Richmond Hill East High Style Hats & Furs Seen By Guide Mothers

By MARGARET McLEAN
"How are you going to keep them down on the farm, after they've seen Paris?" might well have been used as background music to the hat and fashion show held at St. Gabriel Anglican Church, Richmond Hill East, October 14.
And while the ladies might not actually have seen Paris, the styles they saw were definitely meant to be going places — and not just to the corner supermarket!

Sponsored by the local association of Guides and Brownies for Richmond Hill East the show featured hats from Georgena Spearn, ensembles from Patricia White and furs by Ken Stiff, all of Richmond Heights Centre.
"This year my fair lady wears a hat" began commentator Mrs. Betty McConvey of the Patricia White Shop. She assured her audience that there is a hat to suit every face and then proceeded to introduce a series of attractively dressed models, each wearing an equally attractive hat.
A French seal pill box in pale beige color topped a graceful outfit worn by Maria Kuyten consisting of a trim mink-toned wool suit and a brown dyed persian lamb jacket trimmed with Canadian mink.
Judy McConvey next appeared wearing a masterpiece of a champagne colored sheared muskrat coat, a strong competitor to beaver. With this she wore a dramatic hat of leopard fabric, with a high crown and broad brim.

Markham Twp. Police Answered 862 Calls

Markham Township Police answered a total of 862 calls last month according to the regular report of the department tabled with council. The cruisers travelled 12,464 miles and cost $522.15 to operate. The number of traffic accidents investigated was 22 and there were 131 traffic charges laid. Liquor charges for the month numbered 16, fraud 11 and breaking and entering 11.

Proceeds will be used for Guide and Brownie work in the Richmond Hill East area and it is hoped to buy a large tent for the girls for next summer.
