

To Honour Senior Sixer W.A. Doherty, March 1

Dominion Scout headquarters has announced that a Thornhill boy, William Albert Doherty of the 1st Thornhill Scout Troop has received a "letter of commendation for meritorious conduct."

On July 20 last summer, Bill saw two-year-old Wendy Holton fall off a marina dock into the Talbot River. Bill yelled at the little girl's father and at the same time, ran along the dock, reached over and caught hold of the child's clothing, turning her over from her face-down position and held her until her father reached her and lifted her to the dock. Bill was 10 years old at the time.

The commendation will be presented to Senior Sixer Doherty at Thornhill United Church, March 1. Along with the letter of commendation, he will receive a letter of congratulation from Chief Scout the Right Honourable Georges P. Vanier and from Deputy Chief Scout L. H. Nicholson.

Bill is a grade 7 student at Langstaff Public School. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Doherty, 77 Riverside Blvd., Thornhill. Mr. Doherty is the general manager of the Beamish Construction Company and an active member of the Thornhill Lions Club.

Clarence Steckley (left), president of the Victoria Square and District Lions Club, presents a cheque for $1,000 to the chairman of the Victoria Square Community Centre Board, Pat Ottoway, at the community centre, February 16.

The money was designated to aid in retiring indebtedness of the board for the community centre.

Taylor's Jewellers New Store Creates Illusion For Customers

People going into Taylor's Jewellers new store at 23 Yonge Street S., will probably find themselves buying more and seeing less.

However, paradoxically enough, they will probably feel they are seeing more.

"All our customers come in and say we've got more stock," said Charles Taylor who just recently switched from his old location at 16A Yonge Street North.

It's not true, though. The store has less, with five fewer glass display counters and one less four-foot counter, all arrayed in an area of 23 feet by 25 feet, compared with their former store, which had a 15-foot frontage and a length of 30 feet.

It was this latter measurement that sometimes discouraged customers at the other store, while helping to create the illusion that the new store is better stocked.

"They used to walk up to the third counter and then stop," said Mr. Taylor.

Now with everything more compactly arranged in the smaller area, customers find themselves browsing over most of the store's merchandise and not just over one specific item.

To Mr. and Mrs. Taylor, who along with their son, spent all one day and night, and part of the next day, moving into their new location, it was like coming home again.

When Mr. Taylor first got into the jewellery business it was in 1953 with Armstrong's Jewellers, which was located on the north side of Woolworth's Store on Yonge Street.

Now, after a move to the north part of Yonge Street to start his own store, Mr. Taylor is back next door to Woolworth's again, only this time on the south side.

And he looks upon it as a good omen.

"There seems to be a resurgence back to the centre of town," said Mr. Taylor. "North of Centre Street is changing to commercial and professional, while the retail has moved back."

This was the main reason Mr. Taylor moved to his present sunny location. And so far, the comments of his many customers and a local dentist have been proof that he's done the right thing.

The customers' comments have ranged from terrific to wonderful, while the dentist's was more on the aesthetic side and caused the owners the most joy.

The dentist, who had been considering moving into the building himself, had this to say after seeing the newly-renovated premises:

"I'm glad I didn't move in now. It's much too beautiful."

To the Taylors, that was one of the things that has made it all worthwhile.

Lutherans Hold Brotherhood Week Opening Meeting Lutheran Young People Host 45 From Downsview Jewish Synagogue

Members of the board of trustees of St. Paul's Lutheran Church held their inaugural meeting last week at the church.

Officers for 1965 are: Philip Barth, president; Albert Harve, vice-president; Peter Petersen, secretary; Ross Percival, treasurer; Alfons Wirt, financial secretary.

Heading the committees are: stewardship, Philip Barth; Christian education, Mrs. R. Percival; church property, Henry Potzau; finance, Reid Williamson; evangelism, Joseph Miller; worship and music, Larry Theodoff; building, Philip Limpert; social ministry, Mrs. P. Barth.

Guenter Bellach and Jack Barth were appointed Lutheran league advisors.

PICKERING: Douglas J. Plitz, treasurer of the township, has been appointed clerk to succeed Lloyd T. Johnston who resigned to become administrator and secretary of the township's school area number 1. The new clerk's salary will be $6,600 per year.

St. Paul's Lutheran Church observed Brotherhood Week by hosting a visit by 45 young people from a Jewish Synagogue.

The visit returned one to a Sabbath (Saturday) service in January by young people of the local Lutheran parish. The group was from Beth Emeth Bais Yehuda Synagogue, Downsview.

The Jewish young people participated in a worship service at St. Paul's Sunday evening. A question-and-answer period followed.

Pastor Albert E. Myers led the normal Sunday worship service. However, he commented on each act of worship as it occurred. The Jewish group had never attended Christian worship before.

Brotherhood Week is sponsored by the Canadian Council of Christians and Jews.

Questions put to the pastor included: "What is the Trinity? What was the Lutheran Church's attitude towards genocide in Germany during World War II? What are the differences between Christian denominations?"

The visit was sponsored by St. Paul's Lutheran League. Valdi Inken is president.

Sunday morning's service observed Scout Sunday. The 8th and 9th Richmond Hill Scout Groups attended the 11 a.m. worship. Cub Danny Peterson of the 9th group received the Religion and Life Award.

A new troop flag for the 9th group was also dedicated. Pastor Myers' sermon concerned the role of the church in Scouting. He is a 21-year veteran of the movement.

Request Drivers To Lock Vehicles

Richmond Hill Police Chief Robert Robbins, has asked residents to keep their cars locked when away from them.

Chief Robbins said there have been a number of occurrences lately where people have had articles stolen from their cars, or where they have had the car stolen.

Police are investigating an occurrence Friday afternoon at Richmond Heights, Centre where $25 in groceries were taken from a car owned by Mrs. P. Welsh Kenvale Court, while she was shopping.

Historical Society Seeks New Members

A drive for new members in the North York Historical Society will be part of the aim of the society when it holds its Members' Night meeting, tonight, (Thursday).

According to a release from the organization, only 65 families have paid-up membership, despite North York's population of more than 300,000.

As a result, at Thursday's meeting, the four-year-old society's collection of books, pictures, photographs, clippings and other records will be on display in the auditorium of the main library, 5126 Yonge Street at 8:00 p.m.

Although not a public meeting in the usual sense, membership will be available at the door and members may bring guests.

Among the aims of the society are to protect the few remaining historic sites and buildings, and to establish an "historic house" museum in the so-called Gibson House, a 120-year-old dwelling behind the Willowdale Post Office.

The annual display is being arranged by the membership and the books and documents committee. Membership in the society is $2 annually per family.
