Your Legion Reports

Branch 375, Royal Canadian Legion
 By Eric Chapman - 884-7129

The advisory committee of the junior auxiliary met recently for the purpose of approving proposed by-laws. The auxiliary will be known as the Junior Legion. Joining fee will be $4 in the first year and annual dues thereafter will be $3. A one year membership is required to hold elective office, although anyone joining within six months of inception will be exempt one year requirement. Applications have already started to come in and it looks as if there is going to be a good response. It is not known yet whether membership is to be limited, but as we understand that similar organizations such as Cubs and Scouts have waiting lists it would be wise to lose no time in applying. Watch these columns for further news of the Junior Legion, the date of the first general meeting will be announced shortly.

will be singing and dancing to taped music. There is no charge for admittance, come and bring your friends. Incidentally, last Friday evening we were entertained by a talented young pianist June Wheeler. She was very much appreciated, we would like to hear more sometime.
 The children's Christmas party has been announced for December 13. Children of members in good standing up to and including the age of 12 are eligible to attend. No charge is involved. Applications must be in by November 21, with details being promulgated. We would like to thank the many donors to this fund who will realize that it is impossible to list you individually in these columns. Our branch is very grateful and it is gratifying to know that there are many who share our ideals.
 *****
 We note that our Legion sponsored hockey team started the season off with a bang. Manager Jim Wilson reports the midgets played four exhibition games defeating Thornhill in two and Georgetown in one. In the return game at Georgetown they received a 7-4 defeat. However, last Friday in the first of the games that count they melted Bradford into the ice by a score of 5-4.
 The next general meeting will be held on November 16 at 8 p.m. Members are reminded that this will be an important occasion as nominations for 1965-66 executive are expected to be received. You may have realized that the presidential race has already begun if you noticed the sign currently displayed in the club room. The sign, while conveying no pertinent details, requests that you "Vote Tucker for President." In an interview with Comrade Tucker our political observer enquired whether he expected much opposition. The candidate replied that he was of course "the greatest", but it was rumored an unknown character by the name of Barrott may also throw his hat in the ring. He added that he would always be ready to meet any opponents in a face to face debate on television, provided it was coast to coast.

The first of an interesting series of programmes will be broadcast on CBC radio network at 1 p.m. on November 15. The series entitled "Flanders Fields" comprises 17 episodes and is a composite story of the Canadians who fought in the first world war as told in the first person by 600 veterans. One of the largest projects undertaken by CBC it has been in preparation for four years. When the series is completed all material will be turned over to the public archives. "Flanders Fields" was produced by Frank Willis.

 We were all sorry to hear that Hospital Committee Chairman Jack Sanders has been temporarily out of action for a week. Jack had a minor accident at home, but he is now back on the job. Wally Spohr, a hospital committee member is now in Toronto East General Hospital recuperating from an operation. Wally will later be transferred to Sunnybrook Hospital. We know that he will be well looked after by our ladies auxiliary, who visit Sunnybrook.

 The Ladies Auxiliary have announced the date of their special free and easy this Friday at 8 p.m. The ladies will have the use of the main banquet hall for the presentation of their one hour spectacular. Following the show there

Rumble Storms From Council Meeting In Protest

"Council, in all fairness to the public, should stick to the rules of procedure. This is basic to good government," said Deputy-Reeve Stewart Rumble in a statement to "The Liberal" after he had walked out of a special Markham Township Council meeting Wednesday morning of last week.
 The special meeting had been called to appoint a representative to the court of revision. At the November 2 council meeting, two men had been nominated but as Councillor Robert Loane was absent and neither Councillor Cleary Palmer nor Councillor Charles Hoover would withdraw their nomination, the four man council was stalled on the decision and a special meeting was called, at which it was hoped the missing member would be present.

 When Reeve Hooper opened the November 4 meeting commenting that there were no deputations and otherwise conducting it as a regular council meeting, Mr. Rumble objected that it was a special meeting to consider only the one matter.

 The appointment to the court of revision was then discussed and in the interests of unity Councillor Palmer withdrew his nomination of Benjamin Lynd and Councillor Hoover's nominee, Howard Stiver was accordingly appointed.
 This little bit of business, Mr. Rumble noted in his interview with "The Liberal", cost the ratepayers of Markham Township over $100 as councillors are paid $18 for each meeting they attend, plus a mileage allowance.

 The reeve then went on to consider other business, at which point Mr. Rumble objected more strongly and had Clerk Harry Crisp read the rules governing special council meetings. They confirmed his contention, stating that 24 hours notice must be given of a special meeting and that matters to be considered are to be included in the notice.
 While he was content to waive formal notice of the meeting, as he had been present when it was planned, Mr. Rumble felt it was entirely out of order to discuss anything but what had been originally intended.
 When Reeve Hooper insisted on proceeding in spite of the rules, Deputy-Reeve Rumble left the meeting.
 "It's no way to conduct a meeting," he stated, "with the reeve making up the rules as he goes along."
 After Mr. Rumble's angry exit, council went on to consider other matters, including expropriation proceedings against the Shoullice Surgery.

One-stop banking

In a few minutes they'll be out again, with all their banking done. Right now they want to cash a cheque, get something out of their safety deposit box, have their savings account book made up. Next time? He may be in about a loan; she to buy a money order for her aunt's birthday. An able, obliging staff looks after them; and should they need help on some financial problem, the manager is there — a good man to talk things over with. Complete service. Trained people. Convenient, one-stop banking at your chartered bank.

THE CHARTERED BANKS SERVING YOUR COMMUNITY

Through 5,650 branches, all across Canada, the chartered banks bring full-range banking within the reach of everyone.

Jaycees Host At District Meeting

Tuesday night of last week the Richmond Hill Jaycee played host to members of chambers within districts and 8, including Barrie, Peterboro, Port Credit, Orillia, Toronto, North York, Markham Aurora and Newmarket as well as other towns and cities.
 The event took place at the Richmond Inn Motor Hotel with the guest speaker being W. J. Dunsday, who is the Ontario divisional manager for British American Oil Company.
 Entertainment was provided by the Doris Pollock Concert Group and Johnny and the Jays. The evening proved to be one of the most successful events staged by the local Jaycees in many a year, according to reports.
