A BANG-UP CHRISTMAS

In many a Canadian home this will be known as "that was the Christmas that was!" The past tense is intentional—a lot of us probably won't be around for another Yuletide season—courtesy of the toymakers of America and those delightful young savages called children.

If anyone should think we're joshing just go take a good look at what they're selling in what is laughingly known as "Toyland"—any old toyland will do, they're all the same. There is more weapons represented than the combined total of all the weapons in the United States and Russian armies—a May Day Parade in Red Square pales by comparison.

What's your pleasure, junior? You can get a tank—slightly—but only slightly—smaller than a World War Deuce Sherman. This monster rolls forward and backwards, spins on its tracks and packs a cannon reminiscent of the 88 mounted on a Taylor tank. Fires missiles, too! Just the thing for shooting the legs out from under dear old Dad or blowing out the picture window. It's terrific!

For the smaller kiddies we have hand grenades that look so much like the real thing it's fantastic. These little gems load with caps and, when tossed, go off with a convincing bang. Ideal for sending Dad back to the psycho ward at Shady Dell! Wonder if Ontario hospitalization covers shell shock?

Coming up the scale a bit we have land mines that can be concealed in strategic spots around the home. Step on the trigger mechanism of one of these little jewels and you get a real lift! Honestly now, no home is complete without one!

More subtle-minded kids—you know—the sneaky type, will really appreciate the dainty-waity genuine booby trap—ideal for guerilla warfare! Plant a few of these on the premises and soon you too can be a happy, wayward orphan. Tremendous!! There are burp guns, bazookas, genuine plastic

Winners At Christmas Bonspiel

The cheerful smiles pictured above belong to members of the rink, skipped by Al White, which won the first draw at Richmond Hill Curling Club's Christmas Bonspiel, held December 11 and 12.

Name Committee For 1965 Sports Parade

Richmond Hill Minor Ball executive, through the efforts of Vice-president Lloyd Carter, have acquired the services and experience of the following gentlemen to promote and organize the sports day parade scheduled for June 16, 1965.

They are Vern Dynes, Russ Cripps, Stan Ransom, Joe Ranciri, Ralph Davis and Chief of Police R. P. Robbins.

These gentlemen are all well-known citizens of Richmond Hill and have served their community faithfully for many years.

This parade can only be attempted if the citizens and local businessmen support their efforts to the utmost.

The parade will be a success or failure depending upon the co-operation put forth by the local populace. The parade committee asks only that if called upon, you show pride and interest in your town, by assisting them to the limits of your ability.

High Flying Dynesmen Down Keswick Team 4-1

Richmond Hill Dynesmen, currently the hottest team in the Richmond Hill Senior League, handed Keswick its loss of the season in a game played at Richmond Hill Arena. Again penalties proved the key factor as Dynes' tremendous power-play accounted for all four of their goals.

Although three of Dynes' regular defencemen were missing from the line-up, the locals managed to hold the usually high-scoring Keswick team to one marker. One of the big reasons for this accomplishment was the play of veteran rear guard, Doug McInnis and goalie Doug Finney. McInnis, who also plays centre on Dynes' deadly power-play had a good night offensively as well, picking up a goal and two assists. Gillis LeBlanc scored the only goal in the first period as he bulldozed his way through the Keswick defence to dump the puck behind Goalie Jerry Oatman.

At 3:35 of the second, Jim Wells, who has certainly found his scoring eye of late, drilled one home from an almost impossible angle. McInnis and Larry Bray received assists on this play. At the half way mark of this period, Ted Churchill put Keswick back in
