Citizens' Committee To Check On Markham Twp. Council

Three members of a newly-formed citizens' committee, who have appointed themselves to oversee the workings of Markham Township Council, received little encouragement from council when they visited them last week to tell them about their new project.

Eric W. Baker, chairman, Robert J. Sloane, vice-chairman, and Donald H. McClelland, secretary, representing Markham Township Citizens' Committee, were informed that council wasn't "an information bureau," after they had requested the latter keep them informed regularly on council happenings.

"We have many requests from people for information," said Mr. Baker. "They all say they wish they knew more about what was going on in the community."

He said that it was the plan of the citizens' committee to develop some kind of information service to bring this end about. In forming the group, the committee had tried to select from all wards, and between rural and urban interests.

He said one of the things the committee would be interested in was the upcoming Goldenberg Report on Metro and presumed council would provide it with an exchange of information.

"That will be public knowledge," said Councillor Alan Sumner.

"Said Mr. Baker: 'We would like a free flow of information back and forth. The more our citizens know, the better they can put their shoulders to whatever wheel is required.'"

Mr. Baker said the committee would like to be kept informed on any centennial projects council was planning, and also asked to see the brief council intended to present before the OMB on the North Thornhill development, February 24.

"I don't think the solicitor (Township Solicitor J.D. Lucas) would want to give you any information on it," said Reeve Charles Hooper.

"We can't be of service to you people by going in cold," said Mr. Baker.

Reeve Hooper suggested the committee get former township Councillor Sloane — now vice-chairman of the committee — to brief them on it.

Said Councillor Charles Hooper: "Has this committee discussed the North Thornhill development? And if they have, have they come to any conclusions?"

Mr. Baker said the committee had gone into it extensively, but still hadn't enough information to draw up any definite conclusions.

The committee would, when it had the information, advise council if the development would be of any benefit to the municipality.

Said Councillor Sumner: "Is it the intention of this committee to supersede the planning board?"

Mr. Baker said he hadn't regarded the planning board as a "separate voice."

Mr. Sloane said the committee's intention was to help council, not to hinder it.

At this point, Councillor Cleary Palmer, who had remained silent when called upon to speak earlier, said he would say something after all. The council was not an information bureau, he said, and everything that was done in council was open to everybody.

"With regard to the North Thornhill development," Mr. Palmer said, council agreed on a 3-2 vote to go ahead with it.

"It is now out of council's hands and in the solicitor's. He may or may not prepare a brief... I'll never see it."

"It is not necessary for you to come here," Mr. Palmer said. "Mr. Sloane knows that."

Mr. Baker said he realized that. What was wanted was a more organized means of passing on the information.

"You can read it in the press," said Mr. Palmer.

Council said it would discuss the committee's plans again at a future meeting.

Other members of the committee: communications committee: Chairman Mr. Rex. Weyman, Mr. Alvan Gamble, Mr. Dean Hughes, community conservation committee: Chairman Mr. H. G. Pain, Mr. Rod Brook, Mr. P. B. Whitehead, Mr. Napier Simpson, development committee: Chairman Mr. P. B. Whitehead, Mr. Ewart Stiver, Mr. Geoff Campy, Mr. W. J. Henwood, Mr. J. A. Kitchen, educational committee: Chairman Dr. C. E. Phillips, Goldenberg report committee: Chairman Mr. George Rodans, Mr. Lawson Mumberson, Mr. Stephen Roman, Mr. S. J. Gadsby, roads beautification committee: Chairman Mr. Keith Kennedy, Mr. Fred Wicks, Mr. Jon Hopkins, Mr. Clark Young, Mr. W. J. Sendall.

Club Members Fined

The Vagabond Motorcycle Club of Thornhill, which has been sending some of its members to magistrate's court almost weekly since the club was raided during a beer drinking party in January, sent its last delegation, Tuesday, with the result that five more convictions were registered under the Liquor Control Act.

Heaviest hit was Ronald David Storey, 20, of 8143 Yonge Street, which is also the home of the Thornhill club.

Storey, who has been reposing in jail for the past two weeks since he was convicted of keeping liquor for sale and illegal possession of liquor, was fined a total of $445, or 55 days in jail.

He was one of three members charged on the two counts. However, the charges were withdrawn against the other two when Storey insisted that it had all been his idea.

"I want to say again that I am completely responsible in this," Storey said, just before sentence was passed, "although I've heard rumors that that's not so."

Magistrate O. S. Hollinrake said that it was the type of offence that merited much consideration.

"I think that setting up houses and making them open to all ages is very serious," he said.

As a result, he declared the premises a public house, which means that no alcoholic beverages can be consumed there while it is under that prohibition.

Following the raid by Markham and Vaughan Township Police, January 22, 24 people, ranging in age from 15 to 26 were subsequently charged under the liquor act.

Since that time, all but five, including one Tuesday, received fines. Those fined this week were: Simone Bailey, 19, Downsview, $20, drinking under age; William Hudson, 28, Toronto, $20, having liquor in a place other than a residence; Harvey Karn, 22, Toronto, $20, liquor other than a residence; Ralph Roper, Toronto, $20, drinking under age.

A charge of drinking in a place other than his residence against John McRobb, 23, of Toronto, who said that he had gone to the house to collect a debt, was dismissed.
