Sorry good readers to have missed putting the column in last week, but with one thing and another I just didn't manage to tap out a single line on this old typewriter, mainly for the lack of time and lack of anything exciting to write about. With the hockey season fast approaching us, please folks let me know about all your social events or any common everyday thing that might be of reading interest to your friends. I am only too happy to hear from you and will put your news in the very best way I can. It does not matter how big or how small it all helps to make our column more interesting.

Many happy returns to Mr. Albert Middleton who celebrates a birthday on November 11.

Hallowe'en

There was "the Devil to Pay" in Victoria Square Saturday night, said Dr. Binington when they were visited by "His Satanic Majesty" on witches' night. A little fellow all dressed in red and feeling the part was insulted to be mistaken for Red Riding Hood! Goblins and ghosts, witches and angels, as well as Frankenstein and court jesters, were abroad in Headford early in the evening and welcomed by their neighbours. Surprise visitors were Linda and Valerie Snider, former residents.

Not as many children were out because suddenly there is an age gap in Headford, between 10-11 and 15-16 there is no intermediate group. The older young people were partying and the younger ones were glad to be home by nine o'clock. Later brave vandals wrecked a fence on the Rumble farm and an empty barn was burned (the old Fuller barn). Last year an empty barn in Headford was burned.

Socials

Mr. and Mrs. E. Leek and Mr. and Mrs. A. Reesor, Cedar Grove attended an auction sale at St. Jacobs. This is Amish country and reminiscent of the early years of the century, horses and buggies outnumbered cars adding interest to the scene.

Wesley Middleton is confined to the hospital and the community extends its sympathy to him and the hope that he will soon be home.

Sympathy is also extended to G. Brouwer who suffered a serious accident at work, in a fall, breaking both ankles and his arm.

There is so much 'flu', laryngitis, a variety of types of colds, head, 'tummy' muscular aches that one wonders if, as the science fiction people try to scare us—the germ is preparing to take over.

Kathy Burton, Jenni Calder and Bonnie Ross were excited to hear and see the Dave Clark Five. Apparently 'gear' is now passe everything is 'beautiful'. Autumn may be here but youth seems to retain its spring, thank goodness.

Five members of Headford H.C. with their leaders Mr. and Mrs. E. Leek attended service in Teston United Church Sunday evening to hear Rev. Arthur Beecham speak on the "Hunger of the World". Mr. Beecham spent five years in Korea and had first-eye knowledge of his subject. Many people barely exist on a spoonful of rice daily. The young people were served this amount of rice to emphasize the terrible inadequacy of the ration. The meeting was well attended by the young people from surrounding churches.

The Sunday calendar of the United Church gave comparative percentages of monies spent through the unified budget fund. It disclosed that the church is still a mission church. From a budget of $11,000,000, $2,660,000 is spent on home missions and $2,751,000 on world missions. The third largest allotment is for the pension fund $1,605,000.

Headford U.C.W. will meet in the church November 9 at 8 p.m. Mrs. E. Leek will convene the program.

Spring Trees Should All Be Ordered Now

District Forester Arthur W. Leman advised recently that landowners should be planning now for next spring's tree planting.

The Department of Lands and Forests will supply nursery stock to an owner of a parcel of land with an area of at least two acres, exclusive of any part occupied by buildings, for the purpose of establishing, replenishing or enlarging a "wood" or "shelter-belt". The rate is $14 per thousand trees for Scotch pine and $10 per thousand for other species.

Department forestry staff will be glad to give any advice and suggestions without charge. An inspection of the property to be planted should be done now by a qualified forester, while weather conditions are still suitable.

Also, by submitting applications for trees as soon as possible, there is much more likelihood of getting the trees wanted and later substitution of less desirable species will be avoided.

For further information and application forms, York County residents should phone the Department of Lands and Forests at Maple, 285-1171 or 832-2241.

CEDAR GROVE: District governor for 1964-65, Lion Elmer Crossland of Crosslands Farm, Newmarket will address the November 5 meeting of the Markham - Unionville Lions Club to be held at Cedar Grove United Church.

Windshield Broken By Flying Gravel

R. W. B. Reynolds of Woodbridge complained recently to the Department of Transport about heavily loaded dump trucks transporting sand and gravel on Highway 7 which permit sand and gravel to blow off their loads.

Mr. Reynolds had the windshield of his car splintered in this way. In their reply the Department of Transport indicated that Mr. Reynolds' later had been passed on to the provincial police for investigation.

Pranksters Start Fires In Markham Township

Pranksters in Markham Township set alight three old farm buildings for a bit of Hallowe'en fun but otherwise things were quiet in the area, according to township police.

The old Fuller farm two miles north of Highway 7 on Don Mills Rd. was allowed to burn to the ground, since it was going to be demolished anyway. The Boynton Farm on Don Mills Road also was the scene of a fire when an old building was partially destroyed as was a building at Lee Avenue and Kennedy Road.

Markham Police had no special patrols out and as one officer remarked, "Hallowe'en could have been worse."

Crothers' Day At Markham, Nov. 7

A gala reception for Markham Village's returning Olympic track star, Bill Crothers, has been planned for November 7.

Set for 3 p.m. at Markham Arena, the celebration is being planned by representatives of service clubs, veterans, school boards, council and Jaycees.

The committee contacted Bill's parents in Hawaii last week but Bill was not there. He had been invited to join the British Commonwealth 3,200 metre relay team in a post-Olympic meet. With Crothers as anchor man running the last 600 metres, the team won a three-second victory over the US team.

Because of this competition, Crothers could not make the return charter flight to Vancouver but is expected home this week. His parents and his coach, Fred Foot have been invited to attend the reception.
