Hospital Auxiliary Holds Annual Meeting Feb. 11; Public Invited

By MRS. LOREN GUILD

There comes a month on the calendar of every organization that has a date marked annual meeting, a time for summing up, a time for reports, of plans and resolutions. It was no doubt, this custom that inspired a writer to sigh, "Ah me, the world is full of meetings such as this — a challenge and a reply." That well describes the annual meeting of York Central Hospital Volunteer Auxiliary, to be held February 11 at 8 o'clock in the hospital cafeteria.

The auxiliary met a challenge in 1963 and the reply has been very encouraging. This year, certainly, a challenge will lie in reports because work accomplished is always an incentive to go on. This third annual meeting will disclose progress and plans that will interest every auxiliary member.

Conference members were told that to organize meant, "to get in working order," and in 1963 the auxiliary took the initial steps and is now walking firmly but carefully on the path of experience.

Come to the meeting February 11 and become informed about this important service in your hospital. There will be a social hour also in which to enjoy the association of fellow members. A cordial invitation is extended to all who are interested.
