Library Bd. Makes Second Attempt To Interest Twp. In Centennial Plan

King Memorial Library Board of King City, headed by Chairman Ian Gilchrist, made another request for centennial grant aid at last week's King Township Council meeting.

After questioning the chairman about plans for a new library building, council turned over the proposal to Solicitor J. D. Lucas for his advice.

Under consideration was the following letter from the library board, modifying an earlier proposal rejected by township that the new building be entirely a police village project.

"Reference is made to the formal request, dated October 16, by King City Public Library Board, that an application be made on their behalf for funds under the centennial grant program and the subsequent rejection of the said request by the township council at their meeting of October 19.

"The King City Library Board will deed the property of the present library to the Township of King.

"In return, the Township of King will legally guarantee to hold such property in trust for the King City Library Board until such time as the board vacates it, provide $8,000 or the expropriated price of the property, whichever is the greater, to cover the municipal fund required to merit a $16,000 centennial grant for a new library within King City, whose deed will be taken in the name of the corporation of the Township of King and hold the new property in trust for King City Library Board."

If the above proposal is acceptable to township council, the board requested that their original application, with an added notation, that the deed for the property of the proposed new library will be taken in the name of the corporation of the Township of King, be forwarded before the November 9 deadline.

Investigate Cause Of Jennings' Barn Fire

An investigation is being conducted into the cause of a fire which destroyed a barn and contents on the north Ewart Jennings farm, Temperanceville, on the evening of November 4.

Firemen from Aurora and King City responded to the call but were unable to save the building or contents. The barn contained approximately 50 tons of hay and 2,000 bushels of grain.

The blaze was first noticed by a neighbor, Murray Boys, who notified Mrs. Jennings. Mr. Jennings was away on a hunting trip in the Burk's Falls area at the time, but arrived home early Thursday evening after being notified of the fire.

This is the third fire in three weeks which has started under mysterious circumstances within a distance of less than a mile.

Cave-In Trouble On Concession 6, Whitchurch Twp.

A large road works program on the 6th concession is giving Whitchurch Township considerable trouble due to cave-ins. The soil in the area is very sandy, it is reported.

Council members have agreed to inspect the trouble spot where it is recommended that additional land be purchased at a cost of $500.

Deputy-Reeve May Try For Reeveship

Deputy-reeve Ross Farquharson, Lake Wilcox contractor, has indicated that he might contest the reeveship of Whitchurch. Nomination meeting is November 27.

Magistrate O. S. Hollirake noting that when a person takes in a certain amount of alcohol, his driving might be impaired said, "You've got to give everything you've got to your driving these days."

When Bell asked for two months to pay the fine, the magistrate suggested he sell his car to make up the amount in two weeks or go to jail.

Cruisers In Police Lot Damaged Hallowe'en

Cars in the parking lot at the Township of Whitchurch Police Station at Vardorf were the targets of the worst acts of Hallowe'en vandalism in this area.

While most of the officers were on patrol, vandals entered the police premises from the rear and sprayed white paint over several of the private cars parked there. They also slashed 12 tires on the vehicles.

One of the damaged cars belonged to Barbara Londry, department secretary. The new model Meteor was smeared with paint and two tires were cut. Only Mrs. Londry and Cadet Edward Holdsworth were in the office at the time and they heard no noise outside.

Police are pressing an investigation but to date have made no arrests.

Natural Ice Rink Centennial Plan

A natural ice rink at Ballantrae is favored by the Whitchurch Township Recreation Committee as a centennial project for the township. Cost has been estimated at $22,000.

The arena at Ballantrae was the only subject proposed for discussion at a meeting of council and the recreation committee held recently at Vardorf. It was noted that if an elaborate building and artificial ice was considered cost would exceed $90,000. Reeve Frank Williams cautioned against acting on any plan that would amount to more than the pre-set figure of $22,000.

Deputy-Reeve May Try For Reeveship

Pat Cushman of Musselman's Lake, is the only new candidate to show an interest in running for election so far. His decision also is not final.

The township council will also decide whether to include the question of a two-year term on this year's ballot. Their solicitor has advised that once a by-law is passed to authorize a vote on the question, an election must be held even if the council and school board were elected by acclamation.

The Council of the Corporation of the Township of Whitchurch has arranged for a public meeting at the Community Hall, adjacent to the Municipal Building, on Wednesday evening, November 18th, at 8.00 o'clock, regarding the proposed School Area for the year 1965.

By-Law Attracts Estate Builders

King Township's recent by-law increasing the minimum size allowed for home-building is contributing to the township attracting estate-type homes, according to Building Inspector Donald C. McCallum.

"King Township has received during 1964 a type of residential development throughout its rural area that should prove beneficial to the entire township," Mr. McCallum told "The Liberal."

"This is setting a pattern that is attracting an increasing number of Metro residents into the municipality desirous of establishing estate homes on large lots.

"The recently enacted by-law, increasing minimum residential restrictions, has been met favorably and generally has coincided with plans prepared in advance of the August 17 by-law," he said.

The current minimum requirement of 1100 square feet for a single storey dwelling replaces the former minimum of 900 square feet.

Mr. McCallum pointed out the building department has had no difficulty in administering the new regulations, applicants being co-operative and obviously welcoming the higher standards of development and control.

"There is strong indication that 1965 will see a continuation of residential growth in the agricultural areas," he predicted.

In the new Cross and Neil subdivisions on the eastern outskirts of Nobleton, one home is occupied and ten are under construction. The 34-lot plan is included in Nobleton's proposed annexation.

Up to the end of October the building department issued a total of 233 building permits, of which 83 were for new dwellings throughout the township.

Minimum frontages allowed vary according to size of lots. A 15,000 square-foot property calls for a minimum 100-foot frontage. Lots between two and five acres require a minimum frontage of 200 feet; five to 10 acres a 300-foot frontage.

Ten to 25-acre properties are now required to have 400-foot frontages.
