

Opening Service In New St. Mary's

The new St. Mary's Anglican Church was filled to overflowing for opening service last Sunday morning. The Rector, the Rev. James F. O'Neil is seen addressing his people as they rejoice in their fine new church designed by Brown, Brisley, Brown, Architects, and built by Perwin Construction Co. The old church which is a landmark on Yonge St. has served the parish for 92 years and remains as the children's church and chapel. Dedication of the new stone church will be on October 26. ## Beverley Acres Plans Under Consideration

(Continued from Page 1) In the case of sidewalk construction abutting Richmond Hill High School a width of four feet will be provided by the town and any additional sidewalk width will be paid for by the high school board. Under new business council decided that where practicable the town will replace trees on town property, removed, destroyed or damaged throughout the town. This work will be under the control of the works commission. Further works contained in the works committee report implemented by council included: New Well

A meeting with the Ontario Water Resources Commission in regard to exploration and development of a new well in the town system. Yonge St. Sewer Proctor and Redfern were also instructed to prepare tenders, plans and specifications for the storm sewer construction on Yonge Street, Crosby Avenue to north of Levensdale Road. A tender call will be published immediately upon receipt of approval from the Department of Highways. The quotation by Richmond Hill Tree Service and Forestry Co. Ltd. for removal of dead trees located on town property in various locations was accepted. Permission was granted to the separate school board to brace their new fence at St. Joseph's Separate School according to their submitted plan. Soil tests on two town-owned lots on South Taylor Mills were authorized. Councillor Scudds reported that it was felt improved drainage in the area could have had a beneficial effect on these lots. The works commissioner was authorized to call tenders for a one-way snow plow, complete with necessary tower and wing.

He was also authorized to obtain and accept quotations for adjustments to manhole tops as requested by the Department of Highways on Yonge Street, Levensdale Road to Markham Road, and the supply and laying of plant-mixed asphalt to extend the present pavement at Blue Grass and Neal Drive intersections at Elgin Mills Road. The works commissioner was authorized to cancel tenders for the waterworks utility truck and crane and to publish tenders for a half ton pickup for the waterworks department.

Exciting Decor And Costumes For Curtain Club's Pygmalion

Over the years since its first production, audiences for Pygmalion have come to expect beautiful sets ranging from the opening London Street scene with its flower-sellers, hawkers, theatre-goers and rowdies to an extravagant glittering ballroom scene with Eliza, the fairest of them all! The Curtain Club, renowned for its excellent sets, will again delight Richmond Hill audiences with five scene changes, including one where Eliza ingeniously takes a bath on stage! Responsible for the attractive sets is designer Bill Denison, a graduate of the Parsons School of Design in New York. Bill is well known for his many acting roles with the club, the last being Sparkish in The Country Wife. Associated with him in turning out a beautiful blue English drawing room and a Higginsish library, is Anne Featherstonhaugh who has twice won the Central Ontario Stage Design Award for Curtain Club festival entries.

To dress the elegant Edwardian dramatic personae who inhabit these scenes, is a newcomer to the Curtain Club. She is Maria Kucharski, a costumer who studied fashion design in Berlin. Mrs. Kucharski has recently moved to the Hill with her husband who is a camera man with C.F.T.O. She has always been interested in the theatre and Pygmalion cer-

Building Links Past, Present

Repeated calls to members of council failed to get desired results and the hydro inspector refused to make his inspection for four days.

Mr. Neal recalls with a chuckle, "I reported him and he was suspended, but I was so angry. I said, 'I'll see who's going to run this town and vowed I would run for council next election. I did and was elected."

Mr. Neal has continued this interest in municipal work, was Richmond Hill's first mayor and as recently as 1963 served his second term in that office.

He will continue serving the community as a Dodge-Chrysler dealer and as issuer of motor vehicle licences in his brand-new premises on North Yonge Street at Elgin Mills sideroad.

Mr. Neal told this reporter "The old building has been very good to us and we have had a very happy 34 years in it. We are sorry to see it go, but progress is inevitable." Mrs. Neal added, "We always had such good neighbors here, we are going to miss them."

Because the building has stood on its present site, Mr. Neal pointed out that the building is five feet over the present street line. "It's a good long-standing example of a non-conforming use, about which we hear a lot these days," he commented.

Annex 50 Acre Industrial Site?

(Continued from Page 1) acre, and in Vaughan Acres from $9,200 to $12,500 per acre. Immediate returns in taxes will be considerable, he maintained.

Mr. Jones reported his company receives financial backing from the Standard Insurance of Great Britain.

Mayor Broadhurst stated the proposal "as far as I am concerned meets all conditions I would require personally to approve annexation and rezoning of this land. Timing is important and very crucial," he continued. "There has been a tremendous upsurge during the present year and if Richmond Hill is not to miss the boat saleable land must be available for the beginning of the next building season."

Mr. Jones agreed that time is of the essence. "We also are concerned about industries going elsewhere," he stated. "The sooner annexation and rezoning takes place, the sooner we can get going on development."

His firm has its own architectural standards, a copy of which will be sent to the planning board.

Councillor Robert Saunders said "a salient part of discussions is the fact we are dealing with an industrial developer, not a land developer only, who will realize a profit from construction of buildings on the property. The firm will insist on fairly large buildings, of attractive architecture and sound construction because they are the ones who will benefit."

Services from the roadline to the buildings will be the responsibility of the developer. Maximum size of building on five acres, Mr. Paterson reported, allowing for railway spur, setback, parking and loading space will be about 75,000 feet.

1967 Twp. Library Still Not Decided, Lions Want Answer

(Continued from Page 1) One of the Lions said "If the library doesn't want the money ($36,000 in federal-provincial grants if the township raised the other $18,000) then we do?"

He told Mr. Keffer, acting reeve, "You boys aren't supposed to be asleep. You come and shake my hand at election time and make me promises. I hope you're not going to pass this up."

Kleinburg Library Board, the only one officially recognized in the township has suggested as its project that Vaughan build a library in Maple as central depot, a branch in Richvale and use the rest of the money to begin a collection of books with emphasis on their historical value.

They made this recommendation at a special meeting of their board September 23 AFTER the township committee met the night before, according to a letter read by Councillor McConkey.

She said Vaughan could apply for the grant by the November 9 deadline without actually having any specific plans since its approval would be contingent on whether or not necessary debentures for Vaughan's share were approved.

38 R.H. Teachers Take Night Maths Course

Thirty-eight teachers in Richmond Hill Public Schools are attending a mathematics in-service course at Bayview Secondary School which opened September 18. Approximately 80 teachers from this area are registered in the course.

Twenty teachers from the town schools will obtain one-half a credit for salary purposes and 18 are attending at the request of their principals and the superintendent.

Thursday evening Richmond Hill Public School Board agreed to pay the $10 fee for each of these 18 teachers. They have signed forms stating they do not expect any credit for salary purposes from attendance but that they will attend all sessions of the course.
