Council Rejects Library Based On 1967 Grants

King Township Council last week rejected King Memorial Library Board's request for $16,000 centennial grant funds for a new building.
On behalf of the library board, village resident Kenneth Chesney on September 28 asked King City Village Trustees to collaborate in converting the police village library to a township library set-up.
The proposal did not meet with approval of trustees, who recommended applying to township council for $15,000 centennial grant for a police village library.
In the meantime personnel of the seven-member library board changed, necessitated by Chairman William Reynolds moving to Toronto and Secretary-Treasurer Mrs. George Berry to Schomberg district.
Wilfred Jennis succeeded Mr. Reynolds as representative of the separate school board. His fellow representative, Gus Clarke, has been absent on a trip to Ireland.
A 1960 village trustee, Warren McKendry, was appointed by trustees as village representative, replacing Mrs. Berry. Mr. Chesney remained as a village appointee.
School Section 2 Board is represented on the board by Mrs. A. E. Kelley and Ian Gilchrist.
At a Thanksgiving Day regular meeting, trustees passed a by-law enabling Trustee Donald Findlay to substitute on occasion for Chairman John Mann on the board. As part of the chairman's office, Mr. Mann is ex-officio member of the board.
When the board decided October 14 to apply on the altered basis of a village library, the figure was set at $16,000.
Mr. Chesney asked that the library minutes record his opposition to the application for a village library building.
He maintained trustees had not given sufficient guarantee of financial backing if the proposal were turned down by the township.
Chief Librarian Mrs. A. E. Jarvis presided until Ian Gilchrist, an aeronautical engineer, was unanimously chosen chairman after being nominated by Mr. McKendry.
Serving his third year, Mr. Gilchrist has already had the experience of being board chairman, appearing before

Whitchurch Centennial Project

Reeve Frank Williams has arranged for a joint meeting of Whitchurch Township Council and the recreation committee to decide what program should be adopted for a centennial project. This will be the main topic of discussion at a meeting to be held this week.
Last week the majority of council members felt that the purchase of a site and the erection of a building near the Ballantrae Public School would assist the promotion of recreational activities in that community. The expenditure was estimated at $20,000.

Heart Foundation Forming Chapter

Only a few people turned out for the first meeting of the Ontario Heart Foundation held last Wednesday at the Ridge Inn.
There is a chapter being formed in the Oak Ridges-Lake Wilcox area and Mrs. Freda Munro has accepted the position of president, but more people are needed to form a chapter.
Another meeting will be held and notices will be in the local papers.
M. H. Robertson, executive director of the foundation spoke a few words on heart and circulatory diseases and also showed a film "The Good Old Days" starring Donna Reed, showing differences of years ago and the present in the death rate, doctor care, hospital care and methods used from then until now.
Mrs. J. A. P. Clark of Thornhill was also present. She is the representative of western Ontario and both she and Mr. Robertson are very enthusiastic workers for the Heart Foundation.
Mr. and Mrs. Grant McCaCen provided a meeting place at the Ridge Inn, and also served lunch and coffee after the film.

Temperanceville United Church Scene Of Fildey - Annand Wedding

Temperanceville United Church was the scene of a very pretty autumn wedding when Diane Helen Annand, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Annand of Aurora, became the bride of Edgar Arthur George Fildey, son of Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Fildey of Newmarket.
The church was decorated with tall standards of yellow and bronze mums and autumn leaves. Rev. Earle Stotesbury conducted the ceremony, and the organist was Mr. Fred Weir, of Toronto.
The bride, who was escorted down the aisle by her father, wore a full length gown of lace and net over taffeta, with sequin trim on the bodice, and long sleeves coming to a point over her hands. She wore a string of cultured pearls and earrings to match the gift of the groom. Her headdress was a waist length veil caught to a tiara of seed pearls, and she carried a bouquet of red roses and white button mums.
Mrs. Alex Sulek was matron of honor for her sister, and wore a street length sheath of yellow taffeta with a nylon overskirt. Bridesmaid was Miss Helen Steele, cousin of the bride who chose a green sheath, matching that of the matron of honor. They wore flower hats and shoes to match, and carried yellow and bronze mum cascade bouquets.
The groom was attended by Mr. Robert McEachern as groomsmen, and the ushers were Mr. Alex Sulek, brother-in-law of the bride, and Mr. Edgar Storms, uncle of the groom.
The reception was held in the church parlors, where the bride's mother received in an egg-shell sheath and jacket, matching shoes and bag, and ice blue hat and gloves and pink carnation corsage. She was assisted by the groom's

Oak Ridges HSA Elects Executive

The first meeting of Oak Ridges Home and School Association was held at the school, October 20 with a good turnout of parents and teachers.

Kittens, Buffalo Robe, Baking Bring Lions Cash

BY HELEN HOUSTON
Five purry tortoise shell kittens and three part-Dalmatian puppies found new homes as a result of King City Lions' annual auction in the park.
Youngsters eagerly bought the kittens at 25 cents. The dogs, resting comfortably in the arms of new owners, exchanged home for fees ranging from $1 to $5.
Auction Chairman Fergus Lawson, in thanking the many contributors in the village and surrounding area, estimated a profit of $1,500.
Each year the amount of proceeds from the sale has been increasing, enabling Lions to carry on community welfare and sports activities.
King City Lion Gordon Orr and Schomberg Lion Harold Russell kept the sale moving briskly throughout the afternoon, aided by the busy club membership.
The community event is gradually becoming a reunion for those attending, and a few out-of-towners returned to greet former neighbors.

The weatherman helped by producing his best 80-degree sunshine.
Rarely is a typewriter donated to the auction. This year customers competed for three. Two full-size machines sold for $18 and $14. A portable typewriter in a black case brought $18.50.
An ancient cutter raised $21, while a black buffalo robe, once used for sleigh travel sold for $10.
A golden chaise longue, an elegant touch among furniture which had seen better days, was snapped up for $26.
Frank Powell's truckload of dirt displayed in the park brought $15. Cadden Brothers' offer of a load of top soil was a bargain at $9.
The Kingsview resident who bought a brand new pair of snow tires for $27 found the purchaser of the next pair had to pay $29 to outbid others.

Toys at 10 and 25 cents made bidding possible for young patrons. One lad's 25-cent offer enabled him to take home a dozen tins of black lacquer for painting a "hot rod". Baby carriage wheels were still in demand for boys' building projects.
The wide range of saleable items arranged in and outside the barn included furniture of varying vintage; a hand-cranked table for sorting potatoes of different sizes; children's chairs and play pens; stoves, washing machines, refrigerators, a treadle sewing machine, beds, books, radios, record players, bicycles and dolls.
A sturdy hall mirror with attached clothes hooks sold for 50 cents. Flower pots ranged from 25 to 55 cents; house plants, 25 cents. A new oven roaster went for $6. A collapsible play pen netted $3.50; a bushel of dahlia roots, $1.60; two haversacks, $1.00; an electric can opener, $2.75.

A young evergreen in sacking, ready for planting, sold for $3.75. Antifreeze ranged from $2 to $2.50 a gallon. One customer took a chance on an electric iron and toaster for a total of 50 cents.
Floor and table lamps were numerous. Mr. Orr had no difficulty disposing of a voucher for car seat belts, installed. Framed paintings went as high as $7. A baby's stroller in excellent condition sold for $1.25. Inside the barn a counter was set up for the sale of fresh produce by Ray Love and Fergus Lawson.
Bushels of apples sold for $1.70 and $2.35. Customers had a choice of pumpkins, squash, potatoes, baskets of onions, carrots and turnips.

Lion Ted Wallas supervised the used clothing on hangers from a makeshift rack, a horizontal ladder suspended from the ceiling. Coats, dresses and footwear raised $80.
In mid-afternoon home-baking contributed by Lions wives went on sale, netting about $75. Eggs and preserves were sold at the same counter.
The baking committee was headed by Mrs. Joseph Houlton, Mrs. Ray Love, Mrs. Ross Farquhar, Mrs. Wilbert Jennings and Mrs. James Wemyss.
Treasurers "Nip" Armstrong and Jack Walkington were kept so busy they had difficulty keeping pace with bids recorded by the clerks, Don Hadwin, Bert Lukes, Wib Jennings, Ross Farquhar and John Langdon.
Lake Marie and King Athletic Association did a thriving business at the refreshment booth.

Temperanceville News

Correspondent: Mrs. W.G. Jennings Phone PR. 3-5892
Fire has removed two landmarks from our community in recent weeks. The house on the old "Kaiser" farm was burned about two weeks ago, and one week later the house on the south-east corner of the second concession and the CFRB Sideroad was gutted. Neither house was occupied at the time.
Contestants in the King and Vaughan Plowing Match at Cloverholm Farm had a brisk fall day for the match, and reported good plowing conditions. There were some twenty-four contestants, and a good crowd of spectators. Among the crowd was Mr. Albert Follitt of Aurora, the former owner of the farm where the match was held.
Neighborhood Notes
Several couples from Temperanceville enjoyed the turkey supper in Laskay United Church Wednesday evening.
Mrs. Leslie Smith of Blackwater, spent Tuesday with Mrs. Jack Macklin while her husband plowed at the match.
Mrs. Nelson Thompson, Mrs. Milton Wells, Mrs. Don Chalk and Mrs. Fred Gardner attended a meeting of the Aurora and District Historical Society Thursday evening last at which the speaker was Professor G. E. Reaman of Waterloo.

Oak Ridges And Lake Wilcox News

Induction Of Rev. Winch
The weather didn't interfere October 21 when 18 people attended the induction service for Rev. Gordon Winch, former minister of St. Paul's United Church, South Road.
Services were held in the York Presbyterian, St. Luke's United Church, Toronto and Mr. Winch was inducted into the office of director of the United Church Alcohol Education Centre, in the City of Toronto and surrounding area.
After the induction services, Presiding Minister Dr. A. F. Binnington invited Mr. Winch to announce the last hymn and pronounce the benediction.
A social time was held afterwards with coffee and cake enjoyed by all.
Mr. Winch is the new "padre of the pubs."
Canadian Cancer Society
Eleven ladies were kept busy October 19 when they met at the Ridge Inn to make dressings for cancer patients of the district.
Minutes of the last meeting were read by Secretary Marg Tinkler and reports were given on women's services, transportation and publicity.

Christy Hanson Fails To Qualify In Olympics Ride

Christalot Hanson and her mother, Willy Block Hanson, were due home from Tokyo on Tuesday evening after the young equestrienne's unsuccessful bid to qualify for the Olympic dressage competition last week.
Christy, on her nine-year-old former racehorse "Bon Heur" rode in the Olympic trials October 21 and finished 20th out of 38 competitors with 549 points.
The youngest competitor in the riding event at 17, she represented Canada at the Olympics along with Inez Fischer-Credo of Vancouver, 25, also disqualified with only 587 points.
Germany, Russia and Switzerland took gold, silver and bronze medals in the competition last Thursday.
Whitchurch Township Council last week on request of former councillor Elsie Gibbs sent the young and attractive rider a cablegram, of best wishes and good luck in her performance.
