York University Women's Club May Sponsor An Extension Course

"The fast approach of automation has influenced the trend today towards a personalized type of decoration. We want to express ourselves, be individual in our own homes. As a woman dresses, so does she choose stylings of her home," said Mrs. Eleanor Brown, staff trainer of personnel of the home furnishing division of the Robert Simpson Company. Mrs. T. A. McPherson introduced Mrs. Brown to about fifty members and guests of the University Women's Club of York County at their October 26 meeting at Kingcraft in King City. Mrs. Brown informed the group that "background detail is returning. Windows are getting full treatment again. Prints, fabrics, and textures are important words in decorating, mix rather than match," she said. "It is not the costliness of furnishings but the imaginativeness." She illustrated her points with slides, Miss Shirley Reeves thanked the speaker and presented her with a book certificate in appreciation. Mrs. Dorothy Walden, the president, announced that the executive was working on a plan for the club to sponsor a university extension course for the area next fall. The secretary, Mrs. Fayle, read invitations from the Scarborough University Women's Club, Leaside University Women's Club, Rotary Club of Aurora, and the Canadian Association for Adult Education to attend their meetings. Two new members Miss Norma Lavender and Mrs. Paul Wright, were introduced by Mrs. Mercer, membership convener. The meeting was adjourned and coffee was served under the convensorship of Mrs. Gibbard.

Powell Road Graduation
Powell Road School graduation banquet was held October 23 at Holy Trinity Church hall, Thornhill. Home and school association president, Mrs. Olive St. John led in "God Save the Queen". The toast to the queen was given by Sandy McGowan, father of a graduate. Rev. H. R. Howden led in prayer. Mrs. St. John introduced the head table guests, who were as follows: Vaughan Township School Inspector D. R. MacDonald and Mrs. MacDonald, former principal Malcolm McRoberts and Mrs. McRoberts, Rev. H. R. Howden of Holy Trinity Anglican Church, Mr. John Kremin and teachers Mr. James Milne, Mrs. S. Snary, Mrs. Helen Priestly, Mrs. M. McDonald, Miss Diane Palmer and Mr. Martin Van Bernel. A toast to the graduates' last year's teacher, Mr. McRoberts, was given by graduate Frank McReavy. Mr. McRoberts gave a short talk to the graduates and their parents. He urged the grads to keep on at school and make something of themselves, urging them to do their best in whatever they do. The teachers are there to help you and make information available, he said. It is up to the pupil to get it. Mr. McRoberts also reminded the audience of the importance of developing hobbies and other interests as it was expected that in the future there would be more leisure hours. He closed by reading two poems which were very interesting. Mr. McRoberts was presented with a pot of shamrock by Carol McCowan who had been to Ireland last summer. As a remembrance of his native land, he was also presented with a green tie by Angelo DiVincenzo, Ian Young, Clifford McQueen and Frank McReavy. The citizenship award, a gift to the school from Sidney Griffiths, former school board member was presented to Angelo DiVincenzo as the best all-round grade 8 student, by last year's winner Eva Silberberg. Graduation pins and booklets were presented to the graduates by Mr. Van Bommel and Mrs. Snary. In a brief speech, Inspector D. R. MacDonald advised the graduates to set definite goals for themselves and work to reach them. Learning is a very satisfying process he said and urged them to get all the education they could. J. H. Royce thanked all the ladies who made the banquet such a success. These were: Mrs. J. Bradbeer, Mrs. O. St. John, Mrs. N. Geno, Mrs. R. C. McEwen, Mrs. R. Haddy, Mrs. Peter Zepp Mrs. E. Garnham, and Mrs. F. Webster. Students of this year's grade 8 class did the serving. Mrs. Doris Palin and Mrs. Gladys Brown had decorated the tables with the school's colors, yellow and blue. This banquet is put on every year by the home and school association. Socials Mrs. Betty Barrett returned recently from a vacation in Edinburgh, Scotland where she PICKERING: Included in a study of roads being made by the roads department of the County of Ontario which they may assume as part of their construction and maintenance program. Hallow'en Is Routine Says Local Police Chief

Despite Richmond Hill's special police patrol or perhaps on account of it, October 31 was just another routine night, according to Chief R. P. Robbins. "There were lots of calls about kids making noise and soaping windows, but very little actual damage done," he said this week. "It was one of the quieter years."

A rope was removed from a flagpole and a company sign was reported missing but little else in the way of deliberate damage was done around town. In his accident report, the chief said 10-year-old Mary Todd, 440 Paliser Cresc. was taken to hospital for an examination after she was scraped by a car driven by Kerry LeFave, 25, of 80 Yonge Street North when he made a turn onto South Fern'ich Cres. at 5:20 p.m. October 9. No charges were laid. Anthony Trudgian, 22, of King City was charged with careless driving November 1 after his car was involved in an accident with one owned by Robert Worsley, 37, of Armour Township. Total damage was $300 according to police.

BROUGHAM: Pickering Township Council will send a stern letter to the postmaster general objecting to the recent decision to include the Ajax postal station on all addresses on a proposed door-to-door mail delivery district that includes Bay Ridges. Council members fear that Pickering will lose its identity, because of this move.

Wks. Committee Report Deals With Wide Range

The works committee, mayor, clerk and works commissioner of Richmond Hill will bring in a recommended priority program of capital works, estimated costs and impact of these costs on rates of assessment to the present debenture debt, it was decided by council Monday evening when it accepted a recommendation of its works committee.

Councillor Walter Scudds moved amendment of a recommendation of the committee to authorize engineering plans for Beverley Acres storm sewers. The amended clause will read "That the clerk be instructed to enter this project in our public works program and apply to the Minister of Municipal Affairs for permission to let the engineering contract and approach the Department of Highways on subsidy for the storm sewers."

It was reported that discussion of piping the creek south of Markham Road had revealed the estimated cost of such a project would be a quarter of a million dollars. "We couldn't justify spending this amount of money," commented Councillor Lois Hancey, noting that alternatives being considered are more frequent cleaning of creek cutting of weeds on the banks and prevention of further erosion.

The works committee's decision to purchase the chlorination equipment now in use at the three pumping stations to eliminate offensive odors, at a net cost of $2,300, was ratified. The works commissioner was authorized to call tenders for one three inch pump and one 1 1/2 inch pump.

The works commission was also authorized to contact all property owners involved in the Murphy Creek slope improvement proposal for the purpose of finalizing the same. Reeve James Haggart explained that the slopes had been damaged by the subdivider in Beverley Acres and the final settlement involved a sum of money for the needed improvement. Up to now it has been found impossible to get the affected property owners together to arrive at a decision whether this money will be spent on slope improvement or divided among the property owners affected.

An experimental illuminated street sign will be installed at the intersection of Yonge and Wright Streets. The town will also secure additional required insurance coverage in the event that the recommendations of the civic improvement committee re placement of tree planters on Yonge Street is implemented. This insurance is protection against damage suits by persons injured by the planters.
