"Food poisoning episodes reported in the past year are disturbing," he said.

The health officer also told the board frozen foods and automatic food and beverage dispensers were not being adequately supervised.

New health board member this year, Richmond Hill Deputy-reve Stanley F. Tinker asked for a closer look by the health authorities at food concessions set up as part of spring and fall fairs in York County.

The board approved hiring another inspector when the health unit budget is approved by county council at Newmarket today or Friday.

"Fanny" On Trial Today

"Fanny Hill" may be banned in Boston, blasted in London, borrowed in Richmond Hill and will be the subject of a York County Court hearing today (Thursday) in Toronto.

Copies of the novel concerning the life of an 18th century prostitute were recently seized from Cole's Bookstores in Metro by Toronto morality squad detectives.

At Thursday's hearing, Judge Everett L. Weaver will ask the chain bookstore officials why the book should not have been seized.

First Public Here

The issue first became a public one last fall when Richmond Hill Police Chief R. P. Robbins borrowed copies of "Fanny" from the company's store here and asked for a ruling on its contents from the Attorney-General's panel on obscene literature.

The panel headed by David Coon of Stouffville said the novel was historic and artistic and that its members were adverse to making any ruling on its obscenity which might result in extra-legal suppression of the book. They also ruled the book might be found obscene if it became the subject of a court case.

In London, "Fanny" was judged obscene by Chief Metropolitan Magistrate, Sir Robert Blundell after a four-day trial that ended Monday. The chief London magistrate said he had no hesitation in coming to his decision.

Lawyer Jeremy Hutchinson, who successfully defended "Lady Chatterley's Lover" during that famous book trial in 1961 argued before Sir Robert that no one qualified to speak came forward to say "Fanny" was not literature.

In Boston, Massachusetts Superior Court Judge Eugene A. Hudson ruled the novel obscene and has called a hearing for March 11 where publishers, distributors and other sellers might offer evidence as to why the book not be banned throughout the state.

New York authorities are appealing a state supreme court ruling the work is not obscene.

Won't Enter Kiwanis

(Continued From Page 1) choirs are also concentrating on their performances for the April 14 and April 21 music festival in Richmond Hill "besides, the principals feel they want a change."

The Kiwanis Festival held at Eaton Auditorium and in various centres in Toronto is expected to draw more than 90 school bands in that category or in excess of 3,700 young musicians.

It is the world's largest annual musical competition which has mushroomed over the years into a gigantic annual extravaganza drawing audiences of more than 420,000 over the years and distributing upwards of $115,000 in cash and scholarships to further musical studies of its participants.

Several presentations were made at the annual meeting. White Cross Volunteers Chairman Mrs. R. L. Moore of Thornhill presented a five year pin to Mrs. Rose Zuck of Richmond Hill; Mrs. Fred Jackson of Richmond Hill presented a pin to former board director Mrs. Florence Murray of Aurora and Rev. G. K. Agar of King City presented Mrs. Harold Mark, wife of the late Rev. Mark of St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church in Newmarket, with a pin.

Among area members nominated for the board of directors in 1964 were the following: D. R. MacDonald, incumbent chairman from Thornhill; Dr. A. L. Rice, King City; Mrs. R. L. Moore, Thornhill; Mrs. William Rutledge, Markham; G. E. Ferguson, King City; Mrs. F. Sward, W. S. Cook, D. Middleton and Mrs. Jankowiak all from Richmond Hill; Rev. Agar, King City and Rev. A. F. Howick, Woodbridge.

An executive will be chosen at a future meeting.

TOWN OF RICHMOND HILL

I commend the observance of Brotherhood Week, February 16th to 23rd to all our citizens. It is well, at a time when the principles upon which our democracy is founded are gravely threatened, that we should reassert them firmly and rededicate ourselves to their daily practice. Brotherhood Week provides an opportunity to affirm our acceptance of the obligations implicit in the brotherhood of man under the Fatherhood of God.

T. BROADHURST, Mayor
