Seniors Ask Longer Time For Crossing

Richmond Hill Senior Citizens requested council to consider having the time of the green light for east-west traffic at Yonge and Centre Streets, lengthened, Monday night.

The letter signed by Mrs. W. Sayers, secretary, claimed that at present there is insufficient time for pedestrians, particularly elderly people, to cross in safety.

The seniors also suggested the timing of other traffic lights in town be reviewed with the possibility of giving pedestrians more time to cross. This would permit continued synchronization of traffic lights on Yonge, they maintained.

The letter was referred to the police committee, with Councillor Walter Scudell emphasizing that all that committee can do is recommend to the Department of Highways that action be taken.

Mayor Tom Broadhurst said, "But if the department is never told they will never know that protests have been received, and so will not make changes."

The man had just been brought to the police station on a charge of drunkenness and he was acting pretty indignant over his predicament.

"I'd like to know just why I've been brought here," he demanded.

"You were brought in for drinking," answered the officer.

"Well thass different".

Bayview Student Guy Snaith Wins Preliminary Lions Club Contest

Guy Snaith of Bayview Secondary School was first prize winner in the preliminary Lions Club public speaking contest held at a meeting of the Maple Lions Club in the Maple Community Hall January 28.

A grade 11 student, Guy gave a prepared speech on the subject "The Victorian Teen-agers" and also a short impromptu speech.

Second place went to Marcia Sully, a grade 12 student at Richmond Hill High School. The title of her speech was "This I Believe" and it dealt with tolerance.

Other competitors were Marjot Karu of Bayview, Sharon Bowman of Richmond Hill and Marie Van Dyke and Judy Thompson of Woodbridge Secondary School.

Judges for the competition were Mrs. A. Snider, a Vaughan Township teacher, Dr. Hugh Mackay and James H. Timmins, Q.C. Mr. Timmins was much impressed with the calibre of the speeches.

Guy and Marcia will compete at the Region 18 finals against winners from Sunderland, Markham and Scarborough districts. This contest will take place March 1 at a meeting of the Thornhill Lions Club to be held in Holy Trinity Church, Thornhill.

Rumbles Ramble

Shown in a festive mood during their recent stay in Mexico are Markham Township Deputy-reeve Stewart Rumble and Mrs. Rumble.

Mr. Rumble is the local Massey-Ferguson dealer and won the trip for outstanding sales performance. While in Mexico the Rumbles visited Teotihuacan, "City of the gods" where sun-worshippers tilled the soil 2,000 years ago. During a visit to Chapingo Agricultural College they saw a demonstration of MF equipment.

Richmond Hill Has 2 Alternatives In Eliminating Blind Intersections

A letter from the safety and civic improvement committee of the Richmond Hill Rotary Club suggesting that action be taken to forestall a fatal accident at certain hazardous corners was also referred to the works committee. Named were the intersection of Lucas and Mill Streets, the intersection of Mill and Trench-Woodlane.

It was suggested that consideration be taken of making Trench and Mill a three-way stop, Richmond and Bridgeford a two-way stop (for north and westbound traffic), and Mill and Lucas a three-way stop.

The letter also suggested installation of a sidewalk on Mill Street.

Councillor Walter Scudell felt the police would not recommend any multiple stop intersections. Councillor Eric Handbury commented, "You are creating a chaotic condition," but the reeve felt that a few stops on Mill Street would be all to the good in slowing traffic where there are no sidewalks and so many school children have to walk on the road.

Deputy-reeve Floyd Perkins thought that if blind intersections are eliminated the greatest part of the problem will be solved.

The police committee will be consulted on matters pertaining to that department before final recommendations are made.

A further suggestion by Rotarians that the town approach the proper authorities to have the 30-mile speed limit extended along Vaughan Road into the township at least as far as the hospital met with council's approval. The clerk was instructed to write to the Toronto and York Roads Commission and Vaughan Township Council requesting this extension.

Markham Twp. Council Alters Meeting Date

A rash of conventions has brought about a change in dates for Markham Township Council. Because of the conventions, which run almost continuously throughout February, starting on the 8th, council decided to forego its regular committee meeting Wednesday and next regular council meeting Monday.

Instead it has tentatively scheduled a meeting for February 12.

The conventions, which the members will attend all or in part, are the Rural Municipalities, February 8, 9; Regional Development Conference, 15, 16, 17; Good Roads, 22, 23, 24.

"Maybe we'll have to cut out our meetings to get in the conventions," said Reeve Charles Hooper.

"Maybe we should just cut out the conventions," said Councillor Alan Sumner.

VAUGHAN TWP.: A resident of Vaughan Township all her life, Mrs. William Craib celebrated her 85th birthday January 12. Active and alert physically and mentally, Mrs. Craib rises at 5 a.m. daily and has all her chores done by 9 a.m.

QUEENSVILLE: Born here in 1890, John Byron Aylward passed away suddenly on January 18 and was buried at Queensville Cemetery. A World War I veteran, Mr. Aylward opened Queensville's first garage in 1920. He started the first fire protection in the village and was fire chief for a number of years.

PORT PERRY: James J. Gibson, reeve of Port Perry, was elected warden of Ontario County at the opening session of the 1965 county council. He is the 116th warden of the county.

Public vs. Private Enterprise Town Council Lodges Objection Flat Rate Gas Hot Water Heating

Richmond Hill Council will submit a letter to the Ontario Energy Board requesting it to give serious consideration to the effect on local hydro rates of any order which they may make in respect to a submission from the Consumers' Gas Company for approval of a flat rate for unmetered automatic water heating service.

The submission asks addition to its rate schedule of a flat rate of $2.70 per month for gas heated water heaters to any regular residential natural gas customer whose sole use of gas is for unmetered automatic water heating service. The water heaters will be approved by or leased from the company for a single family dwelling or building, or in an individual flat or apartment in a multiple family dwelling or portion thereof occupied as the home, residence or sleeping place of one or more persons.

Mayor Thomas Broadhurst noted that this would bring the gas company into direct competition with hydro which is publicly owned and in which everyone in the community has a stake. He noted that automatic switching equipment has been installed by the local hydro.

Commenting that Consumers Gas although a private enterprise, has many advantages of a public utility and "I think if they wish to increase their market they should just lower the rates generally. What they are doing, probably is making people with gas furnaces subsidize this new rate," the reeve moved that the letter of objection be sent. The motion was seconded by Councillor Eric Handbury.

Although he presented the report of the fire and police committee at this week's meeting of Vaughan Township Council, Councillor S. D. Kaiser, the committee's chairman, did not agree with all its recommendations.

The committee had recommended that two new 25-watt mobile radio transmitters be purchased for the police department and that the existing 10-watt equipment be turned over to the fire department.

"If they are not good enough for the police department, why are they good enough for the fire department?" asked Councillor Kaiser.

Councillor Dalton McArthur stated that he had understood from Police Chief J. W. Davidson's report that when the cruisers were in distant sections of the township, particularly when stationary in a valley, the 10-watt radios were not strong enough to carry. The fire trucks don't usually go so far or so often.

Councillor McArthur pointed out also that Chief Davidson had felt the 10-watt units would be quite adequate for the fire department.

It was agreed to purchase the 25-watt units for the police department and Reeve A. H. Ruthford indicated that a close watch would be kept on the units in the fire trucks and if they proved inadequate they would be changed.

Approval was also given for the police chief to call for tenders for three new police cars. The three cruisers presently in use have travelled 54,000, 53,342 and 46,575 miles respectively.

Chief Davidson was also given permission to appoint a new police cadet to replace Constable F. Belcher who resigned recently.

It was reported that three police cadets will be eligible for enrollment at the Ontario Police College at Aylmer upon their appointments as probationary police constables.

The police chief was authorized to submit the necessary application for the enrollment of three men at the college. One qualifies in April, one in August and the third in October.

Vaughan Police Get New Cruisers, Better Radios

Two Vaughan Township youths who took a car without the owner's consent, were given a reprimand and a fine when they were convicted before Magistrate O. S. Hollinrake, in Magistrate's court Tuesday.

The magistrate said he was imposing a fine, instead of a more severe penalty against Clifford Agar, 17, and Russell Phillips, 16, because he didn't think that in this case it had been "a very serious offence."

"I'm very glad you weren't charged with car theft," said the magistrate. "It's much more serious. At the same time, you have been convicted of taking without the owner's consent and it's still a criminal charge."

He said it was really the same thing said in less offensive language. However, the incident could turn out to be more beneficial to them than harmful.

"You are at a turning point in your lives and with the influences behind you, you may make sure you won't get into serious trouble again."

The influences he was referring to were the fathers of the two boys, and Rev. B. F. Andrew, Maple Presbyterian Church, who appeared as character witnesses on behalf of the two accused.

Both fathers described their sons as conscientious boys who never gave them any trouble, while Mr. Andrew said the two had continued to take their place in the community and in the church.

"I have nothing but admiration for the way they have faced up to it all," said Mr. Andrew.

Magistrate Hollinrake said the boys were lucky to have their parents speak for them, and told them not to be afraid to take their fathers' advice from now on.

"They know what they're doing," said the magistrate.

The youths were convicted of taking a car from a private garage at King Road and Noble Street, January 9, and driving it for about five miles.

They said they just wanted to "drive around."

"In fining them, Magistrate Hollinrake said he felt a suspended sentence wasn't in order, and parole carried too much of a stigma.

"However, I still have the old-fashioned idea that you should be punished for doing wrong," said the magistrate.

The board moved that the recommendations of the chairman and vice-chairman for 1965 standing committees be amended to delete the name of Trustee Jack LeMoine, who has resigned. The committees: Finance, Jack Knott, Phyllis Hawkes; building, David Stephenson, Stan MacBeth, A. Hutcherson, Hawkes; personnel and Huteson, Deena Simpson; planning and research, Simpson, Knott, MacBeth and Stephenson. The first named person on each committee will serve as the chairman.

The following maintenance contracts for 1965 were approved: Monroe International of Canada Ltd., $24.75, for service to the calculator in the office; L. Sims, $118.80 for service to standard typewriters and adding machine; Honeywell Controls Ltd., $81. for service to Pleasantville School during Christmas holidays. The board agreed not to enter into contract with IBM for the electric typewriter, or with Ditto of Canada Ltd., for duplicating machines.

The board accepted the resignation of A. Taskinen from the caretaking staff, and approved the hiring of James Mulholland at an annual salary of $3,100. The secretary was advised to notify Richmond Hill Town Council that it would be unable to get its budget requirements by February 14, as requested. Superintendent MacIntyre explained that the recent regulations had not been granted as public relations, MacBeth,
