

Local Artist To Show Paintings At R.H. Library

An interesting group of 45 oil paintings, the work of a local artist, will be on view at the Richmond Hill Public Library from November 7 to 13.

The work of Leslie G. Collins, 150 Colbourne Street, the paintings are landscapes and still life.

Mr. Collins, a former Torontonian but resident of Richmond Hill for the past two years, has been painting for about 15 years. Largely self-taught, for the past four years he has studied with Otto Grebbe.

The bulk of the landscapes are of Ontario scenes, both local and of the north country and there a few painted in the Gaspé this past summer.

Official opening of the show will be on Friday night. Mr. Collins will be on hand then as well as most of Saturday and during the evening throughout the next week.

Mennonites Plan New Aged Home, Stouffville

Care for the aged has become a rapidly and significantly growing concern in our North American culture. The advanced years of the life span and our modern way of living has made the concern for the needs of our senior citizens urgent.

Among the various building programs of new or enlarged facilities is the Parkview Home under construction in Stouffville. The institution is being built and managed by the Mennonite Home Association of York County.

It will be a 64-bed, one storey brick structure. The location is on a 6 1/2 acre plot adjoining a 22-acre park area next to a modern housing subdivision. There will be all the facilities required to meet the policies set down by the home for the aged branch of the Ontario Department of Welfare. The home is scheduled to open in either late winter or early spring of 1965. Plans are to primarily provide normal care with limited provision for bed care.

Three Injured On Halloween

Three young people were sent to hospital following an accident on 14th Avenue east of Kennedy Road in Markham Township last Saturday night.

Injured were Ronald N. Phinsey, 19, of Davenport Road, Toronto with chest and arm injuries; David Kelly, 18, of Whitby with head and leg injuries and Enid Phinsey, 18, of Huntsville who suffered injuries to her head and face.

The three were in a small European car which struck a truck driven by Clarence W. Scott, Windridge Drive, Markham.

There was no estimate of the damage and no charges laid according to Markham Township Police.

At 4 a.m. Sunday morning Markham Police investigated the report of a single car accident on Bayview Avenue, south of Markham Road when a car driven by Gareth Bork, 22 of 88 Yonge Street South, Richmond Hill, swerved into two guard rails and a ditch and rolled over on its top. The driver told police he had fallen asleep at the wheel. He was not injured; damage to the car was $90.

UXBRIDGE: A 21-year-old Uxbridge father of two was killed and three passengers in his car were injured when it vaulted a ditch and ripped through a fence south of Mount Albert recently. The victim, Ronald Cain, was an employee of the Co-operative Store.
