

Best Turkey Ever!

A plump, golden-brown turkey on the table is the season's No. 1 tradition. In this day and age knowing cooks know that preparing the bird is not a complicated job. They know, too, that the simple addition of Ac'cent will make their turkey more flavorful, both inside and out. You'll have the best turkey ever this year if you'll follow these easy tips:

- Estimate the number of servings desired for the traditional holiday feast and afterward. A 6- to 8-pound bird serves about 10; a 14- to 16-pound bird about 20.
- Store frozen turkey in its wrapper to retain its moisture. Thaw gradually in the refrigerator, allowing about 12 hours for a small turkey and 24 hours for a large one. Remove wrapped giblets from turkey cavity.
- Wash turkey in cold running water. Pat inside dry with paper towels and leave outside moist.
- Sprinkle the skin and cavities with Ac'cent to bring out the natural turkey flavor and emphasize the juicy quality of the meat. Use 1/2 teaspoon Ac'cent per pound of turkey. Sprinkle half the amount over the skin and inside the cavities; divide remainder between stuffing and gravy.
- Allow about 3/4 cup stuffing per pound of bird and pack loosely; it swells during roasting.
- Roast turkey in a slow oven (325°F.) under a "tent" of aluminum foil to eliminate basting. Allow about 30 minutes a pound for birds under 12 pounds; 20 to 25 minutes for larger birds.
- After bird is cooked, let it stand about 20 minutes before serving. This allows the juice to be better absorbed and makes carving easier.

83 In Attendance As Mathematics Course Overcomes Public And Secondary School Barriers

Nowhere else in Ontario have the traditional barriers between primary and secondary school systems come down to the extent that they have in York Central area.

This is largely due to the mathematics liaison committee set up last year with representatives of Vaughan, Markham and Richmond Hill public and secondary school boards and those of York Central District High School Board.

At the present time 83 teachers from all the school areas which feed into the York Central high schools are attending a 20 week in-service training course at Bayview Secondary School.

Program for the course is the work of York Central's master mathematics teacher, E. E. Totton and Denis Middleton, principal of Pleasantville Public School, Richmond Hill.

As a member of the original committee appointed by the Ontario Teachers' Federation to work on the new mathematics curriculum for public and secondary school, and co-author of the first authorized text book on the subject, Mr. Totton was well placed to find lecturers for the course and he and Mr. Middleton both drew freely on their many friends and associates who are involved in this revolution in one of the basics of education. S. D. Chapman, superintendent of York Central high schools was also on the first committee and has enthusiastically supported the liaison committee.

Next two lecturers the teachers will hear are Murray Branigan of Lakeshore Teachers' College and Mrs. Ruth Sholnick, of C. D. Parsons Junior High School in North York. Mrs. Scholnick is chairman of mathematics for North York and was also a member of the original curriculum committee.

Also scheduled to speak is Mrs. V. Trotter, mathematics consultant for the Forest Hill Board of Education who will discuss the implementation of the new mathematics in grades 1, 2 and 3. Douglas Bornhold, a North York inspector will also give two lectures.

While the new mathematics is being taught in all grade 7 and 8 classes in all areas, most areas are preparing to have it taught in other grades as well.

At Pleasantville School, which has been the centre of the revolution in Richmond Hill, the new math is being taught from grade 1 up. The first four grades lean heavily on concrete teaching materials and grade 1 children for instance, will not write numerals until Easter. They will use blocks and heads and join circles as they are taught the structure of mathematics. They will also learn several basic geometric concepts.

Teachers enjoy teaching the new method, says Mr. Middleton, as there is no memorizing and no drill, all the emphasis being placed on the child's discovery of mathematical principles.

Last year the heads of all the York Central mathematics departments and many of their supervising the teaching in her rounds through Vaughan schools.

Neither Mr. Middleton nor Mr. McDonald could foresee any particular difficulty in having the whole system geared to the new approach. The Department of Education has approved one set of textbooks for the early grades and publishers are now working on texts for grades 3 to 6. Last year's Professional Development Day (what used to be known as "teachers' convention") all teachers spent part of a day hearing about the new course, and Mr. Middleton felt that they would be well able to use the new texts when they are authorized.

Mr. Middleton stressed, too, how fortunate the Richmond Hill area is in having two of the members of the original mathematics curriculum committee, Mr. Totton and Mr. Chapman, in the local high school system.

Dear Mr. Editor

(Continued From Page 2) children. As regards the Mayor's remarks in which he stated no complaints have been received by himself, this is very wrong. I myself on behalf of our association have brought this to his attention at a meeting which he and Mr. James Haggart, along with other prospective candidates, attended prior to the last election, and again at the Richmond Hill High School meeting held by the Southwest Ratepayers Association, and furthermore I have been advised personally by Reeve Haggart that plans were in hand for the storm sewers, etc. in Beverley Acres. Maybe, however, I was at fault for not ascertaining which year he was referring to.

However, it is staggering to hear that a situation such as presently exists, and that has been a blot on our area, and town, and a source of great contention by the residents in particular who are personally affected, can be described by our mayor as not being an urgent problem. Are we to believe, your worship, that if we close our eyes and ignore it, the filth, disease, dirt and flooding will disappear?

Well residents of Ward 1, especially those who are so directly affected, I on behalf of my association will be only too pleased to ensure that our mayor does hear your complaints, so either write or phone me at 884-5765, and your feelings will be very quickly imparted to Mayor Broadhurst and our council.

Before closing I would finally add that our friends in the Southwest Ratepayers Association have made known repeatedly to council that they themselves feel that instead of spending approximately $600,000, on a project that the majority of residents are against, the money would be more wisely spent on an urgent program such as we have in this area.

Yours very truly,
I. H. MANSBRIDGE,
President,

RECREATION IN RICHMOND HILL

Dear Mr. Editor: Reading through the recently distributed list of recreational facilities available in Richmond Hill, the committee is to be congratulated on the variety offered, but it seems that the same group that was not catered for last winter is to be disappointed again this year.

St. Mary's Anglican Church is indeed filling a need in opening its doors for "Teenagers and Up", with its Fragments Coffee Club.

Could not the governing body of some similar organization be moved to make space available where our young people can rock'n'roll and possibly play pool once or twice a week?

There is a real need for a place where they can get together and so have no resentment because the only dance on the weekend is for adults, while their only meeting place is the street corner!

Was there a "Rumble in Richmond Hill"? To quote Sir John Hunt, director of the Duke of Edinburgh Award Scheme for Youth—Our children need our help, not our recriminations."

Mr. and Mrs. D. Goulding visited the Upper Canada Village in Morrisburg last week and enjoyed sight seeing on the Thousand Islands.

The Jefferson Community Club started the fall season with a ladies meeting at the school last Wednesday night. Plans were made for the annual fall bazaar to be held this year on November 7. Tickets for the tea and door prize are available from any member of the club - the first prize is to be an electric blanket. The convenors for the bazaar are Mrs. K. Ruston, Mrs. A. Jones, Mrs. W. Burns, Mrs. E. Gamble, Mrs. C. Morris and Mrs. B. Safruk.

The ladies discussed selling Christmas cards, which if all sold, would earn the club a 75-cup coffee urn and it was decided to try this. The question of having a skating rink at the school was raised but no definite decision was made.
