Christmas is the magic word that holds the spirit of good will. At this blessed season a strange and indefinable spirit takes possession of our world.

On the first Christmas day, God sent his Son into the world to teach the lesson of love-the love of God for all mankind, and the love of every man for his fellows. And in this twofold relationship lies the answer to the greatest problem of our time—the problem of human relationships. If the Christmas spirit of divine love could be translated into terms of everyday living by the people of the world, there would be less strife, less bitterness and less suffering.

An ideal-yes. But isn't that what Christmas is? A glorious shining ideal, a confession of our faith that somehow with God's help we can achieve peace on earth, and good will among men. You can begin to make this ideal a reality in your own life today by remembering not what you have done for others but what others have done for you; not what the world owes you, but what you owe the world; not what you are going to get out of life, but what you are going to give to life; not your own needs and heartaches but the needs and heartaches of others. Thus the spirit of Christmas will become the answer to the strife and confusion of an uneasy and troubled world.

Christmas is a good time to think of others and many at this season of the year like to express their feelings of gratitude and goodwill by the giving of gifts.

We suggest Christmas is a good time to think of your home hospital, where every hour of every day of the year, devoted and dedicated people labor in the blessed mission of mercy and healing. The doors of your home hospital are always open to welcome to its tender care and attention the sick and the injured and your hospital is working continuously to provide the very best in facilities and care for the relief of pain and suffering.

Your home hospital depends in large measure on the financial support of the people of the district and we extend grateful thanks for the generous support which has been accorded in the past. Our hospitals are still faced with a substantial burden of debt and still many more dollars are needed for additional supplies and equipment.

Your donation will be most welcome and we invite you to give a special thought at this Christmas season to the services and needs of your home hospital.

Donations may be made either to the York County Hospital at Newmarket, the York Central Hospital at Richmond Hill, or to the County of York United Hospitals Campaign Trust Committee, 208A Main Street, Newmarket. Receipts for income tax purposes will be mailed promptly.

Thank you, and to all our sincere best wishes for the coming Christmas season.
