York Manor Superintendent Suspended

York County Manor Commission is holding a special meeting today (Thursday) to discuss the suspension of its home superintendent Warren Elliott.

Mr. Elliott was granted an indefinite leave of absence October 15 following a meeting of the commission and has not been present at the home since that date.

Frank Willoughby, deputy-reeve of North Gwillimbury who is chairman of the county home's administration group declined to comment to "The Liberal" Tuesday night the nature or reasons behind Mr. Elliott's dismissal from the job he has had for about one year.

The commission had just hired an assistant superintendent Lloyd Gohn, formerly of Markham and Peel County, who has taken over the senior post of looking after the needs of the approximately 150 residents at the home.

NEXT STOP ROYAL WINTER FAIR

Christy Offered Moscow Training

Christy Hanson, the 17½-year-old dressage rider who competed for Canada in the Tokyo Olympics returns home this week to Oak Ridges with an experience she said she will cherish all her life.

The young rider and her nine-year-old mount "Bonheur" will rest up after the exhausting pace of a summer of training at Karlsruhe, Germany and her October 22 ride at Yoyogi Equestrian Park where she competed with 22 of the world's top riders.

Next stop is the November 12 Royal Winter Fair where she will fight to retain her Canadian Champion title.

As the youngest rider with a young horse, Christy amassed 549 points in her class as an unknown quantity, according to her mother, Willy Blok Hanson who returned from Tokyo last week. Top riders were marked in the 800's.

"Christy made a beautiful ride in Tokyo with no mistakes. We didn't know until we got there that the ride would not only be based on actual performance but on past history. The judging standards were extremely high and it was the second hardest test in the history of Olympic dressage," Mrs. Hanson told "The Liberal" in an interview this week.

"I thought it would be ride against ride but that was not the case," she said.

Mrs. Hanson said she had been told by the top Russian and Swiss riders her daughter on her ride should have been placed in the top ten but Canada has no history of dressage riding.

No fewer than 29 of the 30 gold, silver and bronze medals in Olympic competitions since the first in 1912 have been won by Europeans with the solitary exception a bronze by an American in 1932 at Los Angeles.

"In all honesty, I saw that in the most difficult steps, the passage and piaffe, Christy was not nearly polished enough yet because of her age and her horse," she said.

Mrs. Hanson, a dancer of international renown, said her daughter was treated with the utmost courtesy and respect by the cream of the riding world during her sojourn in Japan.

"Everywhere we went, I was just the mother of this girl," she said proudly.

Christy with Emily Hughes of Newmarket, a member of the North York Pony Club, set up their tack room, did their own grooming and even turned down an offer from one of the Russian riders for a pair of horseshoes for Bonheur's performance. "He gave her the shoes anyway and said she could put them on when they returned to Canada," Mrs. Hanson said.

The Russians were very impressed with Christy's riding.

Gold medalist in 1960, Sergey Filatov who won a bronze medal in Tokyo has offered her a position in his riding school in Moscow for a year.

"If Canadian ballet students can go over there on scholarships, I see no reason why a rider couldn't go," Mrs. Hanson said.

Second offer came from the school at Karlsruhe where her riding coach asked her to return to help train a school of 40 horses and 200 students.

"Where Christy goes from here on, I feel, should be her own decision. She has developed a real love of riding now but she will be 18 in six months and she can make up her own mind. I have given her the foundation. What she does with it is up to her," her mother feels.

One of the things Christy has done was to postpone any marriage plans for at least two years, she has told her family.

She will be competing in the Pan-American Games at Winnipeg in 1967, her mother thinks.

One of the spectators at ring-side during the ride was C. F. Burns from King.

$255,000 School Debentures OK'd By Markham Twp.

Markham Township Council at Monday's meeting gave two readings to a by-law authorizing the borrowing by debenture issue of $255,000 for public school purposes. The money will be used to build additions to 16th Avenue, Woodland and Bayview Glen Schools.

Councillor Charles Hoover wondered if the school board ever considered having the debt run for a shorter period than 20 years. Eilert J. Sand, secretary-treasurer of TSA No. 1, replied that the board had not considered this. He had heard that other areas had discussed short term debentures, but did not know of any who had issued 10 year debentures.

"You could add one room this way" said Mr. Sand, "but when you are talking about 14 rooms, it would raise the mill rate too high."

At the same meeting council heard read a motion which had been passed by the Trenton public school board, asking the Department of Education for a substantial increase in funds for education costs, and agreed to endorse a similar motion.

Deputy-reeve Stewart Rumble did not agree that the rest of the community is suffering because of high school costs, as the preamble to the Trenton board's motion had stated.

"Have we cut down on our roads, our police, our fire protection?" he asked.

Deputy-reeve Rumble felt that education grants were quite adequate but that school boards went outside the grants by adding "frills" to the schools.

Council also passed unanimously a motion declaring Remembrance Day, November 11, an official holiday.

(Continued from Page 1) to $200,000 addition on to Pleasantville School for senior school purposes, and that school would operate as a composite one, also housing kindergarten to grade 6 pupils. "But I don't see how this municipality could do this all at once. Besides we don't have the staff at present."

The committee's report suggested that two senior schools of 450 pupils each would be the ideal arrangement to take care of the 900 pupils in grades 7 and 8. At present there are 737 pupils in these grades in the town, 284 of these are at Crosby (there are no grade 7 and 8 at Beverley Acres) and 170 at Walter Scott, making a total of 454 east of the CNR. By 1967, taking into account only those pupils already in the system, these figures in 1967 would be 848 for the whole municipality and 566 east of the railway.

Mr. Hutchinson stated that if all rooms in the Crosby School are not needed for senior school purposes, such rooms would continue to be used for lower grades. "It behooves the board at all times to make the best use of existing accommodation. If this means children will have to be asked to attend another school this is what the board will have to do," he commented.

"The only committee which can plan a fixed system of senior schools for this community is a committee of the whole board, not a committee composed of some trustees and staff members," Mr. Hutchinson stated. He repeatedly stressed the fact that the senior school committee was established to study the advantages and disadvantages of the senior school system and to make recommendations to the board concerning the adoption of this system in Richmond Hill.
