The Week's Happenings In Maple

Cemetery Restoration
On October 25, the CBC will present on "Country Calendar" a program concerning the restoration of the cemetery at Hope. Bob Corbert saw the huge cross constructed of brick, with name plates of people once buried in the cemetery, placed along the sides and it occurred to him to present the idea on "Country Calendar" so as to suggest further projects of the same, carried through on other old cemeteries. The program televised at 1:30 p.m. on Channel 6 will relay the cemetery as it was in the wilderness, then as the restoration project was completed.

Birthday
Chuck Fraser of Lancer Dr. celebrated his 11th birthday October 15.

United Church Women
The Dorcas Unit met October 13 at 2 p.m. with Mrs. Borrett presiding, Mrs. Hunter and Mrs. G. Johnstone in charge of a devotional period. On October 27 a general meeting will be held in the C. Room at 8:15 after the order of business. Mrs. D. Bigford will show a colored film of the Holy Land where she and Dr. Bigford visited in the Eastern season. Anyone interested in the film would be welcome.

It is desired Hope United Church Ladies will be supported in their first endeavour of a bazaar and bake sale in Maple United Church C. E. building October 24 from 2-5 p.m.

Women's Institute News
A well attended and interesting meeting of the Maple Women's Institute was held at the home of Mrs. Milton Palmer, October 14. After opening exercises Mrs. Corbell gave a fine report of the county rally held at Victoria Square, telling of the work of the York County Society and also of the new hall and kitchen in Victoria Square. Mrs. A. Snider very ably spoke on citizenship and education, and asked "What is a Canadian?" stressing the rule of English liberty. Miss Helen Payne recited "The Oath of Allegiance" and "The Canadian Bill of Rights."

Mrs. C. Harris gave a good account of her trip to the convention in Wolfville, Nova Scotia.

Mrs. N. Payne showed interesting pictures of the wonderful scenery and historical landmarks of the Maritime provinces.

The resolutions were read and some were given an affirmative for the convention in November.

The bus trip to Hockley Valley was a wonderful success as the red, gold and yellow leaves were at their best.

Mrs. J. Leece gave the courtesies and a committee composed of Mrs. A. Snider, Mrs. C. Harris and Mrs. Andrew served a delicious lunch.

Next meeting will be at the home of Mrs. H. Jennings, November 11. The committee will be Mrs. Kerswell and Mrs. A. Jones.

Shower
Viola Wilcox of Keele St. held a surprise baby shower for Mrs. C. Line of Ontario St., October 7. She had been invited to a Tupperware demonstration, which actually turned out to be a shower for her, and it took her quite by surprise. The miscellaneous shower was attended by a great number of friends who brought her lovely gifts. A lunch was served afterwards.

Lions Auction
On October 24, Maple Lions Club will be holding an appliance and furniture auction from 12-5 p.m. at the community centre.

Anyone wishing to donate articles, please contact Ray James at 832-1474. Auctioneer will be Gordon Orr of King City.

Many Showers
There were many showers held for Irene Blakelock, who was married to Donald Alice on October 17.

Florence Strachan and Dorothy Gerret gave a Maple community miscellaneous shower on October 13; another was given for her by Diana Halliwell in Woodbridge; another by Mary Elizabeth Dowsett, maid of honor in Richmond Hill, and still another was given for her by the Maple bank

Concord News

Spouse Likes Mouse
What does one do when confronted with a six-year-old who looks as if her heart would break should you decide she can't keep her baby mouse? Well, we let her keep it figuring the poor thing wouldn't survive without its mother anyway.

However, luck was with the mouse and three days later he's still with us.

Two more days and I deliver my ultimatum — the mouse or me and no children voting please! Even my faithful spouse is for the mouse.

"It's only a baby," he says. He looks upon the whole deal as an experiment and he and the tads are actually trying to keep the pe(s)it alive.

I think the whole thing is a subversive scheme to weaken my resistance to the point where I'll think a puppy is a wonderful pet.

Sports Here and There
First and foremost this week our thoughts are with Pete Nuttall who is probably more disappointed than anyone on his failure to qualify in his Olympic event.

Had he run at his regular time he would have placed first in the heat in which he was eliminated.

Just think of this the next time you feel that a fraction of a second means nothing.

To Pete it meant the difference between the chance to compete and being eliminated altogether.

I'm sure I can speak for everyone when I say that we are as proud now as when Pete was chosen to represent Canada in the Olympics.

Happy Birthday
Many happy returns of the day to the following who have a birthday this week: Robert Thomas Howden, formerly of Edgeley, who will be three October 18; Mrs. Homer Whitmore and her son-in-law, Eldon Fierheller, October 22 and Sandy Agnew, October 24.

Best wishes to Mr. and Mrs. Charles Agnew on their wedding anniversary October 23.

Reminder: October 25 is the date which marks the return to standard time in our area.

Get well quick wishes to Ernest Poole of Holland Landing who is recuperating nicely in York County Hospital from a heart condition. His brothers George and Allen visited him Sunday and report that he is feeling much better.

Mrs. C. H. Boake showed her slides of the national Women's Institute convention held in Prince Edward Island in June at a recent meeting of the Vellore Women's Institute.

The ladies also enjoyed seeing slides taken at the 50th anniversary meeting of the Edge-

Pony, Poem Enlivens Teston Wedding

When Evelyn Kathleen Ambrose, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Ambrose, R.R. 2, Maple and Gregory Wayne Robson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Robson of RR2, Woodbridge were married this fall at Teston United Church, their wedding was lived with the help of Frank Robson of Maple.

Mr. Robson, rigged out a pony and cart for the young newlyweds for a ride around Teston on their way to a reception and later, officiating minister Rev. Martin R. Jenkinson composed a poem for the pair.

Cinderella used a pumpkin coach
The King and Queen a carriage
The best "rig" I've yet seen was
At Wayne and Evelyn's marriage.

The day was bright and beautiful
Also this too should be said
That hundreds had come out to see
This happy couple wed.

The spirit over all was gay
It was blithesome... not petty
Much thanks for this delightful state
Must go to Frank and Betty.

The newlyweds stood at the door
Received congratulations
From all the folk assembled there
Their friends and their relations.

And there where everyone could see
And all dolled up real Tony
Stood a cute little jaunting car
And in the shafts a pony.

The hundreds shouted "Oh" and "Ah"
The bride said, "My, it's ducky!"
For she, dear soul, the pony knew
'Twas Betty's pony "Lucky".

The pony stood so quiet and still
Mid all the human mutter
And for the pony, let me say
He was as fat as bread and butter.

The happy bridegroom took the reins
"Lucky" moved on prancing feet
Took the couple for a ride on
Teston's main and shaded street.

Betty, who owns this gentle beast
Is worth a word of mention
For she has smiled her way through pain
And bravely scorned attention.

A broken ankle was her "cross"
You want to know how? Of course
Well, on this gracious little miss
There fell (now don't laugh) a horse!

She never cried throughout the trial
She acted downright plucky
And isn't it so nice to know
The culprit wasn't "Lucky".

For they are both the best of pals
This is plainly to be seen
For Betty can, with charming grace
Handle "Lucky" like a queen.

Betty was there to see her pet
And smiled and laughed so much
That people in their own delight failed
To notice the aiding crutch.

There is an ending to all things
This truth you've no doubt found
The happy folk we there had met
Were soon all homeward bound.

The last of all the happy sights
It was one you may have seen
Was "Lucky" on his homeward way
And driven by a Queen.

God's blessing on you, little maid
And all your dear ones at home
Thanks, dear, for a tale to tell
The form of this little poem.

Zion Lutheran Church

Zion Lutheran Church
Gold and bronze chrysantheums were placed on the altar October 11 by Mr. and Mrs. Earl Davidson of Sherwood on the occasion of the 43rd wedding anniversary October 12 of Mrs. Davidson's parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. Roy Keffer of Thornhill.

On Thanksgiving Sunday, October 11, the congregation enjoyed soloist Mrs. Jean Hansen of Maple who sang the hymn "Take My Hand and Trust in Me."

The meeting of the church council was held at the church October 13 with 12 members in attendance.

Pastor Emil Lange opened the meeting with scripture reading and a discussion on evangelism.

Pierre Auger, council president, accepted the minutes read by Harry Medensky, secretary and also the treasurer's report made by treasurer Laurie Grahman.

Reports from the different committees followed and general business was then discussed.

Police Reported Three Accidents

Vaughan Police reported three accidents over last weekend, none of which were serious.

On October 16 at Keele and Richmond Streets, cars driven by Luigi Zumpetta, 18, of Lawton Avenue, Toronto and Mary W. Delta, 39, of South River, Ont., were in collision in mid-intersection. Damage totalled $150. No one was hurt and no charges laid.

On Sunday, on Maple Sideroad in front of York Central Hospital, an accident involved Edith M. Gillard, 49, of Church Street, Richmond Hill and Barbara Jean Wise, 19, of Markham. The Wise car skidded into the first car causing $25 damage; neither woman was hurt; police said. No charges were laid.

Also Sunday around 9 p.m. on Dufferin Street north of Maple Sideroad, a car driven by Mary Rochefort, 17, of Pleasant Avenue, Willowdale, was forced to take to the ditch and struck a culvert. No one was injured and damage was $125.

Edgeley Notes

W. I. held at the home of Mrs. J. W. Dalziel last year.

Wedding
Harry Rylsdam, a three-year employee on the farm of Carn, Boake, was married Saturday in the Christian Reform Church in Toronto.

He and his Dutch bride will be making their home at the old MacDougall home in Edgeley.

Among those who attended the wedding were Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Boake and Mr. and Mrs. Robert Graham and their daughter, Betty Jean.

Named Chairman
Mrs. C. H. Boake has been named chairman of the Transport Committee of the Maple Unit, Cancer Society, for the coming year.

Lowe Lad Tops At Fair

Edward Lowe, 9, of Maple's Fifth Concession, walked off with the Reserve Grand Championship in the junior calf class recently at Woodbridge's fall fair. He showed one of his family's Holstein calves to win the award, although he's not yet old enough to become a member of a calf club. A grade 6 student at Joseph Gibson School in Maple, he is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Lowe. The Lowe herd also won the grand champion award at the fair.
